Ike Hopes For "Liberation" Of E. Germans

Speed Of Recovery 'Miracle,' Adenauer Says Following Visit

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP) — Three medical bulletins today reported President Eisenhower coming along well, and getting to drink some tea, warm water and beef broth in small amounts.

A highlight of the day was a visit from Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, to whom the President voiced hope for the "liberation" of 17 million Germans from "Soviet Communist rule."

There was also a continued refusal by press secretary James C. Hagerty to discuss any questions about a second term, so long as the President remains in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Hagerty refused to relay to Eisenhower a question as to whether his new illness may lead the President to reconsider his Feb. 29 decision to run for re-election.

Can Ileitis Recur?

Hagerty also refused to discuss in detail a newspaper columnist's report that some medical authorities say ileitis often recurs. Ileitis is the intestinal ailment for which Eisenhower was operated on Saturday.

The morning visit with Adenauer lasted 10 minutes. The German leader said afterward that the speed of Eisenhower's recovery was a "miracle." He said the President's doctors told him it was possible because they had "a healthy organism" to work with.

Hagerty refused to comment on quotations from a medical journal and an insurance manual saying that ileitis frequently recurs even after surgery.

Columnist Quoted

The quotations were carried in a syndicated column by Doris Fleeson. The writer suggested these views should be weighed also with statements made by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, who performed the surgery, that a recurrence is unlikely in the President's case.

When a reporter suggested the citations "raised some questions" which should be answered by the President's physicians, Hagerty retorted:

"It doesn't raise any questions. Miss Fleeson is not a doctor.

"We have tried to the best of our ability to give you the opinion of the doctors who are on the case."

When reporters noted that Miss Fleeson was quoting from medical documents, Hagerty replied: "I can quote other doctors back."

U. S., Britain Widen Swap Of Atom Data

Nation Will Share Nuclear Submarine Secrets Under Pact

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The United States is expected to furnish Britain with secrets of atomic submarine construction under an agreement disclosed today by the State Department and the Atomic Energy Commission.

In return for this and other information in fields in which this country had forged ahead, the United States expects to get various atomic research secrets Britain had discovered.

The agreement, signed here yesterday, will run until July 1965. It has the effect of broadening a basic information exchange pact on atomic energy which Britain and the United States signed in July 1955 for a 10-year period.

Britain Plans A-Sub

British officials have said that Britain intends to build a nuclear-powered underseas vessel and that the task would take two years longer unless British scientists and engineers could benefit by knowledge gained by U.S. pioneers in this field.

The United States launched the world's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus, in June 1954 and last year launched a second, the Seawolf. It has other undersea craft with atomic power plants under construction. Naval experts say the advantages of nuclear fuel have radically changed the nature of undersea operations. It was recently reported that the Nautilus had covered more than 36,000 miles without refueling and it is known to be capable of very high speeds underwater.

Congress Waiting Period

The agreement announced today was signed by British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins, Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC and C. Burke Elbrick, deputy assistant secretary of state.

Under the Atomic Energy Act passed in 1954 to permit the United States to trade information with other countries, each such agreement must lie before Congress for 30 days before it can become effective. Congress does not have to express positive consent, but the waiting period gives the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the House and Senate an opportunity to object to any provisions.

Connelly, Caudle Are Found Guilty In Tax-Fix Trial

ST. LOUIS, June 14 (AP)—Two top Truman administration officials, Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, sat motionless today as they heard a federal jury convict them of conspiring to help an income tax dodger.

The conviction could mean as much as five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine for both Connelly, 48-year-old White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and the 52-year-old Caudle, one-time Justice Department tax head.

U.S. Dist. Judge Rubey M. Hulen set their sentencing for July 19. He said he would also hear motions that day and the defense indicated it would seek a new trial.

Both Men Shocked

Connelly, neatly dressed in a gray suit, tried to avoid newsmen as he walked from the courtroom. Friendly with them throughout the trial, he appeared grim and tense. "No comment, boys," was all he would say as he hurried from the federal building.

Caudle was obviously shocked, too. At first he wouldn't talk but when he regained his composure he said:

"I know I am an innocent man, convicted for something I never did. I will face my God, my sweet children and my friends when my time comes. I have no apologies for anything I have done."

Jury Out Nine Hours

The jury of four women and eight men from rural eastern Missouri had been out less than nine hours in all.

Caudle, now a lawyer in his hometown of Wadesboro, N.C., and Connelly were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government of their official services by trying to sidetrack criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer.

Eventually Sachs was indicted by a grand jury. He pleaded guilty to evading $128,721 in income taxes and was fined $40,000. He escaped a prison term on grounds of poor health.

Oregon Woman Sewing Champ

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Mrs. J. Floreine Doss, petite Portland, Ore., housewife and mother, was awarded today a prize of $25,000 as the nation's champion home seamstress.

Other prizes adding up to a grand total of $45,500, plus sewing machines and accessories, were awarded to runners-up in a competition, staged as the highlight of a week-long sewing fashion festival at New York's new Coliseum. It was sponsored by Singer Sewing Machine Co.

Mrs. Doss nosed out some 50,000 contestants to win the final. She cinched the grand prize with a coat and dress ensemble which she made here for a professional model. It consists of a charcoal gray wool coat with red ascot tie and a gray and white wool jersey sheath dress to match the coat lining.

Second prize of $10,000 went to Mrs. Joseph G. Smith, of Virginia Beach, Va., attractive clubwoman, mother of two sons and avid sailing and gardening enthusiast. Mrs. Smith's winning entries were a navy linen princess dress and jacket with red velvet overskirt, made for her model.

Algeria Rebels Broken

ALGIERS, Algeria, June 14 (AP)—French Resident Minister Robert Lacoste said today major rebel military strength has been broken in Algeria. He forecast a peaceful settlement with the nationalists.

But fighting went on in the countryside and terrorism spread in the cities. The French reported 68 rebels killed in scattered clashes. The French said they suffered relatively small losses.

Body Of Missing Girl Found In Va.

PURCELLVILLE, Va., June 14 (AP)—A young girl whose nude body was found today in a northern Virginia stream has been identified as a missing 16-year-old from Maryland, a Virginia police trooper said tonight.

Trooper C. L. Wood said a broken tooth and body marks had established the identity of the girl as Shelby Jean Venable of Laurel, Md.

The brown-haired girl and a friend, Mary Elizabeth Fellers, 18, of Beltsville, Md., disappeared together the night of June 1. A body found last Saturday in the Potomac River opposite Brunswick, Md., has been tentatively identified by a relative as that of Miss Fellers.

Trooper Wood said police were working on the assumption the girls were victims of foul play and "some fiendish mind."

He described Shelby Jean as a "beautiful" girl whose body apparently was placed in Catoctin Creek in Loudoun County about 30 feet from a bridge that crosses U.S. 9 near Wheatland.

Pilot Who Saved Her Life Divorced By Jane Froman

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 14 (AP)—The storybook marriage of singing star Jane Froman ended in court today when she divorced the airline pilot who saved her life in a crash in Portugal 12 years ago.

The crash which brought them together and led to their romance attracted nationwide interest and a movie was made about her comeback from serious injuries.

Dist. Judge Frank McNamee granted the decree to the singer, who finished a month-long hotel engagement here last week.

The marriage, in Coral Gables, Fla., March 12, 1948, was Burn's first. Miss Froman had been divorced from Donald Ross.

Miss Froman's attorney, Miss Emilie Wanderer, said the hearing, in the judge's chambers, lasted only about five minutes.

Under questioning, Miss Wanderer said, Miss Froman testified "simply that he left her a year ago and they hadn't gone back together."

Both Miss Froman and Burn were severely injured in 1943 when a Pan American plane crashed in the Tagus River near Lisbon. It was carrying USO entertainers on a wartime tour of American troops. Twenty-four of 39 persons aboard died.

Burn, aboard the plane as an observer, suffered a broken back in the crash. He held Miss Froman above the icy water for nearly an hour, however, before they were rescued.

Senate Unit Votes To Restore Over Half Of House Aid Slash

Riders Stranded In Subway Strike

Stranded New York City subway riders display various moods as they wait for train at 34th Street station of the Independent Division of the city's rapid transit system yesterday. All three of the city's subway lines were hit by a wildcat strike of motormen. Late last night, the motormens' union called off the walkout. (AP Photofax)

Administration Hand Bolstered For Floor Fight

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee buoyed administration hopes for additional foreign aid money today. It voted to put back more than half the $1,100,000,000 slashed by the House from President Eisenhower's request.

Republicans carried the key 9-5 vote for the administration, six of the seven GOP members on the committee approving the restoration of 600 million dollars for military aid. There was no head count on a later decision to add 15 millions to European "defense support" funds.

The committee thus recommended a total of 615 millions more than the $3,800,000,000 authorized by the House.

Ike's Position Bolstered

Its action strengthened Eisenhower's position for the floor fight certain to flare when the aid bill reaches the full Senate, probably next week.

Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas, not a member of the committee, had said earlier the President was "in deep trouble" in his plea for additional aid money.

Eisenhower originaly sought authority to spend $4,900,000,000 in the year starting July 1 for military and economic assistance to friendly nations. He appealed to the Senate this week to give back a large amount of the House cut. Administration leaders said they needed at least 600 millions of it.

8-4 Against Billion

Sen. Green (D-RI) proposed today that the committee reinstate a full billion dollars. He lost, 8-4.

Republican Leader Knowland of California then moved to restore 600 millions for military help abroad.

Voting with Knowland were George, Green, Smith, Capehart, Sparkman (D-Ala), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Aiken (R-Vt), and Wiley (R-Wis).

Plane Rams Auto, Wall; No One Hurt

THANET, England (AP) — Pilot Thomas B. Adams, 23, of Millbrook, N. Y., rammed his jet plane into an occupied automobile and knocked 50 feet out of a garden wall today—but nobody was hurt.

"It was a miraculous escape for everyone," said a U. S. Air Force spokesman. He said it happened this way:

Too late, Adams saw a parked car directly in his path as he was taking off in his F84 F fighter-bomber. In a split second he pulled back on the stick, enough to lessen the impact on the car. But the jet bounced into the wall around the garden of Lady Carson, widow of a prominent North Ireland lawyer, and came to a screeching halt 50 yards from a road full of traffic.

Argentina Will Return Abducted Rebel To Refuge

BUENOS AIRES, June 14 (AP)—A machine gun gang today seized fugitive rebel Gen. Raul Tanco from the Haitian ambassador's residence and turned him over to the army. The government apologized to the ambassador tonight and promised to return Tanco immediately.

A high government source said the gang grabbed Tanco and six others from the ambassador's home apparently to grill them for the names of accomplices.

President Orders Return

The government said the other six also would be restored to Haitian asylum.

President Pedro Aramburu personally ordered the seven sent back to the embassy residence.

Tanco was widely hunted as a co-leader of the weekend revolt. He and the six took asylum in the ambassador's residence in the early morning.

The gang, armed with machine guns and other weapons, dragged the seven from the residence and drove away with them.

Turned Over To Army

A government source said the band then turned the rebels over to the army. The seven were put under formal arrest at Palermo military barracks in downtown Buenos Aires.

An Argentine intelligence officer said the band, which was not acting under government orders, probably belonged to the Civilian Revolutionary Command. The command was formed last September to help the military overthrow President Juan D. Peron.

Blast At Baltimore Wrecks Three Homes

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP) — An explosion wrecked three homes, touched off a rash of fires and injured at least four persons tonight in a residential section on the east outskirts of Baltimore.

No deaths were reported immediately.

Witnesses said they saw a man blown out of a window of one of the homes and a boy knocked from his bike by the force of the blast as he rode nearby.

"It was a terrific blast," said Calvin Sunday, a resident of the rowhouse neighborhood.

Mrs. Thelma Stefanski, who works in a hardware store in the block rocked by the explosion, said it seemed as if "one whole house just leaped across the street."

Coffee Price Upped

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP) — A wholesale price increase of three cents a pound for vacuum-packed coffee was announced today by General Foods Corp. and other large coffee roasters.

Roasters said the increase was the result of recent higher costs for high quality green coffee beans used in vacuum-packed brands.

Service's Appeal For Reinstatement Rejected By Court

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—John Stewart Service, one of the targets of Sen. McCarthy's Communists - in - government charges, lost another round today in his fight to regain his State Department job.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled against the veteran foreign service officer's plea for reinstatement, but erased a finding of "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty.

Service, a career officer for more than 18 years, was fired summarily in 1951 by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The discharge came on the same day the now defunct Loyalty Review Board found a "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty.

Witness, Former Red, Names Four As Communists

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Dr. Bella Dodd, New York lawyer and self-described former Communist leader, today named an official of the New York State Mental Hygiene Dept. and two former New York City officials as persons known to her to have been Communists.

She also named former Rep. Hugh De Lacy (D-Wash), who served one term in Congress in 1945-46, as a man she knew as a member of a "Communist faction" of a teacher's union.

Mrs. Dodd, who says she broke with communism and was expelled from the party in 1949, appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. She has testified before congressional committees on several previous occasions.

The New York State official she named is Hyman Forstenzer, assistant director of the State Division of Community Mental Health. He denied her charge.

Also named by Mrs. Dodd were Paul Ross, who was administrative secretary to former Mayor William O'Dwyer in the late 1940's, and Clifford McAvoy, city welfare commissioner in the administration of the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia. LaGuardia was mayor from 1934-45.

Ross, a New York lawyer, said in a statement:

"I was not an agent of the Communist party or anyone else in the performance of my duties as a public official nor was I a member of the Communist party."

Mrs. Dodd, who said she was a member of the Communist party's National Committee and in charge of its political affairs in New York State from 1944 through 1946, said she helped get Ross his job with O'Dwyer.

New Chrysler Strikes

DETROIT, June 14 (AP)—Auto production at five major Chrysler Corp. plants was at a standstill today as some 16,000 workers were idled by wildcat strikes.

It was the fifth unauthorized work stoppage in the past six working days.

Group Favoring Vetoed Gas Bill Spent $1,753,513

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The head of an oil and gas industry committee which favored the now-vetoed natural gas bill testified today that it spent $1,753,513 on a public education and information campaign.

It was not lobbying, Leonard F. McCollum of Houston, Tex., told the special Senate Lobby Investigation Committee. He said none of the money was given to lawmakers in the form of campaign contributions or otherwise, and most of it went for advertisements and printing.

Business Expense

McCollum is also president of the Continental Oil Co. He testified his firm contributed $57,000 to the committee, called the Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee, and charged it off as general business expense.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) commented, with reference to the federal tax of 52 per cent on corporation income, this meant in effect that the U.S. Treasury "paid 52 per cent of the cost of this campaign."

Revenue Code Quoted

Anderson said the Internal Revenue Code says a company, in figuring its income tax, may not deduct from gross income any amounts spent on such activities as lobbying on legislation or "exploitation of propaganda" in other than trade advertising of its products.

McCollum said tax lawyers had advised that contributions to the industry committee could be charged to business expense.

9 Die In Train Wreck

FISMES, France, June 14 (INS)—Nine persons were killed and 130 injured today when the Paris-to-Luxembourg express was derailed by a broken coupling at Fismes, in the Champagne countryside.

14 Volunteers Get Cancer Injections At Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, O., June 14 (INS)—Fourteen silent men filed slowly through the dispensary behind the steaming walls of Ohio Penitentiary today and were deliberately injected with cancer by their own wish.

The small group made up the vanguard of 134 prisoners who volunteered to be cancer guinea pigs in the first large scale test of its kind in this country.

Before, such injections were tried out only cancer sufferers.

Hopefully, the result will provide an important clue to why live cancer cells flourish when implanted in someone already suffering the disease but disappear in the system of a non-afflicted individual.

Originally, a group of 25 inmates was asked to volunteer for cancer tests to be conducted by the Sloan Kettering Institute of New York in cooperation with the Ohio State University Medical College.

There was an immediate response, but far beyond what was expected. Now, what was to be a relatively small tryout has grown into a full-scale test covering the young and old, as well as ailing, deformed or normal.

The first 14 received injections of live cancer cells in both forearms at noon. They ranged in age from 25 to 55. Their crimes ranged from murder on down.

After the brief visit to the dispensary, they returned to their regular duties in the century-old prison, packed with 4,550 men.

Evening Rush Hour Crush Is Dispersed Without Death, Panic

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)— The first all-out subway strike in New York's history hit the nation's biggest transit system today with stunning suddenness. It ended after all three lines were crippled for more than nine hours.

Subway officials estimated 780,000 persons were stranded in the strike.

A vast, perilous crush of humanity built up underground during the evening rush hour. But it finally was dispersed without death, injury or panic.

On a steaming day of 96.1-degree record heat, eight million New Yorkers were confronted with a transportation system that was badly fouled from Coney Island to the Bronx, from Times Square to the distant sections of Queens.

Buses, Taxis Besieged

With the subways crippled, hundreds of thousands of stranded riders besieged bus lines, taxis and trains. Gigantic traffic tieups occurred as private cars were pressed into service to get people about the city.

But the real drama of the historic strike was unfolded in dimly lit subway platforms deep beneath New York's skyscrapers.

There hundreds of thousands of men, women and children—near prostration from the stifling heat—milled around in spectacular confusion, seeking trains that never came.

225 Motormen Strike

The law calls for the dismissal of subway strikers. The Transit Authority, however, agreed to take back any motormen wanting to work—including more than 100 suspended during a hectic day of vast confusion.

The subway system carries 4½ million passengers a day. The Transit Authority estimated 500,000 BMT riders were stranded, 250,000 on the Ind and 30,000 on the IRT.

Although only 225 of the 3,145 subway motormen took part in the wildcat strike, they were able completely to tie up two of the three lines for brief periods. One estimate said 90 per cent of the city's subway system was tied up.

Three Missing In Tug Sinking

NEW ORLEANS, June 14 (AP)—A survivor of the sunken tug May Dee, rescued more than 18 miles from the point where the vessel went down, expressed belief today two of his three missing shipmates drowned in the storm-swept Mississippi Sound.

Ike Dunham, 31, of De Quincy, La., told rescuers one of the missing men "definitely drowned," and he believed another, critically injured, also had drowned.

Dunham said there was a chance the third missing man was floating in a life jacket in the sound.

The May Dee was engaged in dredging operations with the tug Ginger, out of New Orleans, and a quarterbarge which furnished housing facilities for the men employed in dredging.

The quarterboat began dragging anchor yesterday and the May Dee went to its aid. The seven men aboard the barge jumped to the tug's deck.

Swamped by the rough seas stirred up by the season's first tropical disturbance, the tug went down about 10 miles south of Bay St. Louis, Miss. The seven men from the barge and the tug's eight-man crew were thrown into the water.

Eight were rescued yesterday, and four, including Dunham, today.

Man Accidentally Shoots Wife To Death

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Bosnick, 23-year-old mother of six children, was shot to death today on the porch of her home near suburban Essex.

Police said her husband, Edward Bosnick, 26, related that he shot her accidentally with a revolver he uses as a guard at a housing development under construction in Essex.

The woman was pronounced dead at City Hospital of a chest wound.

U. S., Britain Widen Swap Of Atom Data

Nation Will Share Nuclear Submarine Secrets Under Pact

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The United States is expected to furnish Britain with secrets of atomic submarine construction under an agreement disclosed today by the State Department and the Atomic Energy Commission.

In return for this and other information in fields in which this country had forged ahead, the United States expects to get various atomic research secrets Britain had discovered.

The agreement, signed here yesterday, will run until July 1965. It has the effect of broadening a basic information exchange pact on atomic energy which Britain and the United States signed in July 1955 for a 10-year period.

Britain Plans A-Sub

British officials have said that Britain intends to build a nuclear-powered underseas vessel and that the task would take two years longer unless British scientists and engineers could benefit by knowledge gained by U.S. pioneers in this field.

The United States launched the world's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus, in June 1954 and last year launched a second, the Seawolf. It has other undersea craft with atomic power plants under construction. Naval experts say the advantages of nuclear fuel have radically changed the nature of undersea operations. It was recently reported that the Nautilus had covered more than 36,000 miles without refueling and it is known to be capable of very high speeds underwater.

Congress Waiting Period

The agreement announced today was signed by British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins, Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC and C. Burke Elbrick, deputy assistant secretary of state.

Under the Atomic Energy Act passed in 1954 to permit the United States to trade information with other countries, each such agreement must lie before Congress for 30 days before it can become effective. Congress does not have to express positive consent, but the waiting period gives the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the House and Senate an opportunity to object to any provisions.

Trooper C. L. Wood said a broken tooth and body marks had established the identity of the girl as Shelby Jean Venable of Laurel, Md.

The brown-haired girl and a friend, Mary Elizabeth Fellers, 18, of Beltsville, Md., disappeared together the night of June 1. A body found last Saturday in the Potomac River opposite Brunswick, Md., has been tentatively identified by a relative as that of Miss Fellers.

Trooper Wood said police were working on the assumption the girls were victims of foul play and "some fiendish mind."

He described Shelby Jean as a "beautiful" girl whose body apparently was placed in Catoctin Creek in Loudoun County about 30 feet from a bridge that crosses U.S. 9 near Wheatland.

Algeria Rebels Broken

ALGIERS, Algeria, June 14 (AP)—French Resident Minister Robert Lacoste said today major rebel military strength has been broken in Algeria. He forecast a peaceful settlement with the nationalists.

But fighting went on in the countryside and terrorism spread in the cities. The French reported 68 rebels killed in scattered clashes. The French said they suffered relatively small losses.

Pilot Who Saved Her Life Divorced By Jane Froman

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 14 (AP)—The storybook marriage of singing star Jane Froman ended in court today when she divorced the airline pilot who saved her life in a crash in Portugal 12 years ago.

She accused John Curtis Burn, her second husband, of desertion.

The crash which brought them together and led to their romance attracted nationwide interest and a movie was made about her comeback from serious injuries.

Dist. Judge Frank McNamee granted the decree to the singer, who finished a month-long hotel engagement here last week.

The marriage, in Coral Gables, Fla., March 12, 1948, was Burn's first. Miss Froman had been divorced from Donald Ross.

Miss Froman's attorney, Miss Emilie Wanderer, said the hearing, in the judge's chambers, lasted only about five minutes.

Under questioning, Miss Wanderer said, Miss Froman testified "simply that he left her a year ago and they hadn't gone back together."

Both Miss Froman and Burn were severely injured in 1943 when a Pan American plane crashed in the Tagus River near Lisbon. It was carrying USO entertainers on a wartime tour of American troops. Twenty-four of 39 persons aboard died.

Burn, aboard the plane as an observer, suffered a broken back in the crash. He held Miss Froman above the icy water for nearly an hour, however, before they were rescued.

Senate Unit Votes To Restore Over Half Of House Aid Slash

Riders Stranded In Subway Strike

Stranded New York City subway riders display various moods as they wait for train at 34th Street station of the Independent Division of the city's rapid transit system yesterday. All three of the city's subway lines were hit by a wildcat strike of motormen. Late last night, the motormens' union called off the walkout. (AP Photofax)

Administration Hand Bolstered For Floor Fight

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee buoyed administration hopes for additional foreign aid money today. It voted to put back more than half the $1,100,000,000 slashed by the House from President Eisenhower's request.

Republicans carried the key 9-5 vote for the administration, six of the seven GOP members on the committee approving the restoration of 600 million dollars for military aid. There was no head count on a later decision to add 15 millions to European "defense support" funds.

The committee thus recommended a total of 615 millions more than the $3,800,000,000 authorized by the House.

Ike's Position Bolstered

Its action strengthened Eisenhower's position for the floor fight certain to flare when the aid bill reaches the full Senate, probably next week.

Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas, not a member of the committee, had said earlier the President was "in deep trouble" in his plea for additional aid money.

Eisenhower originaly sought authority to spend $4,900,000,000 in the year starting July 1 for military and economic assistance to friendly nations. He appealed to the Senate this week to give back a large amount of the House cut. Administration leaders said they needed at least 600 millions of it.

8-4 Against Billion

Sen. Green (D-RI) proposed today that the committee reinstate a full billion dollars. He lost, 8-4.

Republican Leader Knowland of California then moved to restore 600 millions for military help abroad.

Voting with Knowland were George, Green, Smith, Capehart, Sparkman (D-Ala), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Aiken (R-Vt), and Wiley (R-Wis).

Evening Rush Hour Crush Is Dispersed Without Death, Panic

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)— The first all-out subway strike in New York's history hit the nation's biggest transit system today with stunning suddenness. It ended after all three lines were crippled for more than nine hours.

Subway officials estimated 780,000 persons were stranded in the strike.

A vast, perilous crush of humanity built up underground during the evening rush hour. But it finally was dispersed without death, injury or panic.

On a steaming day of 96.1-degree record heat, eight million New Yorkers were confronted with a transportation system that was badly fouled from Coney Island to the Bronx, from Times Square to the distant sections of Queens.

Buses, Taxis Besieged

With the subways crippled, hundreds of thousands of stranded riders besieged bus lines, taxis and trains. Gigantic traffic tieups occurred as private cars were pressed into service to get people about the city.

But the real drama of the historic strike was unfolded in dimly lit subway platforms deep beneath New York's skyscrapers.

There hundreds of thousands of men, women and children—near prostration from the stifling heat—milled around in spectacular confusion, seeking trains that never came.

225 Motormen Strike

The law calls for the dismissal of subway strikers. The Transit Authority, however, agreed to take back any motormen wanting to work—including more than 100 suspended during a hectic day of vast confusion.

The subway system carries 4½ million passengers a day. The Transit Authority estimated 500,000 BMT riders were stranded, 250,000 on the Ind and 30,000 on the IRT.

Although only 225 of the 3,145 subway motormen took part in the wildcat strike, they were able completely to tie up two of the three lines for brief periods. One estimate said 90 per cent of the city's subway system was tied up.

Argentina Will Return Abducted Rebel To Refuge

BUENOS AIRES, June 14 (AP)—A machine gun gang today seized fugitive rebel Gen. Raul Tanco from the Haitian ambassador's residence and turned him over to the army. The government apologized to the ambassador tonight and promised to return Tanco immediately.

A high government source said the gang grabbed Tanco and six others from the ambassador's home apparently to grill them for the names of accomplices.

President Orders Return

The government said the other six also would be restored to Haitian asylum.

President Pedro Aramburu personally ordered the seven sent back to the embassy residence.

Tanco was widely hunted as a co-leader of the weekend revolt. He and the six took asylum in the ambassador's residence in the early morning.

The gang, armed with machine guns and other weapons, dragged the seven from the residence and drove away with them.

Turned Over To Army

A government source said the band then turned the rebels over to the army. The seven were put under formal arrest at Palermo military barracks in downtown Buenos Aires.

An Argentine intelligence officer said the band, which was not acting under government orders, probably belonged to the Civilian Revolutionary Command. The command was formed last September to help the military overthrow President Juan D. Peron.

Blast At Baltimore Wrecks Three Homes

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP) — An explosion wrecked three homes, touched off a rash of fires and injured at least four persons tonight in a residential section on the east outskirts of Baltimore.

No deaths were reported immediately.

Witnesses said they saw a man blown out of a window of one of the homes and a boy knocked from his bike by the force of the blast as he rode nearby.

"It was a terrific blast," said Calvin Sunday, a resident of the rowhouse neighborhood.

Mrs. Thelma Stefanski, who works in a hardware store in the block rocked by the explosion, said it seemed as if "one whole house just leaped across the street."

Coffee Price Upped

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP) — A wholesale price increase of three cents a pound for vacuum-packed coffee was announced today by General Foods Corp. and other large coffee roasters.

Roasters said the increase was the result of recent higher costs for high quality green coffee beans used in vacuum-packed brands.

Service's Appeal For Reinstatement Rejected By Court

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—John Stewart Service, one of the targets of Sen. McCarthy's Communists - in - government charges, lost another round today in his fight to regain his State Department job.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled against the veteran foreign service officer's plea for reinstatement, but erased a finding of "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty.

Service, a career officer for more than 18 years, was fired summarily in 1951 by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. The discharge came on the same day the now defunct Loyalty Review Board found a "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty.

Witness, Former Red, Names Four As Communists

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Dr. Bella Dodd, New York lawyer and self-described former Communist leader, today named an official of the New York State Mental Hygiene Dept. and two former New York City officials as persons known to her to have been Communists.

She also named former Rep. Hugh De Lacy (D-Wash), who served one term in Congress in 1945-46, as a man she knew as a member of a "Communist faction" of a teacher's union.

Mrs. Dodd, who says she broke with communism and was expelled from the party in 1949, appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. She has testified before congressional committees on several previous occasions.

The New York State official she named is Hyman Forstenzer, assistant director of the State Division of Community Mental Health. He denied her charge.

Also named by Mrs. Dodd were Paul Ross, who was administrative secretary to former Mayor William O'Dwyer in the late 1940's, and Clifford McAvoy, city welfare commissioner in the administration of the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia. LaGuardia was mayor from 1934-45.

Ross, a New York lawyer, said in a statement:

"I was not an agent of the Communist party or anyone else in the performance of my duties as a public official nor was I a member of the Communist party."

Mrs. Dodd, who said she was a member of the Communist party's National Committee and in charge of its political affairs in New York State from 1944 through 1946, said she helped get Ross his job with O'Dwyer.

New Chrysler Strikes

DETROIT, June 14 (AP)—Auto production at five major Chrysler Corp. plants was at a standstill today as some 16,000 workers were idled by wildcat strikes.

It was the fifth unauthorized work stoppage in the past six working days.

Group Favoring Vetoed Gas Bill Spent $1,753,513

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The head of an oil and gas industry committee which favored the now-vetoed natural gas bill testified today that it spent $1,753,513 on a public education and information campaign.

It was not lobbying, Leonard F. McCollum of Houston, Tex., told the special Senate Lobby Investigation Committee. He said none of the money was given to lawmakers in the form of campaign contributions or otherwise, and most of it went for advertisements and printing.

Business Expense

McCollum is also president of the Continental Oil Co. He testified his firm contributed $57,000 to the committee, called the Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee, and charged it off as general business expense.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) commented, with reference to the federal tax of 52 per cent on corporation income, this meant in effect that the U.S. Treasury "paid 52 per cent of the cost of this campaign."

Revenue Code Quoted

Anderson said the Internal Revenue Code says a company, in figuring its income tax, may not deduct from gross income any amounts spent on such activities as lobbying on legislation or "exploitation of propaganda" in other than trade advertising of its products.

McCollum said tax lawyers had advised that contributions to the industry committee could be charged to business expense.

9 Die In Train Wreck

FISMES, France, June 14 (INS)—Nine persons were killed and 130 injured today when the Paris-to-Luxembourg express was derailed by a broken coupling at Fismes, in the Champagne countryside.

Plane Rams Auto, Wall; No One Hurt

THANET, England (AP) — Pilot Thomas B. Adams, 23, of Millbrook, N. Y., rammed his jet plane into an occupied automobile and knocked 50 feet out of a garden wall today—but nobody was hurt.

"It was a miraculous escape for everyone," said a U. S. Air Force spokesman. He said it happened this way:

Too late, Adams saw a parked car directly in his path as he was taking off in his F84 F fighter-bomber. In a split second he pulled back on the stick, enough to lessen the impact on the car. But the jet bounced into the wall around the garden of Lady Carson, widow of a prominent North Ireland lawyer, and came to a screeching halt 50 yards from a road full of traffic.

14 Volunteers Get Cancer Injections At Ohio Prison

COLUMBUS, O., June 14 (INS)—Fourteen silent men filed slowly through the dispensary behind the steaming walls of Ohio Penitentiary today and were deliberately injected with cancer by their own wish.

The small group made up the vanguard of 134 prisoners who volunteered to be cancer guinea pigs in the first large scale test of its kind in this country.

Before, such injections were tried out only cancer sufferers.

Hopefully, the result will provide an important clue to why live cancer cells flourish when implanted in someone already suffering the disease but disappear in the system of a non-afflicted individual.

Originally, a group of 25 inmates was asked to volunteer for cancer tests to be conducted by the Sloan Kettering Institute of New York in cooperation with the Ohio State University Medical College.

There was an immediate response, but far beyond what was expected. Now, what was to be a relatively small tryout has grown into a full-scale test covering the young and old, as well as ailing, deformed or normal.

The first 14 received injections of live cancer cells in both forearms at noon. They ranged in age from 25 to 55. Their crimes ranged from murder on down.

After the brief visit to the dispensary, they returned to their regular duties in the century-old prison, packed with 4,550 men.

Three Missing In Tug Sinking

NEW ORLEANS, June 14 (AP)—A survivor of the sunken tug May Dee, rescued more than 18 miles from the point where the vessel went down, expressed belief today two of his three missing shipmates drowned in the storm-swept Mississippi Sound.

Ike Dunham, 31, of De Quincy, La., told rescuers one of the missing men "definitely drowned," and he believed another, critically injured, also had drowned.

Dunham said there was a chance the third missing man was floating in a life jacket in the sound.

The May Dee was engaged in dredging operations with the tug Ginger, out of New Orleans, and a quarterbarge which furnished housing facilities for the men employed in dredging.

The quarterboat began dragging anchor yesterday and the May Dee went to its aid. The seven men aboard the barge jumped to the tug's deck.

Swamped by the rough seas stirred up by the season's first tropical disturbance, the tug went down about 10 miles south of Bay St. Louis, Miss. The seven men from the barge and the tug's eight-man crew were thrown into the water.

Eight were rescued yesterday, and four, including Dunham, today.

Man Accidentally Shoots Wife To Death

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Bosnick, 23-year-old mother of six children, was shot to death today on the porch of her home near suburban Essex.

Police said her husband, Edward Bosnick, 26, related that he shot her accidentally with a revolver he uses as a guard at a housing development under construction in Essex.

The woman was pronounced dead at City Hospital of a chest wound.

Government Denies Dutch Queen, Prince Considering Divorce

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, June 14 (AP)—The Dutch government took official notice tonight of reports that a family rift existed in the royal palace. It did so by denying rumors of a contemplated divorce between Queen Juliana and her German-born husband, Prince Bernhard.

Earlier Dutch newspapers had denied speculation abroad that reported influence of a faith healer over the Queen might force her abdication.

A high government official said: "We want to deny emphatically and in the most authoritative manner that there is any truth in rumors about a divorce of the royal couple. Such rumors are completely unfounded."

A story first appeared in the German weekly magazine Der Spiegel at Frankfurt early this week about the faith healer and it was printed generally by the Dutch press for the first time today.

The story reported that Queen Juliana came under the influence of Miss Greet Hofmans, 61, after Prince Bernhard brought her in 1948 to treat their partially blind youngest daughter, Princess Maria Cristina, now 9. Thereafter, the article charged, Miss Horman's influence extended to matters of state and brought about a rift between the Queen and Prince Bernhard after Bernhard barred the faith healer from the palace.

The Queen carried out her royal duties by starting consultations with political leaders on the formation of a new government. Parliamentary elections were held yesterday. The Queen saw the presidents of both chambers of Parliament and the vice president of the State Council at her palace.

Beall Seeks Repeal Of Admission Taxes

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Legislation to repeal the federal general admissions excise taxes and those on sporting goods, all club dues, playing cards and cabarets and roof garden checks was introduced today by Sen. Beall (R-Md).

The admission taxes the senator seeks to repeal are those on all places of entertainment including theaters, sports events and swimming pools.

The senator said in a statement "it is becoming increasingly apparent each day that a number of kill-joy taxes are putting an unfair burden on certain areas of our recreation."

Federal revenue from "this systematic raiding of our leisure hours," he said, amounted to only 207 million dollars last year.

Trio Censured In Drowning Of Three Soldiers

CAPE HENRY, Va., June 14 (AP)—Two Army officers and one enlisted man have received reprimands for "varying degrees of negligence" in the drowning of three enlisted men here May 8.

In addition, the enlisted man has been reduced in rank one grade.

There will be no court-martial of the three, however, a report of the findings by a Board of Inquiry disclosed today. The report was released by Col. George E. Woods Jr., commanding officer of Ft. Story, after approval by Brig. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the post's parent command at Ft. Eustis.

The reprimanded officers are Lt. Rex D. Brock, 24, of Stafford, Kan., and Capt. William M. Dean, 34, of St. Alahambra, Los Angeles, Calif. The enlisted man is Sgt. Jack L. Haskins of Lorton, Va.

Brock was reprimanded, the report said, for failure to appreciate fully the possible existence of a hazardous condition and to take maximum precautions while in charge of a platoon undergoing training when the fatal accident occurred. Brock earlier had directed that the scheduled water phase of the training be canceled because of weather conditions.

Dean, Brock's commanding officer, was reprimanded for failure to exercise proper command supervision.

Sgt. Haskins was reduced one grade for absenting himself from his platoon during the training and consequently not being available when the accident occurred.

In Guard 2 Weeks But He's Not Vet

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Two weeks of soldiering with the National Guard doesn't make one a veteran.

U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts so ruled today in dismissing a suit brought by Seymour Carmel, who was laid off last September in a reduction in force at the Veterans Administration.

A $6,250-a-year employe, Carmel claimed the layoff violated the Veterans Preference Act because he spent two weeks training with the National Guard in 1952.

Postal Hike Bill Runs Aground

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's bill to increase postal rates ran aground in the House today, apparently finished for this session of Congress.

Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts announced he has no intention of putting the measure on the House's legislative program. He added he "hoped" no Democrat would attempt to force it to the floor.

There was little if any expectation of such a Democratic move. Speaker Rayburn of Texas also is against the bill's provision to raise the mailing charge on ordinary letters from three to four cents.

The administration had backed the measure, containing a variety of proposed rate increases, as a way to eliminate the bulk of the annual Post Office budget deficit. The department now runs about 470 million dollars in the red.

Rep. Cederberg (R-Mich) told the House Congress would be "derelect in its duties unless it meets the deficit head on."

Sanitary Plan Need "Critical"

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP)—The State Board of Health was told today of the "critical" need for a master sanitary plan for upper Montgomery and Frederick counties and called on the State Planning Commission to help it study the situation.

The discussion at the board's regular monthly meeting was touched off by several applications for permission to build sewage plants in the Seneca Creek Watershed of Upper Montgomery County.

Two such requests were granted. The board authorized the Atomic Energy Commission to build pipes to carry sewage from its new headquarters now under construction at Germantown to the sewage disposal plant in Gaithersburg.

The board also approved the application of a private developer who plans a 235-lot subdivision to be known as Manchester Knolls, 2 miles west of Norbeck. The developer asked permission to build a temporary sewage treatment plant which would empty into the Upper North Branch of Rock Creek.

Coiner Appointed W. Va. Pen Warden

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 14 (AP)—Ira M. Coiner, who played a leading role in quelling a riot at the institution last Jan. 2, has been appointed warden of the West Virginia Penitentiary at Moundsville.

Gov. William C. Marland announced the appointment today. It becomes effective tomorrow, but is subject to confirmation by the State Senate the next time the Legislature meets.

The 50-year-old Coiner, from Renick in Greenbrier County, is a veteran of 22 years of penal institution service in the state.

Steel Offer Studied

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Union officials today mulled over a "Big Steel" offer reputed to include pay raises and other concessions in return for a five-year "no strike" contract.

Union officials and staff experts will place the offer before the 170-member wage policy committee of the United Steelworkers of America tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Hotel Roosevelt.

Dental Authorities Deplore Scientists' Report X-Rays Hazard To Human Life

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Dental authorities today described as "unfortunate and misleading" a report by the National Academy of Sciences that medical and dental X-rays are a hazard to human life.

Dr. Herbert L. Taub, president of the New York State Dental Society, said that with modern dental techniques and equipment, there could be no danger to reproductive organs, as suggested by the report.

He said the report has "caused needless apprehension to hundreds of dental patients"—and that many dentists had reported patients calling to cancel appointments for X-ray examinations of their teeth.

Dr. Samuel S. Wald, associate professor of radiology at New York University College of Dentistry, also said that dental X-rays properly made with proper modern apparatus "will have no harmful effects."

The Academy of Sciences report, issued Tuesday in Washington after a year-long study, said radiation from any source—bombs, nuclear research or X-rays was "often harmful" to life.

The report, devoted to the overall health factors involved in radiation from atomic experiments and other sources, said any amount of radiation, however small, was hazardous from a genetic or hereditary standpoint.

It said that at present, there had been only negligible contamination from atomic experiments, and that they had created less genetic hazards than medical use of X-rays.

The report proposed a national system of keeping records for everyone on any kind of radiation exposure, and urged research on the amount humans could absorb in a lifetime without affecting future generations.

Dr. Wald said that since dental X-rays were first used in 1895, "millions of dental patients have been X-rayed. Insofar as we know, there is no record of any ill effects of X-ray examination of a single one. . ."

Pay Hike Sought For State Psychiatrist

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP)—The State Board of Health, faced with the loss of its chief psychiatrist, took action today aimed at increasing his salary and giving the division of Mental Health more autonomy.

Dr. Robert E. Thomas, head of the Health Department's Division of Mental Health, had written Dr. Perry F. Prather, state director, that he would be forced to resign unless some adjustments were made.

The Board of Health authorized Dr. Prather to seek a salary increase for Dr. Thomas of from $7,000 - $9,090 to $11,000 - $13,500 which would be comparable to the salaries of psychiatrists in the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

The board also discussed and took under advisement a proposal to take the Division of Mental Health out of the Bureau of Preventive Medicine and put it under the office of the director of the State Health Department.

The Maryland Assn. for Mental Health had urged Dr. Prather to give the division bureau status, but this would require an act of the State Legislature.

Dr. Prather said such legislation is being considered in view of the increasing problem of mental health.

In the meantime, the board will consider moving the division within the department, thereby giving it more autonomy.

The letter from the Maryland Assn. for Mental Health came from Mrs. Arthur J. Rawson of Frederick, chairman of the association's Community Clinics Division.

It urged the board to petition the standard salary board to set salaries of health department psychiatrists at the level recently approved for psychiatrists at mental hospitals.

It also recommended promotion of the division of mental health to bureau status.

Adventist Youth Leader Speaks

CATONSVILLE, Md., June 14 (AP)—Modern marriages go on the rocks because of hurried courtships, finances and lack of plans for equitable economic running of the home, a Baltimore Seventh-day Adventist youth leader said today.

The speaker before the youth session of the annual convention of the Chesapeake Conference of Adventists was Robert A. Tyson, secretary to the church's youth department. He advocated at least a year's courtship for all before marriage.

"It has been proved that marriages that have sustained the test of a year's courtship are more usually permanent," he said. But, he added, most of the time courtship is "too hurried."

"Chance acquaintances," he said, "too frequently result in marriages without any consideration of the sacred responsibilities involved."

Tyson spoke at an afternoon panel discussion on youth problems. Young people at the convention meet twice a day for discussions, guest speakers and motion picture programs. The topic today was "Love, Courtship, and Marriage."

Youth Drowns Trying To Swim To Shore

CHARLES TOWN, Md., June 14 (AP)—State Police today dragged the waters around Carpenters Point near here for the body of Dale E. Boose, 18, of Quarryville, Pa.

Boose made his home with Mr. and Mrs. George Minder, of Quarryville.

He drowned yesterday when he swim about a quarter of a mile to shore after the motor propelling the rowboat he was in went dead.

With Boose was Robert Minder, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Minder. Robert swam safely to shore. The Minders and young Boose had been visiting nearby Riverside Beach.

Accused Slayer May Be Linked To Thefts

TOWSON, Md., June 14 (AP) — Baltimore County authorities said today they were making a full investigation to see if Carl Kier, 21-year-old Negro handyman charged with slaying a Baltimore matron, could have committed several recent burglaries in the same general area.

Kier, police said, made an "incriminating statement" in connection with the murder of Mrs. John H. Bopst III last Tuesday. He was jailed late yesterday afternoon, and Warden Joseph Butt said he has eaten regularly and behaved normally since that time.

Before taken to jail, Kier was placed in a police lineup for possible identification by several persons who got a glimpse of a burglar who has raided several homes in the north Baltimore area. Officers would not disclose results of the lineup appearance.

Talbot Co. To Start School Integration

EASTON, Md., June 14 (AP)—Talbot County will start integration of white and Negro children in its first three grades in September.

The county board of education has approved the applications of 10 Negro students for admission to schools which previously had all-white enrollments.

The board president, Dr. Shepard Krech Jr., said the board followed the advice of its bi-racial citizens' committee to limit integration at this time to the first three grades.

Talbot has a school population of 3,850, 32 per cent of which are Negroes.

Interchurch Cooperation Called 'New Reformation'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

"And they shall gather together his elect from the four winds "

In a way, that's what is happening to separate American churches today in their shift toward partnership. The phenomenon has reached the point where it's now being called: "The New Reformation."

It's a gradual, linking-up process, well along in years, and it encounters many difficulties and bursts of opposition, but a revealing, newly published analysis by a leading Protestant scholar declares:

"The modern ecumenical movement has assumed the dimensions and significance of a major reformation of the church."

Dr. Truman B. Douglass, in a full-scale summary of the roots and scope of the whole readjustment, sees in its present pace the unfolding of "new and mighty acts of God in our own time."

"It appears," he says, "to be a Reformation as momentous as any" that has occurred in the past.

Many church authorities back up this appraisal of the current widespread tendency of different churches to get together, work together and stick together in their job.

"No other movement," says Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of the long-influential Union Theological Seminary, "has ever spread so rapidly and widely in so brief a period of time."

Thousands of interdenominational church agencies have arisen the last 15 years, on a local, state, national and world basis.

Interchurch cooperation has touched nearly every phase of Christian activity—charity, fund-raising, missions, caring for the sick, Bible translation, education, hymnbooks and church construction.

"Protestanism," said Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian Uuniversity, "for too long has traveled the road of denominational particularities. There is a better way."

How and why did it all come about and where is it leading?

Dr. Douglass, who for several years has had an inside view of the workings of the movement both on a national and hometown level, gives some striking answers in a new book, "Preaching in the New Reformation."

It notes these basic, propelling forces:

1. Churches, stimulated by close contacts with others of varying customs, are re-examining the bases of their own particular ways — in widening "denominational self-scrutiny."

2. This has sparked a vast resurgence of Biblical inquiry to find the right course—what Dr. Douglass calls "the resubmission" of the whole church life to "the living Word of God."

Right now, 16 mixed teams of churchmen around the country are engaged in concentrated, two-year studies, in which Dr. Douglass is a consultant, on the reasons behind varied "faith and order" of churches.

This is just one case of the broad, over-all trend.

While similar refocusing on the Bible characterized the Protestant unity impulses, and also is strong in Roman Catholicism.

"To construe this as merely a return to Biblicism and a starting all over again of the controversies and schisms due to the different ways men read the Bible is to misunderstand it completely," he said.

"Willingness to listen together to the message of the Bible is disclosing new possibilities for the removal of some of the most obstructive barriers that have kept Christians apart."

Dr. Douglass, who has head of the Congregational Christian Home Missions Board also has a close insight into the local-church manifestations of the unity movement, said it already has "burst its structural bonds."

"Church officials," he said in an interview, "are behind in not recognizing the extent to which lay people already disregard denominational differences. As for a new perspective at the 'grass roots'—it's already there."

Noting that a main objection to the movement has been that it might lead to a "monolithic church" that would destroy distinctive values and historical contributions of different denominations, Dr. Douglass said:

"It has been clear from the start that any kind of unity must find ways of protecting people's rights to be different — that it must make room to accommodate a great range of diversity."

As for some form of united American church, Dr. Douglass predicted that at the present tempo, a "nucleus will be in existence within 25 years, including at least five Christian families, different in history and polity."

Most major church bodies, he added, "could, if they went to work on it, find a basis for union right now."

Southern Baptists and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod are the only large Protestant bodies that have not participated extensively in the cooperative church activity.

Although the Roman Catholic Church has remained officially aloof, its priests have joined in a growing "una sancta" movement spreading out from Europe to explore ideas with Protestants in seeking greater unity.

All this perment, as pictured by Dr. Douglass, stems from two main motives — the need for a stronger church front to oppose modern antifaith drives, and the innate nature of Christianity as "one people."

"The church claims to have a community, to reconcile one to another, to accept and forgive," he said. "To claim to have the secret of community and not be a community is a contradiction that can't go on forever."

French Actress Says U.S. Men Not Mature

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14 (AP)—American men "are the most handsome, the sportiest in the world," but not very mature, French movie actress Martine Carol said today on her return to the United States.

Miss Carol, clad in a black Chinese robe she acquired in Hong Kong, gave her evaluation in an interview.

Her most intimate knowledge of American men came from her marriage to movie actor Stephen Crane—"he was so big, so strong." He since has been exchanged for French movie director Christian Jaque, who isn't so big nor so strong.

"American men are very young, very gay," said Miss Carol. "But if I were to marry an American again, he would be much older."

Interchurch Cooperation Called 'New Reformation'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

"And they shall gather together his elect from the four winds "

In a way, that's what is happening to separate American churches today in their shift toward partnership. The phenomenon has reached the point where it's now being called: "The New Reformation."

It's a gradual, linking-up process, well along in years, and it encounters many difficulties and bursts of opposition, but a revealing, newly published analysis by a leading Protestant scholar declares:

"The modern ecumenical movement has assumed the dimensions and significance of a major reformation of the church."

Dr. Truman B. Douglass, in a full-scale summary of the roots and scope of the whole readjustment, sees in its present pace the unfolding of "new and mighty acts of God in our own time."

"It appears," he says, "to be a Reformation as momentous as any" that has occurred in the past.

Many church authorities back up this appraisal of the current widespread tendency of different churches to get together, work together and stick together in their job.

"No other movement," says Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of the long-influential Union Theological Seminary, "has ever spread so rapidly and widely in so brief a period of time."

Thousands of interdenominational church agencies have arisen the last 15 years, on a local, state, national and world basis.

Interchurch cooperation has touched nearly every phase of Christian activity—charity, fund-raising, missions, caring for the sick, Bible translation, education, hymnbooks and church construction.

"Protestanism," said Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian Uuniversity, "for too long has traveled the road of denominational particularities. There is a better way."

How and why did it all come about and where is it leading?

Dr. Douglass, who for several years has had an inside view of the workings of the movement both on a national and hometown level, gives some striking answers in a new book, "Preaching in the New Reformation."

It notes these basic, propelling forces:

1. Churches, stimulated by close contacts with others of varying customs, are re-examining the bases of their own particular ways — in widening "denominational self-scrutiny."

2. This has sparked a vast resurgence of Biblical inquiry to find the right course—what Dr. Douglass calls "the resubmission" of the whole church life to "the living Word of God."

Right now, 16 mixed teams of churchmen around the country are engaged in concentrated, two-year studies, in which Dr. Douglass is a consultant, on the reasons behind varied "faith and order" of churches.

This is just one case of the broad, over-all trend.

While similar refocusing on the Bible characterized the Protestant unity impulses, and also is strong in Roman Catholicism.

"To construe this as merely a return to Biblicism and a starting all over again of the controversies and schisms due to the different ways men read the Bible is to misunderstand it completely," he said.

"Willingness to listen together to the message of the Bible is disclosing new possibilities for the removal of some of the most obstructive barriers that have kept Christians apart."

Dr. Douglass, who has head of the Congregational Christian Home Missions Board also has a close insight into the local-church manifestations of the unity movement, said it already has "burst its structural bonds."

"Church officials," he said in an interview, "are behind in not recognizing the extent to which lay people already disregard denominational differences. As for a new perspective at the 'grass roots'—it's already there."

Noting that a main objection to the movement has been that it might lead to a "monolithic church" that would destroy distinctive values and historical contributions of different denominations, Dr. Douglass said:

"It has been clear from the start that any kind of unity must find ways of protecting people's rights to be different — that it must make room to accommodate a great range of diversity."

As for some form of united American church, Dr. Douglass predicted that at the present tempo, a "nucleus will be in existence within 25 years, including at least five Christian families, different in history and polity."

Most major church bodies, he added, "could, if they went to work on it, find a basis for union right now."

He served as branch chief in the Army Chemical Corps medical laboratory at the Army Chemical Center, then went to Eastman Kodak Company as a superintendent in the Kodak Park Works industrial laboratory, before joining Atlas.

McGeady Case

which he paid $7 a day plus seven cents a mile. He said he lost about $25 gambling on a shuffleboard machine at a bowling banquet and wor about $35 shooting crap at a Knights of Columbus picnic. McGeady also recalled having won $100 on a baseball pool during the 1955 season and having split another $100 ticket.

In the course of his cross examination by Ferris, the defendant gave a detailed explanation of his handling of checks. He said he usually ran them on an adding machine tape before going to lunch at 1 p. m. Usually by about 2:30 p. m. he would have his accounts balanced. In response to a question from Judge Watkins McGeady said his accounts were rarely out of balance.

Later, McGeady told Ferris that he saw Mrs. Eyre two or three times between January and August 1955, generally at one of the after-hours road houses. He remembered having driven her home once from one of the road houses when she was left without a ride.

In answer to another question, he said he couldn't recall ever having knocked at Mrs. Eyre's door at 5 o'clock in the morning. If he had, he probably wouldn't be able to remember it, he observed.

Some 25 witnesses have testified in the four days of the trial. The government offered 20, mostly employes of the bank, and the defense had six, including one previously called by the government.

Air Force Faces Variety Of Unusual Problems In Feeding Its Jet Fighter Pilots

ST. LOUIS, June 14 (AP)—Flying a jet airplane on a long flight easily could have its problems but one you might not think of off hand is just how to go about eating.

The Air Force has.

Three methods of feeding the jet fighter pilot, weighted down with heavy clothing and cooped up in a crowded cockpit, were described yesterday to a national convention of the Institute of Food Technologists.

Col. Albert Taylor, attached to the Aero-Medical Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, listed the methods as liquid food, tablet form or semi-solid food.

"Flight duties and the aircraft environment tend to decrease appetite," Col. Taylor said. "Foods must be high in acceptability so they will be eaten in sufficient quantities. Furthermore, good food is a positive moral factor; poor food is detrimental to morale."

The jet fighter pilot can't move from his seat, is heavily clothed and carries a parachute, oxygen and other equipment. Storage space is limited. No food heating or cooling equipment can be provided. The pilot must pay constant attention to flying his aircraft.

These are some of the problems which Col. Taylor said the Air Force faces in its feeding problem.

Liquid foods, he said, are taken by the pilot in restricted conditions by a tube arrangement through a helmet opening.

Fruit and vegetable juices already are available. An improved chocolate milk and lemonade have been approved and Col. Taylor said a canned liquid chicken and ham "show considerable promise."

The tablet, which needs to be bite-sized, is dispensed to the pilot by a device which drops one of the foods into his hand with pressure on a button. Chocolate, cheese, cookie and milk food tablets are being field tested.

Work has started, Col. Taylor said, on semisolid foods in tubes with elongated spouts which the pilot would empty by squeezing, "like a tube of toothpaste," through a trap door in his mask.

The dumb-waiter, originally a circular table to hold reserve plates, knives and forks, came into use in England in the 18th century.

Air Force Faces Variety Of Unusual Problems In Feeding Its Jet Fighter Pilots

ST. LOUIS, June 14 (AP)—Flying a jet airplane on a long flight easily could have its problems but one you might not think of off hand is just how to go about eating.

The Air Force has.

Three methods of feeding the jet fighter pilot, weighted down with heavy clothing and cooped up in a crowded cockpit, were described yesterday to a national convention of the Institute of Food Technologists.

Col. Albert Taylor, attached to the Aero-Medical Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, listed the methods as liquid food, tablet form or semi-solid food.

"Flight duties and the aircraft environment tend to decrease appetite," Col. Taylor said. "Foods must be high in acceptability so they will be eaten in sufficient quantities. Furthermore, good food is a positive moral factor; poor food is detrimental to morale."

The jet fighter pilot can't move from his seat, is heavily clothed and carries a parachute, oxygen and other equipment. Storage space is limited. No food heating or cooling equipment can be provided. The pilot must pay constant attention to flying his aircraft.

These are some of the problems which Col. Taylor said the Air Force faces in its feeding problem.

Liquid foods, he said, are taken by the pilot in restricted conditions by a tube arrangement through a helmet opening.

Fruit and vegetable juices already are available. An improved chocolate milk and lemonade have been approved and Col. Taylor said a canned liquid chicken and ham "show considerable promise."

The tablet, which needs to be bite-sized, is dispensed to the pilot by a device which drops one of the foods into his hand with pressure on a button. Chocolate, cheese, cookie and milk food tablets are being field tested.

Doctor Says Exercise, Diet Can Ward Off Heart Disease

CHICAGO, June 14 (AP)—A physician contended today that a program of exercise and weight control started early in life might enable the nation to lick "the disease of prosperity"—premature heart attacks.

Dr. Edward P. Luongo of Los Angeles said there is growing evidence that heart deaths in the young and middle-aged are linked, in a sense, to prosperity, easy jobs and leisure time.

There is also evidence, he added, that impending heart attacks—detected well in advance by rising blood pressure and quickened pulse rate—might be caught in time to institute preventive measures.

Dr. Luongo, medical director of the General Petroleum Corp. and chairman of the American Medical Assn's. section on preventive and industrial medicine and public health, based his view on a detailed study of 100 heart cases in the 40-to 50-year-old age groups.

He said these points about his study in a report to the AMA convention:

1. There was no evidence in his study that smoking cigarettes or consuming alcoholic beverages played a role in causing coronary disease.

2. Two-thirds of the coronary group were overweight 10 to 15 years prior to their heart attacks compared with only one-third in a healthy control group of the same ages.

3. Seventy per cent of the coronary group showed no regular exercise patterns either at work or away from their jobs, compared with only 30 per cent in the control group.

He said that unless doctors meet the challenge of coronary disease, "we will find ourselves part of a civilization unprepared for the economic riches it fought so hard to obtain."

Asserting 82 per cent of the persons in both the coronary and healthy groups smoked from 1 to 1½ packs of cigarettes a day, prior to the attack or study, he said:

"This study would lend some support to the concept that tobacco is a nonetiologic—noncausitive—factor in coronary disease. It does not mean, however, that tobacco is without possible harmful or embarrassing effects on already diseased coronary arteries or in already diseased peripheral arteries."

He said that 90 per cent of both the coronary and healthy groups consumed alcoholic beverages and added:

"As in the case of tobacco the consumption of alcohol seems to have little or no relationship to the production of coronary sclerosis—hardening of the coronary arteries."

NEW YORK, June 14 (INS) — People. . . places. . . things. . .

Lt. Gen. E. R. "Pete" Quesada, the brilliant young airman who supervised construction of the Eniwetok Atomic Proving Ground before leaving the service, tells us a story about that far-off place. We can't get the spooky yarn out of our mind:

Coral is quarried on Eniwetok atoll to save costs and transportation of cement for structures, runways and the like. One night a new shift arrived at the quarry to find the lights out. A boy stepped over to the fuse box and noted the apparent reason. The switch had been pulled. With little or no thought to what he was doing he pushed the switch shut.

The act killed a sergeant who, unbeknown to the arriving shift, was standing in quarry water up to his knees piecing together the broken light wire. He had taken the precaution of shutting off the power before he undertook the job.

He was electrocuted.

"The only man we lost on that job," Quesada remembered today. "And one of the strangest stories I've ever encountered."

I asked him why.

"The sergeant was the executioner at Nuremburg," Pete said.

There are 1,500,000,000 dollar bills more or less in circulation in this country. How many of their owners know what the pyramid and the eye above it mean on the back of each buck?

Thanks to Ray Bolger, who clears up the matter as a fine guest on one of Father James Keller's Christopher TV shows, here's the dope:

It's the reverse side of the familiar spread-eagled Great Seal of the U.S. The question of the needed seal arose on the afternoon of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Jefferson, Franklin and John Adams were appointed to prepare the seal's design and its inscription. There was much haggling, especially by Franklin. He held the eagle in low repute. It had the manners and appetite of a vulture. He held out for the turkey, and lost.

The final design, the work of William Barton and Charles Thomson, was approved by Congress after six years. The pyramid represents the material strength of the country. The eye is the "eye of God, placing the spiritual welfare of the country above its material prosperity." The words "annuit coeptis means "He (God) has favored our undertakings." The words on the pyramid base, "novus ordo seclorum" mean "a new order of ages." The Roman numerals spell out to 1776.

Now, fellows, let's all get some.

The problem of who wrote Anna Karenina, which has been told on successive generations of despots, pops up again in London. It gets better through the years — since I first read it in Winchell's piece.

Khrushchev claimed during his visit to 10 Downing that once in Moscow he asked a student, "Who wrote Anna Karenina?" The frightened student said, "Not me. I didn't do it." Khrushchev claims he sent for the MVD and bawled him out for terrorizing the student. He demanded a report. The MVD man came back the next day with bruised knuckles and a report. "The student has finally admitted writing Anna Karenina," he asserted.

The Democrats would seem to be leading Ike 4-to-1.

The words on the pyramid base, "novus ordo seclorum" mean "a new order of ages." The Roman numerals spell out to 1776.

Now, fellows, let's all get some.

The problem of who wrote Anna Karenina, which has been told on successive generations of despots, pops up again in London. It gets better through the years — since I first read it in Winchell's piece.

Khrushchev claimed during his visit to 10 Downing that once in Moscow he asked a student, "Who wrote Anna Karenina?" The frightened student said, "Not me. I didn't do it." Khrushchev claims he sent for the MVD and bawled him out for terrorizing the student. He demanded a report. The MVD man came back the next day with bruised knuckles and a report. "The student has finally admitted writing Anna Karenina," he asserted.

The Democrats would seem to be leading Ike 4-to-1.

Mayor Eves Explains Vote Against Southview Plan

Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday sent a letter to Chief Judge George Henderson, chairman of the Cumberland Recreation Board, outlining the reasons for casting the deciding vote rejecting the board's recommendation for the purchase of Southview Addition as a recreation site.

The mayor's vote broke a 2-2 tie on the matter when it was brought up for action at a meeting of the Council Monday afternoon. Commissioners John J. Long and William V. Keegan voted in favor of the property purchase, while Commissioners William J. Edwards and William H. Buchholtz opposed the plan.

In his letter, Mayor Eves pointed out that the final decision had been delayed because of a "great divergence of opinion among the Council and many other equally interested persons."

Mayor Eves also informed Judge Henderson that he had not been influenced by politics in arriving at his decision, explaining that he had been informed that a vote against the purchase was "politically unwise." He also stated that the Council action should not be interpreted as a rebuff to the Recreation Board, nor as a "lack of appreciation of your sincere and conscientious administration of the recreation program."

"Even those favoring the approval of the Southview Addition project were in accord that the $78,000.00 being asked for the site was excessive," the letter stated.

"It seemed to some that the $2,900 estimate for annual operation for a project of this magnitude was not at all a realistic figure and certainly not in keeping with the experience of the Recreation Board and the city, in the maintenance and operation of other parks and playgrounds.

"There was also the question in the minds of several of the members of council regarding just what 'primary construction" would consist of and how much additional construction expense would have to be borne by the taxpayers in order to make the area conform to the plan as publicized in the press. "Primary construction" seems to be a technical term for the dusty desolation surrounding recreational areas which lack the finishing touches that nature would give to it if properly assisted.

"Another element considered was the fact that we did not have in writing anything definite from the Board of Education of Allegany County regarding their proposed purchase of a portion of the area for a new school site for $20,000, and also the fact that the tract would be located in a section of the city which already has possibly the best recreational facilities in the community. Furthermore, consideration was also given to the effect upon the migration of home-site seekers to suburbs by diminishing the number of desirable home-sites within the city limits.

"We certainly trust and hope that the failure of Council to act favorably upon your recommendation will not deter the Board in any degree from continued efforts to secure some more suitable sites for recreational development, which would not involve such a substantial portion of our limited capital for property acquisition.

"All the possibilities for sites suitable for recreation within the city have certainly not been exhausted. There are attractive possibilities for a full scale ball field in a scenic setting between Valley Road and Furnace Street Extended, with good parking space overlooking the field, room for unlimited parking or additional fields.

"Then there is the possibility of securing the Feeney farm, with its rich soil, and contour adapted to varied kinds of recreational facilities, and at much less first-cost than Southview, and at only a small part of the development cost. There are two areas on McNamara's Hill available at a small fraction of the amount remaining in the Bond Issue. "Upon completion of the flood control project there may be available the former Community Ball Park, now owned by the Department of Interior and which was at one time considered as site of a Canal Parkway recreation area and museum. When made available, the cost of this site to the city may be negligible.

"No recreation program can be called complete, successful or well rounded without the foundation of adequate, properly located and presentable neighborhood playgrounds or 'play-lots' as some disparagingly call them. The lack of such facilities in the West Side of town concerns me much more than failure to find a suitable site for a large scale project in that section.

"The East Side presents another problem requiring financing, as within a year they will lose one of the most popular ballfields and playgrounds in the city which will be hard to replace."

Mayor Eves concluded his letter by stating he hoped the Recreation Board would revise its plans for the use of the remaining bond issue to the best advantage of all concerned.

Feldstein Firm Ordered To Pay Employes Proper Wages

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, through Solicitor of Labor Stuart Rothman has obtained a court order in U. S. District Court, Baltimore, that prohibits Abraham Feldstein from violating the minimum wage, overtime, child labor and other provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The order relates to Feldstein's operation of the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, 130 Wineow Street.

According to the Department of Labor, the order was based on an investigation of the firm by the department.

The agency found minimum wage and overtime violations involving 14 of the concern's employes.

William A. Gunter, attorney for Feldstein, said the order is a consent decree, as Feldstein has agreed to pay the employes the money that the Department of Labor says is due them.

He said a technical point was involved as Feldstein contracted a trucker by the day to do some hauling for him, and the workers affected by this ruling were employed by the contractor. He added Feldstein had no knowledge of how much the contractor was paying his workers.

William Hargadine Jr., Philadelphia, regional director of the department's Labor and Hour Division, said that according to the department's computations the firm owes these employes about $1,000 in back wages.

In addition to banning minimum, wage, overtime and child labor violations, the injunction obtained by the Labor Department in Baltimore specifically directs the firm not to ship in interstate commerce any goods produced in violation of the federal law and orders it to keep proper records.

Heart Group Sees Film

The community service committee of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Benedict Skitarelic, with the program featuring films on rheumatic fever and heart disease of children.

A commentary on the films was made by Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, executive secretary of the association, who also distributed literature on the subjects. The volunteers were assigned work days at the association office, and a discussion was held on sending birthday cards to heart patients under the age of 13 years.

Refreshments were served. No date was set for the next meeting, the time and place of which will be announced by Mrs. Lewis.

Attending the meeting, besides Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Skitarelic, were Mrs. A. W. German, chairman; Mrs. Samuel R. Brady, secretary, Mrs. Robert B. Porter, Mrs. Henry T. Pyles, Mrs. W. J. Settle and Mrs. H. W. Young.

It is probable that the donkey was first domesticated in the valley of the Nile. It was known and used in Egypt centuries before the horse.

Feldstein Firm Ordered To Pay Employes Proper Wages

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, through Solicitor of Labor Stuart Rothman has obtained a court order in U. S. District Court, Baltimore, that prohibits Abraham Feldstein from violating the minimum wage, overtime, child labor and other provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The order relates to Feldstein's operation of the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, 130 Wineow Street.

According to the Department of Labor, the order was based on an investigation of the firm by the department.

The agency found minimum wage and overtime violations involving 14 of the concern's employes.

William A. Gunter, attorney for Feldstein, said the order is a consent decree, as Feldstein has agreed to pay the employes the money that the Department of Labor says is due them.

He said a technical point was involved as Feldstein contracted a trucker by the day to do some hauling for him, and the workers affected by this ruling were employed by the contractor. He added Feldstein had no knowledge of how much the contractor was paying his workers.

William Hargadine Jr., Philadelphia, regional director of the department's Labor and Hour Division, said that according to the department's computations the firm owes these employes about $1,000 in back wages.

In addition to banning minimum wage, overtime and child labor violations, the injunction obtained by the Labor Department in Baltimore specifically directs the firm not to ship in interstate commerce any goods produced in violation of the federal law and orders it to keep proper records.

Heart Group Sees Film

The community service committee of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Benedict Skitarelic, with the program featuring films on rheumatic fever and heart disease of children.

A commentary on the films was made by Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, executive secretary of the association, who also distributed literature on the subjects. The volunteers were assigned work days at the association office, and a discussion was held on sending birthday cards to heart patients under the age of 13 years.

Refreshments were served. No date was set for the next meeting, the time and place of which will be announced by Mrs. Lewis.

Attending the meeting, besides Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Skitarelic, were Mrs. A. W. German, chairman; Mrs. Samuel R. Brady, secretary, Mrs. Robert B. Porter, Mrs. Henry T. Pyles, Mrs. W. J. Settle and Mrs. H. W. Young.

It is probable that the donkey was first domesticated in the valley of the Nile. It was known and used in Egypt centuries before the horse.

Westernport Town Council Adopts Water Ordinance

New Regulations Are Approved

WESTERNPORT — Mayor Okey E. Michael and Commissioners Wednesday unanimously approved Water Ordinance 10, with some amendments.

The changes specify that application must be made in writing by property owners desiring to be provided with water and that all water bills be rendered to the owners of all properties who will be responsible for all water bills.

If water accounts are not paid by the twenty-fifth of the month, the water superintendent will be notified to shut off the water of the property within five days. The water is not to be turned on until the present water bill or any arrears are paid and an additional $1 for turning the water on again.

If the water superintendent fails to carry out these instructions he will be charged $1 per day for neglect of duty.

A general inspection will be made by the water superintendent or any authorized persons of all homes and business places. He shall be granted free access at all reasonable times to all parts of the places to be inspected.

The ordinance also extends water mains to provide water to any responsible parts or parties wherever in their judgment the revenue from such supply will justify the expenditure of the cost of the laying of such extensions.

A charge of $25, plus the cost of making a tap service connection, shall be made for each premise beyond the town limits connecting into the water system. The rules, regulations and rates will then be in force to those within the corporate limits excepting that a surcharge of 15 per cent shall be levied.

Fred Martin was granted a six-month sick leave extension and Daniel Taylor was appointed a member of the Street Department.

Leo Herbert, police commissioner, was authorized to purchase summer pants, shirts and caps for the police officers.

Mayor Michael was authorized to attend a meeting of the Maryland Municipal League to be held June 28-29 at Ocean City. Other members of council will be able to attend.

Lee Haines of the Glace and Glace Engineering Firm of Johnstown, Pa., supervising the constructions of the filtration plant and water tanks, authorized the payment of the following items for work already completed: Chicago Bridge and Iron Company $14,582.34; George Construction Company $9,204.79; Glace and Glace, $475.74; Harry M. Richards, inspector of the job, $387.72; Social Security $52.28 and town water account $1347.74, a total of $26,050.61.

Richards reported to the town that approximately 10,000 gallons of water had been put in the water storage tank on Philos Avenue Extended.

The other tank on Chestnut Street, at the site of the reservoir where the filtration plant is being built, will hold 25,000 gallon and is ready for testing.

Commissioner Ray Wilt reported a sewer on Vine street is leaking and running into property of Mrs. Joseph Payton, below the street. A sanitary sewer was reported broken near the residence of Ann Dellinger on Church Street, due to heavy traffic by a detour when the McCoole Road was being improved last summer.

Mineral County Red Cross Appeals For Contributions

KEYSER—Returns from Mineral County's fund raising campaign for the American Red Cross indicated yesterday that the area fell far below its quota of $5,000 by collecting only $2,266.68.

Of this total, the national headquarters will receive 50.39 per cent or $1,142.18 and the local chapter retains 49.61 per cent or $1,124.50.

An appeal is being made to individuals, businesses, and clubs and organizations to raise as much as possible because of a deficit in the campaign and the blood bank program. It will be impossible to keep the blood bank here after another visit because funds are not adequate to operate home service needs and support the blood program, too.

At least $500 must be raised to keep the blood program in operation in 1957. Another visit is necessary to complete the contract with the bloodmobile unit for 1956.

A breakdown by streets, the rural district, clubs and organizations and businesses will be outlined in the near future.

Harry J. Reese is general chairman of the fund drive. Mrs. Loretta Keener was chairman of the residential collections, assisted by Mrs. Norma Starke and Mrs. Pauline Rice. Philip Leatherman was chairman of the rural areas and Dr. E. E. Church chairman of collections among clubs and organizations.

Westernport Town Council Adopts Water Ordinance

New Regulations Are Approved

WESTERNPORT — Mayor Okey E. Michael and Commissioners Wednesday unanimously approved Water Ordinance 10, with some amendments.

The changes specify that application must be made in writing by property owners desiring to be provided with water and that all water bills be rendered to the owners of all properties who will be responsible for all water bills.

If water accounts are not paid by the twenty-fifth of the month, the water superintendent will be notified to shut off the water of the property within five days. The water is not to be turned on until the present water bill or any arrears are paid and an additional $1 for turning the water on again.

If the water superintendent fails to carry out these instructions he will be charged $1 per day for neglect of duty.

A general inspection will be made by the water superintendent or any authorized persons of all homes and business places. He shall be granted free access at all reasonable times to all parts of the places to be inspected.

The ordinance also extends water mains to provide water to any responsible parts or parties wherever in their judgment the revenue from such supply will justify the expenditure of the cost of the laying of such extensions.

A charge of $25, plus the cost of making a tap service connection, shall be made for each premise beyond the town limits connecting into the water system. The rules, regulations and rates will then be in force to those within the corporate limits excepting that a surcharge of 15 per cent shall be levied.

Fred Martin was granted a six-month sick leave extension and Daniel Taylor was appointed a member of the Street Department.

Leo Herbert, police commissioner, was authorized to purchase summer pants, shirts and caps for the police officers.

Mayor Michael was authorized to attend a meeting of the Maryland Municipal League to be held June 28-29 at Ocean City. Other members of council will be able to attend.

Lee Haines of the Glace and Glace Engineering Firm of Johnstown, Pa., supervising the constructions of the filtration plant and water tanks, authorized the payment of the following items for work already completed: Chicago Bridge and Iron Company $14,582.-34; George Construction Company $9,204.79; Glace and Glace, $475.74; Harry M. Richards, inspector of the job, $387.72; Social Security $52.28 and town water account $1347.74, a total of $26,050.61.

Richards reported to the town that approximately 10,000 gallons of water had been put in the water storage tank on Philos Avenue Extended.

The other tank on Chestnut Street, at the site of the reservoir where the filtration plant is being built, will hold 25,000 gallon and is ready for testing.

Commissioner Ray Wilt reported a sewer on Vine street is leaking and running into property of Mrs. Joseph Payton, below the street. A sanitary sewer was reported broken near the residence of Ann Dellinger on Church Street, due to heavy traffic by a detour when the McCoole Road was being improved last summer.

Mineral County Red Cross Appeals For Contributions

KEYSER—Returns from Mineral County's fund raising campaign for the American Red Cross indicated yesterday that the area fell far below its quota of $5,000 by collecting only $2,266.68.

Of this total, the national headquarters will receive 50.39 per cent or $1,142.18 and the local chapter retains 49.61 per cent or $1,124.50.

An appeal is being made to individuals, businesses, and clubs and organizations to raise as much as possible because of a deficit in the campaign and the blood bank program. It will be impossible to keep the blood bank here after another visit because funds are not adequate to operate home service needs and support the blood program, too.

At least $500 must be raised to keep the blood program in operation in 1957. Another visit is necessary to complete the contract with the bloodmobile unit for 1956.

A breakdown by streets, the rural district, clubs and organizations and businesses will be outlined in the near future.

Harry J. Reese is general chairman of the fund drive. Mrs. Loretta Keener was chairman of the residential collections, assisted by Mrs. Norma Starke and Mrs. Pauline Rice. Philip Leatherman was chairman of the rural areas and Dr. E. E. Church chairman of collections among clubs and organizations.

Keyser Band Director Proposes Series Of Concerts By "Old Time" Musicians

KEYSER — "Old Time bandsmen may have an opportunity soon, to get back into action, Nunzio Barbera, director of the Keyser High School and Potomac State College Bands, has become interested in the movement and is planning some action to bring this about.

In discussing this matter, he said:

"It has been called to my attention by some interested musicians, that if enough of the 'old line' bandsmen were contacted, we could put on a series of unique concerts of standard marches. This idea proved very successful recently when we got together for the Piedmont Centennial Celebration. Our series of concerts for this occasion was informal and was enjoyed by many persons.

"Why can't we do the same thing for a series of summer concerts? he asked. "The 'Old Timers' would enjoy playing and the local public would enjoy listening. A pick-up band, playing in our respective home towns, would go over in a big way. Since only standard and familiar marches would be used, rehearsals would not be necessary. All any of these fellows would need to furnish would be their instruments."

Then Mr. Barbera described his plan, as follows:

"Attend the first proposed concert which will be held in front of the Keyser High School building on Thursday, June 21, at 7:30 p. m. DST. Two weeks from this date, we will play in another town,etc., every two weeks for the entire sunmmer period. If we have a healthy band turn-out at the first concert, certainly every player would want to reciprocate by turning out for the other local towns."

Mr. Barbera said that he has sent letters to 'Old Timers' and is asking them to let him know what they think of the idea, so he can work on instrumentation and music. He said also that all former high school band members will be welcome. He is very hopeful that the 'Old Timers' will feel some of the enthusiasm he feels in the matter.

Abduction Of 2 Girls Is Hoax

Local authorities Wednesday afternoon uncovered a story given by an 18-year-old girl who said she and a companion were abducted in Danville, Va., and "dumped" in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Mrs. Eugene Moxley, 18, RD 1, Danville, told the State's Attorney's office Wednesday that three men forced her and a 14-year-old companion into an automobile Sunday night in Danville and drove to Martinsburg where the men threw them out of the vehicle.

The girl told authorities that after being "dumped out" in Martinsburg, she and her friend hitch-hiked to Cumberland where they split up. The 18-year-old purchased a bus ticket to Keyser, and then to Westernport where a policeman found her sleeping quarters for Tuesday night, and then had her taken to the State's Attorney's office Wednesday.

Detective Lt. James E. Van was called to the State's Attorney's office to take the girl to the Travelers Aid Society to obtain funds for her return to Danville.

During questioning at the Travelers Aid Society's headquarters by Lt. Van and Mrs. Nora C. Fleming, executive secretary of the society, Mrs. Moxley admitted that the story was a hoax.

She said that after leaving the Danville Hospital she and her friend voluntarily got in the automobile with the three men and drove to Martinsburg. While the three men were in a tavern in Martinsburg, the two girls started hitch-hiking towards Cumberland.

After arriving here Tuesday morning the two split, with the older girl going to Keyser.

After she told the truth at the Travelers Aid Society office, the welfare group provided funds for her return to Danville.

Lt. Van said the whereabouts of the 14-year-old girl is still not known, but Danville authorities have been notified.

Local Nun Marks Silver Anniversary

Sister Mary Justin, the former Mary Lucy Grabenstein and a native of this city, celebrated her silver jubilee as a Franciscan Nun on June 2 at the mother house, Mt. Alvernia, Pittsburgh.

A solemn high mass was sung in honor of Sister Justin by Rev. Herbert Glocker of SS. Peter and Paul Church, Erie, Pa. Rev. Edwin Heyl, pastor of St. Gregory, Zelienople, was deacon, and Rev. Louis P. Yunker, pastor of St. Martin's, West End, was subdeacon. Rev. Roland Raible, OFM, Cap., chaplain of the mother house, was master of ceremonies, and Rev. Paul Ubinger, St. Paul's Monastery, Pittsburgh, delivered the sermon.

Sister Justin attended SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School and Ursuline Academy, and entered St. Francis Preparatory School for Girls in September 1929, and the convent on September 8, 1930. She was invested as a Sister of St. Francis at Millvale, Pa., on August 12, 1931 and pronounced her final vows on August 13, 1932.

Sister Justin is stationed at St. Francis Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Ensor Gets Year In House Of Correction

The armed "night caller" who paid a visit to the Maryland State Police Barracks in LaVale in the early morning hours of June 4 was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason sentenced the man, Wilton Leland Ensor, 29, of 1624 York Road, Lutherville, near Baltimore, after studying his past criminal record and a psychiatric report from Dr. Richard W. Trevaskis Jr.

Ensor on June 4 strolled into the LaVale barracks and asked Trooper L. D. Cook to deliver a message to his wife in Gilmore.

During questioning, Trooper Cook discovered the man was carrying a loaded .32 pistol. Trooper Cook and Trooper R. D. Wolford spent approximately 45 minutes talking the man out of whatever his plans were concerning the weapon.

After turning over the weapon to Trooper Cook and Trooper Wolford the man was lodged in the City Jail.

Ensor was questioned later that day in the State's Attorney's office and told authorities that he had purchased the pistol in Baltimore and that he was considering "drastic action" in the event his wife wouldn't return to his home in Lutherville.

Ensor was charged with carrying a concealed weapon, and after he entered a plea of guilty, Magistrate Mason deferred sentence until a report of his record from the Federal Bureau of Investigation could be obtained.

In passing sentence yesterday, Magistrate Mason told the man that he had spent a good bit of time considering the seriousness of the charge.

One Class Less In Great Britain

Although the British Labor party is opposed to the privileges and prerogatives of the aristocracy, the Laborites never got round to abolishing any part of the class system on railroad trains. Now the Conservatives have stolen some of their egalitarian thunder. There is no longer any third class on British trains.

Is this progress or reaction? It turns the clock back to the early 19th Century, since there was no third class then, either. But the reason is vastly different. In those days the people of the lower class were so poor, most of them, that they couldn't afford to ride on trains. Today most of them can afford to travel second class, thank you.

The rich (or the aristocracy, at any rate) are getting poorer and the poor are getting richer, then. That's not quite what Marx predicted, though he did mention that Britain and a few other countries might possibly manage to reach that stage without a Communist revolution.

In his lifetime there had been third-class flatcars in which the poor rode in roofless discomfort drenched by rain and pierced by cold in bad weather, pelted with cinders and begrimed with smoke when days were fine.

The first step toward creeping egalitarianism was taken when that dangerous liberal, William Gladstone, got a bill passed imposing a roof on third-class cars. Since then one thing has led to another, as was bound to happen, and now look—no third class at all!

The moral is—Come to think of it, what is the moral?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

President And Congress

The separation of powers, inherent in our Constitution, cannot possibly mean a conflict over powers between the President and Congress, and between the Congress and the Supreme Court. Yet such a conflict over powers has developed during the Eisenhower administration. A deliberate effort has been made to reduce Congress to a ratifying body, accepting instructions from the President, issued not directly by him but by his various assistants. His illnesses have had nothing to do with the growth of power among the White House staff. It is a theory of governmental operations arising out of the President's military experience and based on the assumption that what works in the Army can work in civil life. The rejection of such instructions over the foreign aid issue was the first assertion by the House of Representatives during this administration that it intends to function according to the Constitution. It was a major political set-back for President Eisenhower, but that is hardly as important, one way or the other, as that constitutional, orderly government should prevail.

The British parliamentary system functions more effectively, even in a period of crisis, than our division of power system under the Constitution. The French parliamentary system sometimes does not function at all because of proportional representation which lessens responsibility. The American method, when first designed, was an inevitable consequence of colonial history and of the fact that this is a federation of sovereign states, each state possessing all powers of government except such as are granted to the federal government by the Constitution. War and economic depressions encouraged public opinion to permit an expansion of federal authority which really resulted in an expansion of presidential authority.

No state may secede from the Union as a consequence of the War Between the States which was fought on that issue just as World War II was fought over the sanctity of treaties! On the other hand, the Constitution should protect the states from usurpation of power either by the President or the Congress. In a word, the states must depend upon the Supreme Court to defend their rights. Whenever the Supreme Court has exceeded its constitutional authority and has become a third house of Congress, legislating by judicial decision, the confusion in the land has become very tense. Such tension now exists in both South and North over the Negro question. Although some of the decisions of the present Supreme Court over Communist cases have been as much an invasion of the constitutional rights of the states, they did not stir much excitement.

Except in the South, the expansion of the authority of the Supreme Court during the past year made hardly any impression. In fact, the Slochower decision was probably the most significant invasion of local authority by the Supreme Court and, in the opinion of many lawyers, the court showed a lack of understanding of what is involved in their decision which is that a state legislature may not lay down the rules governing the employment of persons by the state or any agency thereof, such as a municipality or a Board of Education. If the Supreme Court is correct in this decision, what employment policy may a state, municipality or board of education adopt?

The executive has adopted an attitude toward Congress with regard to the provision of information which is obviously unsound and is, under any other system, untenable. How can Congress legislate without data and if the executive is to withhold data, either Congress must legislate on order of the executive or must withhold authorization for funds until the data is provided. It is usual, in the British system, for responsible ministers to answer questions in Parliament, although Sir Anthony Eden refused to answer questions about the frogman accused of spying on a Russian ship.

The illegal practise of some executive departments to keep unexpended balances, which under any correct bookkeeping system should be returned to the Treasury, is indicative of the executive distrust of Congress. The departments which withhold unexpended balances, often by incorrect accountancy methods, assume that such funds may be used for purposes other than congressional appropriations, which is clearly against the law.

This constitutional situation must sooner or later lead to adjustment or to a breakdown of constitutional government because any executive official can expand his powers without fear unless either the courts or the people object.

'Hey, Bulganin, I Think It's Getting A Little Pliable'

Court's Decision Helps Protect National Safety

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—It is rare indeed to find justices of the Supreme Court of the United States in their formal opinions giving incomplete quotations from the remarks of the President of the United States in order to support a rationalization of their own.

But that's what Justices Frankfurter and Douglas regrettably did in seeking to cite the President's speech of November 23, 1953, as an argument against the use of confidential information by government officials when they deal with security matters and refuse to disclose such data to the person accused.

No Obligation

The case itself was decided against that point of view by the Supreme Court this week with a 5-to-4 vote. Justices Harlan, Burton, Clark, Reed and Minton constituted the majority. They ruled that, when the attorney general was refusing to suspend the deportation of an alien who had admittedly been a member of the Communist party, this was a discretionary right granted by Congress. The majority said that, while there was a full hearing given, still it does not follow that a right exists to sit in on the making of "the ultimate decision—the exercise of discretion." This was the action by the attorney general in reviewing a lower board's judgment and in declining to suspend the deportation which had been ordered. The majority of the Supreme Court held that confidential information could influence the attorney general's final decision after the hearing and that there was no obligation on his part to disclose such information to the accused.

Justices Frankfurter, Black and Douglas and Chief Justice Warren, of the minority, however, argued that the accused has a right to be told of the sources of the confidential information. The FBI has been insisting for many years that to disclose sources would break down the whole system of detection and deprive the nation of safeguards against sabotage and subversion.

But Justices Frankfurter and Douglas declared, in their dissenting opinions, that President Eisenhower had taken a blanket position in favor of telling the accused all about the confidential information gathered against him. Mr. Eisenhower's speech of November 23, 1953, in Washington before the Anti-Defamation League, was quoted in both the dissenting opinions. Yet the remarks made by the President at his press conference of December 2, 1953—in which he was asked a specific question as to how that same speech was to be interpreted on security matters—were ignored entirely by both Justices Frankfurter and Douglas.

Mr. Eisenhower had been asked at the press conference whether what he said in his speech could be applied to proceedings in the executive branch of the government, as for instance, in security cases. The authorized quotation of the President's reply was printed in the press of December as follows:

Quotation Cited

"Well, the one point I must make clear, employment in the federal government is not a right of citizenship, it is a privilege; and if there is real justifiable belief and conviction that a person is a risk, you certainly cannot keep them in a delicate position, and in certain instances probably couldn't keep them at all.

"In other words, when you are looking into the fitness of an individual to work for the federal government, it is not the same as assassinating a man's character or charging him openly with being a spy. So, one thing I have insisted upon—that there be no effort in this security program to assassinate anybody's character, and to damn him forever as a spy or anything of that kind.

"But I do believe that there is some difference between determining whether or not a man should work for the federal government and charging any one of us here with a heinous crime of any kind."

This distinction—between the prosecution of a crime in the courts and the conduct of an administrative proceeding inside the executive branch of the government—was clear from a reading of the President's first comments before the Anti-Defamation League. For he was denouncing the theory that, through anonymous accusers, anyone could be "suddenly thrown into jail to rot there without charges and with no recourse to justice." The President had plainly indicated in his public speech that he had court proceedings in mind, for he added a reference to court procedure: "We have the Habeas Corpus Act, and we respect it."

Chief Justice Warren didn't quote either of Mr. Eisenhower's statements but held that "any hearing" in the administrative or judicial process which denies relief to an accused on the basis of "confidential information" is "no hearing."

Helps Protect National Safety

The chief justice is not impressed—nor is Justice Black—with the fact that in a "cold war" and in times of international danger, the law-enforcement branch of the government has to gather vital information from all kinds of sources and that the high officials of the executive branches must be trusted to use every effort to determine conscientiously whether the information is mere gossip or really damaging.

Often undercover agents who sit in on Communist meetings cannot be publicly revealed lest their future usefulness be impaired. The Communist underground is anxious to drive all FBI informants into the open and, if the view of the Supreme Court justices who would bar "confidential information" were to prevail, it would aid the Communist strategy. The 5-to-4 decision helps the FBI and the President to protect the national safety.

If You Drive An Automobile Drive With Your Head

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Highway accidents are steeped in statistics. One-fifth are said to be due to defects in automobiles. One-fifth are attributed to situations that obscure the driver's vision including snow, rain, sleet, shrubbery, buildings, embankments, and parked cars.

Glare from sunlight during the day and bright headlights at night also play a role. One out of every six fatal traffic accidents is caused by bad road conditions. But the toll from driving too fast tops them all.

These statistics were compiled to acquaint motorists with hazards but they do little to reduce the number of accidents. It all goes back to the driver who should know enough to slow down when visibility is poor and the roads are wet or dry. Defective brakes or wornout tires should make him doubly cautious.

Anyone with average intelligence knows it is dangerous to exceed reasonable speed limits and pass on hills or curves. Even a good driver becomes reckless when he drinks or is overtired, preoccupied, angry, or depressed. He may be taking medicine that affects his vision, alertness, or disposition.

A sedative the night before may make him drowsy. These factors are capable of altering the judgment of the best drivers.

What about those with physical handicaps? The driver's license is supposed to take care of this aspect but it has too many limitations to be of value. The visual requisites are an example.

Simple vision is required but no consideration is made of depth perception or night vision. Neither are the visual fields investigated; these are the images we see out of the corner of the eye when looking straight ahead.

Not long ago, I saw a licensed truck driver with arthritic hands who admitted his joints hurt so much he was forced to steer with one finger. Another man developed epilepsy after he obtained a license and almost killed his family when he had a convulsion and drove off the road.

Mishaps will be reduced when we make a detailed study of drivers who are invilved in accidents. In addition, a complete pychiatric study may be needed but it will be worth it to uncover accident prone and problem drivers. These are the chronic offenders who lack responsibility and resist authority.

Aggressive persons who are intolerant of the rights of others ought to be included. They drive with their horn instead of their head. Such persons should be cured of their mental quirks or kept off the road.

Nitroglycerin produces marked dilation but the effect is fleeting. Other allied preparations have longer lasting effects but do not induce half as much dilation. Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A consignment of new draftees (not necessarily Marines) was taken for a gruelling 10-mile-hike with full equipment strapped to their backs. Then the grizzled sergeant (a Phil Silvers type) announced, "Now we've got to march right back without stopping for food or rest. Any man not fit for that, take three paces forward."

The whole outfit promptly took three paces forward—all, that is, but one poor boot who stood rooted in his place. "So you're willin'," boomed the sarge. "I admire your guts!"

"Guts, my eye!" groaned the rookie. "I'm so pooped I can't even walk the three paces forward!"

Stephen Longstreet is still reeling from what a Hollywood producer's wife observed. "That Bill Holden is an actor after my own heart," she sighed. "A recognized star of the first rank, he still lives as simply as if her were a $2,000-a-week writer!"

American Press Was Remiss In Not Reporting On FDR's Health In 1944

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Most American newsmen, along with this writer, were remiss in not reporting the real health of President Roosevelt when he ran for re-election in 1944. Less than six months after that re-election he was dead.

There were some legitimate reasons why FDR's health was not reported, among them wartime censorship, the fact that we did not see him much during the war, plus a natural hesitancy to report the unpleasant possibility that a man may die in office.

But when the presidency of the United States influences, as it does, the peace and prosperity of the world, it is essential that American voters know the real facts of health, even beyond the medical bulletins, before they nominate or elect any man to the most important office in the world.

President Eisenhower himself has frankly expressed grave doubt about his health, even while the politicians, exactly as in Roosevelt's case, have been determined to make him run again.

Accordingly, here are some of the facts beyond the brief medical bulletins regarding the health of the man for whose speedy recovery the American people pray today.

Before the President was given his emergency operation it was necessary to administer a vitamin K, intravenously, in order to thicken his blood in preparation for the surgery. This was because he has been given an anti-coagulant (Dicumarol) ever since his heart attack in Denver, which makes the blood so thin that if care is not taken there is a danger that it may seep through the body tissues.

If the thinning effect of the anti-coagulant had not been counteracted there could have been serious, even fatal, bleeding during the operation.

Anti-Coagulants

The administration of Dicumarol at Denver, though it can be dangerous, is considered one of the most important factors in Ike's heart recovery. Dicumarol was first recommended by Col. Thomas Mattingly, the heart specialist of Walter Reed Hospital, who had recently been studying at the Cornell Medical School under Drs. W. T. Foley and Irving S. Wright, two of the nation's top experts on anti-coagulants.

Dr. Foley had worked in a Japanese prison camp during the war, where he found that the non-fatty prison diet almost completely eliminated heart disease.

Dr. Wright, who is past president of the American Heart Association and is in charge of the Vascular Research Section of the New York Hospital - Cornell Medical Center, recently gave significant testimony regarding anti-coagulants before the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee.

His testimony, though ignored by the press, throws somewhat disturbing light on President Eisenhower's health when it comes to recurrent attacks and the connection between heart and brain. Dr. Wright testified that there was a frequent relationship between a heart attack and hardening of the arteries in the brain.

At the beginning of his testimony, Dr. Wright noted that anti-coagulants have been used on thousands of heart patients.

"Included in these," he observed, "is the President of the United States."

Danger Of More Attacks

"Many who survive the first attack have a series of thromboembolic complications over the succeeding years," Dr. Wright declared. "In other words, a patient will have a cerebral thrombosis or stroke; thereafter he may have a coronary thrombosis or a closure of an artery in his leg, followed by another stroke; and this may be a continuing tragic history. And this again was emphasized by the mental health group. There is a relationship, a frequent relationship between thrombosis and arteriosclerosis of the brain and the heart."

In layman's language, what Dr. Wright said was that thrombosis victims may develop hardening of the brain arteries. This diminishes the victim's mental powers.

"Although there may be an interval of a few months or a year or two between the attacks," Wright testified, "the damage is going on. And it may also occur in the arteries of the leg or elsewhere. In many patients, this is a cumulative matter and a continuing tragic history to the patient and the patient's family."

At one point, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama asked: "Well, now, these anti-coagulants you only use where the patient has had some form of thrombosis?"

"No," replied Dr. Wright. "We use them mostly after they have had one or more attacks, because it is not possible at present to predict with accuracy whether they are going to have an attack in the future."

Dr. Wright acknowledged that administering anti-coagulants can be dangerous.

"An anti-coagulant should never be given except under careful laboratory and clinical supervision," he warned. "Because if a patient takes an excessive amount of anti-coagulants he may have hemorrhage."

Dr. Wright sounded one optimistic note when he said:

"Though the use of anti-coagulants for the acute episode is not completely established because of lack of time and study, there is strong evidence that following their episode these patients tend to live with fewer complications, and probably longer when they are on anti-coagulant therapy."

While the nation prays that the anti-coagulants will reduce the complications, the public must realize that the chance of complications does exist. Any doctor who says otherwise is mixing politics with medicine.

WASHINGTON—Capital officials are not at all happy about Yugoslav Marshal Tito's reconciliation with the Kremlin. However, their reasons are not based on a fear that Tito—and his army—will duck back into the Soviet orbit. What these officials don't like is what Tito's reconciliation will signify to other European countries, Russia's satellites as well as America's allies.

The Communist dictator of Yugoslavia has now proved it is possible—if not advantageous—to sign up in both cold war camps. Such nations as Italy and France, with their large numbers of Communists, may feel it is no longer necessary to pledge undivided allegiance to the West.

They may feel that they can play footsie with the Russians without losing their independence and without being swallowed into the Soviet system. After all, Tito is doing that.

As for the satellites, United States officials feel that Tito's new status means they can count on getting a little more freedom from their Russian masters — enough, anyway, to erase at least some of the pressure for self-liberation that exists within their borders. In other words, the satellites will still be well enough contained behind the iron curtain, but they won't be quite so unhappy about it as they have been.

Soil Bank

The "battle of the soil bank" has only just begun. Now that the administration has won the program it sought to cut down on production of six "basic" crops, it faces the test of acceptance by the farmers.

Most farm observers believe that prices paid to farmers for participating in the soil bank program will be high enough to attract a majority of cotton, corn, wheat, rice, peanut and tobacco growers.

The Agriculture Department has been cautious in not predicting how much more money the soil bank will help put in farm pockets this election year. However, the National Farmers Union, which has bitterly opposed many of the department's practices, says the new legislation "could" add $2 billion to farm incomes in 1956.

The 700,000-member farm organization adds, however, that the income boost will materialize only if the farm bill is "carried out effectively and conscientiously."

Many agriculture officials believe the union figure is too high. One such government expect said privately that the union "only mentioned the figure to give it something to blame the administration for at the end of the year."

Dark Horse

Political observers are convinced that New York City's Mayor Robert F. Wagner rather than Gov. Averell Harriman has the brightest political future among New Yorkers.

They concede that Harriman is in the spotlight this year because of his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination, but they believe that by 1960 Wagner well could be the most powerful political figure in the state.

Wagner, the son of the late, famed senator, is considered to have made an impressive record as mayor of the nation's largest city and probably will be able to win a Senate seat or the governorship whenever he wants to move up the ladder.

There is even a possibility that Wagner could wind up being the Democratic vice president nominee this year provided Harriman does not head the ticket.

Veep Prospects

Incidentally, political experts are keeping a closer than usual watch this year on vice presidential prospects. Development of an outstanding No. 2 man could give a tip-off on the choice for president.

Usually, the presidential nominee hand-picks his running mate on the basis of geography and other considerations. However, this year, the situation may be quite different for the Democrats.

The vice presidential possibility with the widest popular support could have a strong voice in determining who will head the ticket. The Democrats are seeking a big vote-getter for vice president to strengthen their ticket.

Since you can't have the two nominees from the same state, development of Tennessee's Gov. Frank Clement, for example, might affect the presidential ambitions of Tennessee's Senator Estes Kefauver adversely. The same, of course, goes for Wagner and Harriman in New York.

One Class Less In Great Britain

Although the British Labor party is opposed to the privileges and prerogatives of the aristocracy, the Laborites never got round to abolishing any part of the class system on railroad trains. Now the Conservatives have stolen some of their egalitarian thunder. There is no longer any third class on British trains.

Is this progress or reaction? It turns the clock back to the early 19th Century, since there was no third class then, either. But the reason is vastly different. In those days the people of the lower class were so poor, most of them, that they couldn't afford to ride on trains. Today most of them can afford to travel second class, thank you.

The rich (or the aristocracy, at any rate) are getting poorer and the poor are getting richer, then. That's not quite what Marx predicted, though he did mention that Britain and a few other countries might possibly manage to reach that stage without a Communist revolution.

In his lifetime there had been third-class flatcars in which the poor rode in roofless discomfort drenched by rain and pierced by cold in bad weather, pelted with cinders and begrimed with smoke when days were fine.

The first step toward creeping egalitarianism was taken when that dangerous liberal, William Gladstone, got a bill passed imposing a roof on third-class cars. Since then one thing has led to another, as was bound to happen, and now look—no third class at all!

These Days

President And Congress

The separation of powers, inherent in our Constitution, cannot possibly mean a conflict over powers between the President and Congress, and between the Congress and the Supreme Court. Yet such a conflict over powers has developed during the Eisenhower administration. A deliberate effort has been made to reduce Congress to a ratifying body, accepting instructions from the President, issued not directly by him but by his various assistants. His illnesses have had nothing to do with the growth of power among the White House staff. It is a theory of governmental operations arising out of the President's military experience and based on the assumption that what works in the Army can work in civil life. The rejection of such instructions over the foreign aid issue was the first assertion by the House of Representatives during this administration that it intends to function according to the Constitution. It was a major political set-back for President Eisenhower, but that is hardly as important, one way or the other, as that constitutional, orderly government should prevail.

The British parliamentary system functions more effectively, even in a period of crisis, than our division of power system under the Constitution. The French parliamentary system sometimes does not function at all because of proportional representation which lessens responsibility. The American method, when first designed, was an inevitable consequence of colonial history and of the fact that this is a federation of sovereign states, each state possessing all powers of government except such as are granted to the federal government by the Constitution. War and economic depressions encouraged public opinion to permit an expansion of federal authority which really resulted in an expansion of presidential authority.

No state may secede from the Union as a consequence of the War Between the States which was fought on that issue just as World War II was fought over the sanctity of treaties! On the other hand, the Constitution should protect the states from usurpation of power either by the President or the Congress. In a word, the states must depend upon the Supreme Court to defend their rights. Whenever the Supreme Court has exceeded its constitutional authority and has become a third house of Congress, legislating by judicial decision, the confusion in the land has become very tense. Such tension now exists in both South and North over the Negro question. Although some of the decisions of the present Supreme Court over Communist cases have been as much an invasion of the constitutional rights of the states, they did not stir much excitement.

Except in the South, the expansion of the authority of the Supreme Court during the past year made hardly any impression. In fact, the Slochower decision was probably the most significant invasion of local authority by the Supreme Court and, in the opinion of many lawyers, the court showed a lack of understanding of what is involved in their decision which is that a state legislature may not lay down the rules governing the employment of persons by the state or any agency thereof, such as a municipality or a Board of Education. If the Supreme Court is correct in this decision, what employment policy may a state, municipality or board of education adopt?

The executive has adopted an attitude toward Congress with regard to the provision of information which is obviously unsound and is, under any other system, untenable. How can Congress legislate without data and if the executive is to withhold data, either Congress must legislate on order of the executive or must withhold authorization for funds until the data is provided. It is usual, in the British system, for responsible ministers to answer questions in Parliament, although Sir Anthony Eden refused to answer questions about the frogman accused of spying on a Russian ship.

The illegal practise of some executive departments to keep unexpended balances, which under any correct bookkeeping system should be returned to the Treasury, is indicative of the executive distrust of Congress. The departments which withhold unexpended balances, often by incorrect accountancy methods, assume that such funds may be used for purposes other than congressional appropriations, which is clearly against the law.

This constitutional situation must sooner or later lead to adjustment or to a breakdown of constitutional government because any executive official can expand his powers without fear unless either the courts or the people object.

Court's Decision Helps Protect National Safety

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—It is rare indeed to find justices of the Supreme Court of the United States in their formal opinions giving incomplete quotations from the remarks of the President of the United States in order to support a rationalization of their own.

But that's what Justices Frankfurter and Douglas regrettably did in seeking to cite the President's speech of November 23, 1953, as an argument against the use of confidential information by government officials when they deal with security matters and refuse to disclose such data to the person accused.

No Obligation

The case itself was decided against that point of view by the Supreme Court this week with a 5-to-4 vote. Justices Harlan, Burton, Clark, Reed and Minton constituted the majority. They ruled that, when the attorney general was refusing to suspend the deportation of an alien who had admittedly been a member of the Communist party, this was a discretionary right granted by Congress. The majority said that, while there was a full hearing given, still it does not follow that a right exists to sit in on the making of "the ultimate decision—the exercise of discretion." This was the action by the attorney general in reviewing a lower board's judgment and in declining to suspend the deportation which had been ordered. The majority of the Supreme Court held that confidential information could influence the attorney general's final decision after the hearing and that there was no obligation on his part to disclose such information to the accused.

Justices Frankfurter, Black and Douglas and Chief Justice Warren, of the minority, however, argued that the accused has a right to be told of the sources of the confidential information. The FBI has been insisting for many years that to disclose sources would break down the whole system of detection and deprive the nation of safeguards against sabotage and subversion.

But Justices Frankfurter and Douglas declared, in their dissenting opinions, that President Eisenhower had taken a blanket position in favor of telling the accused all about the confidential information gathered against him. Mr. Eisenhower's speech of November 23, 1953, in Washington before the Anti-Defamation League, was quoted in both the dissenting opinions. Yet the remarks made by the President at his press conference of December 2, 1953—in which he was asked a specific question as to how that same speech was to be interpreted on security matters—were ignored entirely by both Justices Frankfurter and Douglas.

Mr. Eisenhower had been asked at the press conference whether what he said in his speech could be applied to proceedings in the executive branch of the government, as for instance, in security cases. The authorized quotation of the President's reply was printed in the press of December as follows:

Quotation Cited

"Well, the one point I must make clear, employment in the federal government is not a right of citizenship, it is a privilege; and if there is real justifiable belief and conviction that a person is a risk, you certainly cannot keep them in a delicate position, and in certain instances probably couldn't keep them at all.

"In other words, when you are looking into the fitness of an individual to work for the federal government, it is not the same as assassinating a man's character or charging him openly with being a spy. So, one thing I have insisted upon—that there be no effort in this security program to assassinate anybody's character, and to damn him forever as a spy or anything of that kind.

"But I do believe that there is some difference between determining whether or not a man should work for the federal government and charging any one of us here with a heinous crime of any kind."

This distinction—between the prosecution of a crime in the courts and the conduct of an administrative proceeding inside the executive branch of the government—was clear from a reading of the President's first comments before the Anti-Defamation League. For he was denouncing the theory that, through anonymous accusers, anyone could be "suddenly thrown into jail to rot there without charges and with no recourse to justice." The President had plainly indicated in his public speech that he had court proceedings in mind, for he added a reference to court procedure: "We have the Habeas Corpus Act, and we respect it."

Chief Justice Warren didn't quote either of Mr. Eisenhower's statements but held that "any hearing" in the administrative or judicial process which denies relief to an accused on the basis of "confidential information" is "no hearing."

Helps Protect National Safety

The chief justice is not impressed—nor is Justice Black—with the fact that in a "cold war" and in times of international danger, the law-enforcement branch of the government has to gather vital information from all kinds of sources and that the high officials of the executive branches must be trusted to use every effort to determine conscientiously whether the information is mere gossip or really damaging.

Often undercover agents who sit in on Communist meetings cannot be publicly revealed lest their future usefulness be impaired. The Communist underground is anxious to drive all FBI informants into the open and, if the view of the Supreme Court justices who would bar "confidential information" were to prevail, it would aid the Communist strategy. The 5-to-4 decision helps the FBI and the President to protect the national safety.

If You Drive An Automobile Drive With Your Head

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Highway accidents are steeped in statistics. One-fifth are said to be due to defects in automobiles. One-fifth are attributed to situations that obscure the driver's vision including snow, rain, sleet, shrubbery, buildings, embankments, and parked cars.

Glare from sunlight during the day and bright headlights at night also play a role. One out of every six fatal traffic accidents is caused by bad road conditions. But the toll from driving too fast tops them all.

These statistics were compiled to acquaint motorists with hazards but they do little to reduce the number of accidents. It all goes back to the driver who should know enough to slow down when visibility is poor and the roads are wet or dry. Defective brakes or wornout tires should make him doubly cautious.

Anyone with average intelligence knows it is dangerous to exceed reasonable speed limits and pass on hills or curves. Even a good driver becomes reckless when he drinks or is overtired, preoccupied, angry, or depressed. He may be taking medicine that affects his vision, alertness, or disposition.

A sedative the night before may make him drowsy. These factors are capable of altering the judgment of the best drivers.

What about those with physical handicaps? The driver's license is supposed to take care of this aspect but it has too many limitations to be of value. The visual requisites are an example.

Simple vision is required but no consideration is made of depth perception or night vision. Neither are the visual fields investigated; these are the images we see out of the corner of the eye when looking straight ahead.

Not long ago, I saw a licensed truck driver with arthritic hands who admitted his joints hurt so much he was forced to steer with one finger. Another man developed epilepsy after he obtained a license and almost killed his family when he had a convulsion and drove off the road.

Mishaps will be reduced when we make a detailed study of drivers who are invilved in accidents. In addition, a complete pychiatric study may be needed but it will be worth it to uncover accident prone and problem drivers. These are the chronic offenders who lack responsibility and resist authority.

Aggressive persons who are intolerant of the rights of others ought to be included. They drive with their horn instead of their head. Such persons should be cured of their mental quirks or kept off the road.

OPENED ARTERIES

T. M. writes: Are medicines effective in keeping open the blood vessels going to the heart?

REPLY

Nitroglycerin produces marked dilation but the effect is fleeting. Other allied preparations have longer lasting effects but do not induce half as much dilation. Once these arteries become plugged (coronary thrombosis), no medication will remove the obstruction. Dicoumarol prevents the clot from extending or enlarging.

TRAILER FOR ARTHRITIC

Yes, but if the trailer is parked in a damp region, pain and stiffness might be aggravated.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A consignment of new draftees (not necessarily Marines) was taken for a gruelling 10-mile-hike with full equipment strapped to their backs. Then the grizzled sergeant (a Phil Silvers type) announced, "Now we've got to march right back without stopping for food or rest. Any man not fit for that, take three paces forward."

The whole outfit promptly took three paces forward—all, that is, but one poor boot who stood rooted in his place. "So you're willin'," boomed the sarge. "I admire your guts!"

"Guts, my eye!" groaned the rookie. "I'm so pooped I can't even walk the three paces forward!"

Stephen Longstreet is still reeling from what a Hollywood producer's wife observed. "That Bill Holden is an actor after my own heart," she sighed. "A recognized star of the first rank, he still lives as simply as if her were a $2,000-a-week writer!"

Folk Festival Stars Pa. Dutch Cooks

KUTZTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Famous cooks of the Pennsylvania Dutch country are polishing up their recipes in preparation for the annual Dutch Folk Festival here, when visitors will sample the traditional mouth-watering dishes of the area.

Looking forward to the gastronomic treat are members of the U. S. Navy, which will have a day all its own at the festival this year, when a Distelfink Battalion will be sworn in by a high-ranking Navy official as one of the high points of the festival, which runs from July 4 through July 8.

Two new features have been added to this year's festival, supplementing the already full schedule of activities which includes all phases of Dutch folklore and life.

Dr. Alfred Shoemaker, festival director, says this year for the first time there will be displays of Plain Dutch garb as contrasted with Gay Dutch dress, and an exhibit of hats and bonnets worn by different groups in the Dutch country.

The Navy's part in the festival falls on July 7, Distelfink Day. During that day, as the result of an elimination shoofly pie baking contest, Mother Distelfink will be chosen to represent the youths.

Also on hand for the ceremonies will be a band from the U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., and the NAVCAD Choir, composed of Naval Aviation Cadets from Pensacola, Fla., the leading choir of the armed forces.

But the Navy ceremonies will be only one phase of the famous festival, which last year drew more than 50,000 persons from all the states and 15 countries to the Kutztown Fairgrounds.

Among the attractions will be demonstrations of old time farm equipment and a two-hour folk pageant depicting Pennsylvania Dutch farm life. And throughout the festival craftsmen such as glass blowers and wagon wrights will demonstrate their skills.

But the high point of the festival is food.

From the moment the visitor steps onto the grounds, tantalizing aromas and delicious food will tempt him every step of the way, because Pennsylvania Dutch cookery is known nationwide for its distinctive dishes.

A typical meal served on the festival grounds may consist of rivvel soup (made with milk and minute lumps of wheat flour;) schnitz un gnepp (dried cut apples and dumplings stewed in ham broth and served with the ham;) a bit of garnish from the seven sours and, topping the meal, one of the seven sweets.

Dr. Shoemaker, in order to cope with the food problem arising each year from the huge crowds, has invited all church and grange groups to serve specialty dishes at the festival, which is sponsored by the folklore center of Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.

FUNNEL CAKE—Mrs. Joseph Lambert, of Kutztown, Pa., makes a traditional Dutch treat known as dretcher koocha, or funnel cake, in preparation for Pennsylvania Dutch Festival.

Pork With Savory Sauce

Many recipes must be followed exactly to assure a successful product. In the following recipe for sliced pork with savory sauce, however, you can make many changes and still have satisfactory results.

Use as large a piece of pork as you like for this dish, allowing 3 servings per pound of boneless meat. Serve the sauce either hot or cold with slices of any kind of roast pork. For an hors d'oeuvres tray, serve the piquant sauce for dunking small pieces of the meat.

CHINESE SWEET SOUR PORK

Salt
2 slivers garlic
½ cup soy sauce
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon brown sugar

Place pork in a large pan; add enough cold water to cover and 2 teaspoons salt. Cover and simmer 3 hours or until meat is tender. Remove meat from both and slice. (Chill broth, skim off fat, and save for soup or seasoning later.) For sauce, mash garlic with ½ teaspoon salt; add soy sauce, vinegar and brown sugar. Serve sauce with the slices of cooked meat. 6 to 8 servings.

Easy On Budget, Pork Cuts Liked

Budget-wise homemakers will certainly be interested in economy meat cuts—meat cuts that can make that food budget stretch.

The butt end or portion of the ham represents such an economy pork cut.

Reba Staggs, meat expert suggests you ask the local meat dealer to divide this cut into the boneless cushion piece and the portion containing the leg bone.

The portion of the ham butt containing the bone may be used for cooking with vegetables, boned and diced for casseroles or cooked, boned and diced for cooked ham dishes. The boneless section of the butt portion is actually the piece de resistance. This piece may be baked whole or sliced for broiling or panbroiling. Even though the butt portion of the ham is one of the thriftier cuts of pork, correctly prepared it becomes an eye-appealing and appetizing main dish.

Two meals from one meat cut—try it the next time you're interested in a real meat bargain.

Porterhouse Steak For Father's Day

Out of the kitchen and into the dining room comes the best gift Dad could wish for on Father's Day. It's done to perfection, juicy Porterhouse steak, right out of the broiler and placed before the guest of honor, Dad.

Menu

Minted Fruit Cup
Porterhouse Steak
French Fried Potatoes
Buttered Broccoli
Tomato-Cottage Cheese Salad
Cloverleaf Rolls
Butter or Margarine
Lemon Layer Cake
Coffee Tea Milk

There's never a dull appetite around the house when steak is scheduled for the menu. Since June 17th is Father's Day, the family is especially conscious of his likes and dislikes.

Chances are steak ranks high on the list of Dad's favorites, so honor him this day with his choice, perhaps a club steak, porterhouse or sirloin.

Reba Staggs, meat expert, maintains that it is important to buy and cook meat correctly for full-flavor satisfaction.

Club steaks are a convenient meat cut for a Father's Day treat since each is usually considered an individual serving. Porterhouse and T-bone steaks are suitable for serving 2 to 3 persons, and a sirloin steak is adequate for 4 to 6 persons depending on the thickness.

Broiling Produces Juciness

The words "steaks" and "broiling" are almost synonymous. Porterhouse, club, T-bone, tenderloin and other tender steaks cut from ¾ to 1 inch thick may be pan broiled. But the steaks cut from 1 to 2 inches thick are usually broiled. In either case, the procedure employed is a dry heat method of meat cookery.

Whether you like steaks rare, medium or well-done, the doneness depends on the length of cooking time.

To broil a steak cut 1 to 2 inches thick, simply set your range regulator to broil and place the steak on the broiler rack so the top of a 1-inch steak is 2 inches from the heat and a 2-inch steak is 3 inches from the heat. When one side is browned, season with salt and pepper, turn and finish cooking on the second side.

Steaks cut 1 inch thick require 18 to 20 minutes for rare steak and 20 to 25 minutes for medium-done steak. Steaks cut 2 inches thick will need 35 to 45 minutes for medium-done steak.

Breakfast Bread

A warm, sunshiny day cheers us all, but an attractively served, delicious breakfast assures a pleasant start for our day. For a slightly different first meal, serve cups of hot consomme, crisp pan-fried bacon, banana nut bread with butter, and coffee or milk. The light, soft texture of the bread in the following recipe comes from using lard as the shortening. There is just a whisper of lemon flavor in it.

BANANA NUT BREAD

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup lard
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup mashed bananas (3 medium bananas)
½ teaspoon lemon extract
½ cup chopped nuts

Shift flour with baking powder, and salt. Cream lard and sugar; add well-beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with bananas. Add lemon extract and nuts and mix well. Pour into a greased loaf pan (8½ by 4½ by 2 inches) and bake in a 350° F. oven 1 hour. Cool 10 minutes and turn out on a rack. 1 loaf.

Canned Meat Highlights Shower

The surprised bride-to-be has just arrived, "A shower for me?"

The hostess has planned carefully. Her menu was planned with the ladies in mind, naturally. The main highlight of this shower luncheon table is Luncheon Meat En Brochette. The luncheon meat is cubed and alternated with pineapple chunks and pitted cooked prunes on metal skewers, and broiled.

Home economists suggest luncheon meat because of its delicious flavor and its convenient package (a 12-ounce can). It can be easily sliced which permits the homemaker to buy the exact amount with no leftovers.

Luncheon Meat En Brochette

1 12-ounce can luncheon meat
12 cooked prunes, pitted
12 pineapple chunks
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
6 maraschino cherries, if desired
6 skewers, metal

Cut luncheon meat into 1-inch squares. Thread the squares of luncheon meat, pineapple, luncheon meat and cooked prunes on a metal skewer, repeating until skewer is filled. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Place on broiler rack and insert rack and pan so top surface of meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Broil until meat is lightly browned on one side, turn, continue broiling until heated through. Serve with a maraschino cherry at end of each skewer, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

Canned Meats In Salads

A cool salad, either a crisp, tossed salad or a molded gelatin salad, could be the main course on a warm spring day. And a salad can be made hearty for even the most ravenous appetites by adding meat to the ingredients. Chilled canned meats can be cut into strips, diced or cubed, and added to salad to make it more filling.

Canned luncheon meat is a tasty addition, and dried beef, ham, Vienna sausage, corned beef, frankfurters, and tongue are also salad-worthy meats. Canned meats add flavor to potato, macaroni, and bean salads, too.

Memo On Office Picnic

No doubt about it, if the next flip of the office calendar shows a scheduled date for a department or company picnic, someone has some planning to do.

To please everyone, the food committee will select foods popular with all and those that require a minimum of preparation or which can be purchased ready-to-eat. Sure to win a popular vote will be CHILI 'BURGERS; perfect for out-of-hand eating. Serve the thick chili between bakers' buns, ideal for holding a generous serving. Chili is not difficult to make for a crowd, particularly if one has a good quantity recipe that takes the guess work out of the cooking. Round out the menu with potato chips, cole slaw, relishes, soft drinks and ice cream dixie cups and, if convenient, coffee for those who may wish it. This chili could be made in advance by the committee, to be reheated at the picnic.

Chili 'Burgers

¼ cup cooking oil or melted shortening
1 cup onion, finely chopped
2 quarts beef, ground
5 cups tomato puree
¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons chili powder
1½ teaspoons celery salt
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
1½ teaspoons mace
½ teaspoon pepper
1 cup prepared mustard
¼ cup vinegar
9 cups, cooked kidney beans, drained
48 sandwich buns, sliced

Use two 15-inch skillets, dividing the ingredients evenly between the skillets as they are added. Put shortening into hot skillets and add onions and beef, using a fork to break up the meat. Saute until well browned. Combine tomato puree, sugar, salt, chili powder, celery salt, cinnamon, mace, pepper, mustard and vinegar. Mix well. Divide tomato mixture and kidney beans, add to meat. Heat all ingredients together in the skillets and cover, or bake at 350°F. for 15 minutes.

To serve: Place hot Chili 'Burger mixture between bun halves. Long standing will reduce number of portions.

Hawaiian Salad For Spring Lunch

Let canned luncheon meat be the hub of the meal in the next spring luncheon you prepare.

Luncheon meat is so easy to use and so conveniently packed in 12-ounce cans. It can be sliced, diced or ground for casserole dishes. Sliced, it's just right to create variety in spring lunch boxes and it may be cut into thin strips, combined with greens and fruit and served as a hearty main meat salad dish.

Hawaiian Salad

1 12-ounce can luncheon meat, cut into thin strips
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 cup mayonnaise
2 cups shredded cabbage
2 cups coarsely diced celery
¼ cup minced green pepper
2 cups fresh cubed pineapple or 1 No. 303 can pineapple, drained and cubed

Blend vinegar and horseradish with mayonnaise. Toss with remaining ingredients. Serve in lettuce-lined salad bowls. Yield: 6 servings.

Deep-Fat Frying

In deep-fat frying, the temperature of the lard should usually be 350 degrees F. to 365 degrees F.

Steak Feast For Father's Day

Want to make a hit on Father's Day? Then serve the "man of the family" steak. Give it to him early in the morning and watch him smile all day.

Thin cut club, rib, T-bone and even sirloin steaks are ideal for breakfast service, for the meat cooks quickly when pan-broiled atop the range.

For Father's Day, June 17, plan a delicious breakfast around beef steak. Choose club steaks, rib steaks, or strip steaks so that each "breakfaster" has his own, then pan-broil the meat until juicy and brown. Serve the meat with sauteed pineapple chunks, prepared by heating the pineapple in the drippings from the steaks. Add hot toast or "Pop's" favorite rolls and plenty of hot coffee.

A quartet of pan-broiled club steaks, garnished with sauteed pineapple chunks is the feature of this breakfast. Start with fruit juice, and add hot toast and lots of hot coffee, for a breakfast never to be forgotten.

To panbroil steaks, follow these directions:

1. Choose tender beef steaks and have them cut ½ to ¾ inch in thickness. Thicker steaks are best when broiled.

2. Preheat a heavy skillet and rub lightly with fat. If you wish, cut a little piece of fat from the edge of the meat to grease the hot skillet. (The fat prevents meat from sticking to the hot pan.)

3. Place steaks in hot greased skillet and brown on one side. Turn and brown the other side. Reduce heat and turn steaks as often as necessary to cook evenly.

4. Test for doneness by cutting a slit next to the bone with a sharp knife. When the meat is cooked to the preferred doneness, remove from the pan.

5. Season pan-broiled steaks after removal from cooking pan and serve immediately.

(If steaks chosen for pan-broiling yield a quantity of drippings during cooking, pour off fat as it accumulates to avoid frying the meat.)

Minute steaks—the less tender beef steaks which have been scored by a special machine to cut the fibers and thus make the meat more tender—may be prepared by pan-broiling. As their name suggests, minute steaks cook in less time—one to two minutes per side.

Ground beef patties, ¼ to ½ inch thick, also may be cooked by pan-broiling.

Frozen steaks—thin-cut steaks, commercially or home frozen, may be cooked by pan-broiling without thawing. Follow package directions or the general directions for pan-broiling steaks.

Menus featuring steak for breakfast may be as simple or hearty as the occasion warrants:

Summer Idea For Breakfast Enthusiasts

Sunday morning — that's the time to enjoy a breakfast that is a breakfast.

What a feast! Fresh pineapple, scrambled eggs and pork sausage links join with the biggest treat, Bohemian Coffee Cake to make a hearty day-time beginner.

Actually the coffee cake is like a rich quick bread. The simplest meal has an air of distinction when freshly baked quick breads are on the menu.

A good quick bread requires a good shortening and lard is an ideal one to use. The ease with which lard can be used is encouraging to the homemaker who has difficulties in preparing tender, flaky baked products.

Bohemian Coffee Cake

3 cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup white sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup lard
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped nut meats
1 cup sour milk
1 teaspoon soda

Line a 9 x 12-inch pan with waxed paper. Sift together dry ingredients, add brown sugar. Cut lard into mixture until crumb resembles corn meal. Take out ¼ cup of this mixture for topping. Add dates and nut meats. Dissolve soda in sour milk and add to cake mixture. Mix well. Spread in baking pan. Sprinkle topping on cake. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 to 40 minutes.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

To help a teen-age skin get really clean wash your face with a grainy cleanser. After rinsing, pat an astringent on an oily skin or smooth a little skin oil into a dry or normal skin.

Troubled Skin?

Blemished skin often will clear up quickly if you eat correctly. For the treatment must usually be internal as well as external. Eat plenty of fresh fruits, vegetables, and lean meats, and drink lots of water between meals.

Avoid fried or spicy foods, candy, ice cream, chocolates, nuts, peanut butter, and soft drinks. If you get plenty of sleep and outdoor exercises — and correct faulty elimination, your chances of a clear complexion are almost certain.

However, if your skin doesn't improve, or, if you are an owner of badly blemished complexion, it is best to see a skin doctor for specialized care.

I can't stress too strongly the importance of keeping your skin immaculately clean. Usually skin blemishes arise from excessive oiliness which clogs the pores, leads to pimples and blackheads. This is all caused by hormone imbalance which is characteristic of teen-age. Daily cleansings are a must. Lather a good soap and massage your face with your fingertips. Rinse thoroughly with cold water. If your skin is very oily, do this at least three times a day — otherwise morning and night. Use cleansing grains two or three times a week. Rinse off with tepid water. This can be followed by a medicated cream applied thinly to sooth the skin and to use as a cover-up for blackheads and for coarse sections of the skin showing conspicuous pores. And before going out daub a hygienic lotion onto the bad spots that is specially tinted to make them not only less conspicuous. But, to help dry and heal them at the same time.

Tomorrow—Vital vitamins.

Veal Seasonings

Great chefs, both in our country and abroad, for years have created culinary masterpieces with veal. Their success in cooking the meat depended on two principles: slow cooking of veal in moist heat, and the addition of interesting seasonings—spices, herbs, and flavorful foods.

Because of its mild flavor, veal takes kindly to a great variety of seasoning. A few dashes of a spice — clove, curry, marjoram, mustard, paprika, or thyme — give pleasing flavor to the meat. Other good seasoners are sour cream, lemon juice, parsley, and caraway seeds. Sometimes veal cutlets and steaks are cooked in a cream of mushroom or tomato soup and served with a fresh seasonable vegetable such as asparagus, potatoes, peas, or tender young greens.

There are more than 20,000 kinds of insects in Michigan.

1 8-ounce package lasagna noodles, cooked according to package directions
¾ pound Ricotta cheese or large curd cottage cheese
½ pound Mozzarella cheese, sliced
½ cup grated Romano or Parmesan cheese

Cook onions and garlic in fat until soft and yellow; push to side of pan, add meat, and continue cooking until meat is thoroughly browned. Add salt, pepper, tomatoes, tomato paste, and water. Simmer until thickened, about 2 hours. Arrange one-third of the cooked noodles in a greased baking pan, 13 by 9½ by 2 inches. Top with one-third each, Mozzarella, Ricotta, and meat sauce. Repeat procedure twice. Sprinkle Romano or Parmesan over top layer. Bake at 350 degrees F. 30 minutes. Cut in squares to serve. 8 servings.

In Sweden, they're called kottbullar; in Germany, they are known as fleisch-klosse; in Italy, they're referred to as polpette, and in English speaking countries, they're known as meat balls.

Actually, there are as many recipes for meat balls as cooks preparing them, and each version varies slightly. Sometimes all beef is used; sometimes pork and/or veal is mixed with the beef.

Belgian meat balls, occasionally made of cooked meat by the economical Belgian housewife, are cooked in stock with onions, potatoes, and mixed herbs. Here's the recipe for the Belgian one-dish meal:

BELGIAN MEAT BALLS

2 cups bread cubes (about 2½ slices)
½ cup milk
2 green onions, chopped, including tops
⅓ cup fat
2 pounds ground beef
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
3 eggs, separated
1 quart bouillon, about
24 pickling or pearl onions
Flour
8 small potatoes
Bouquet garni
Chopped parsley

Soak bread cubes in milk. Brown onions in 2 tablespoons fat, then mix with beef, bread, salt, pepper, nutmeg, lightly beaten egg yolks and ⅓ cup bouillon. Fold stiffly beaten egg whites into mixture. Shape into balls, 1 inch in diameter, and roll in flour. Brown in remaining fat. Add bouillon to cover, then add onions, potatoes, bouquet garni made by tying in a cheesecloth bag, 1 sprig parsley, ½ teaspoon thyme, 1 bay leaf, 10 peppercorns, and 1 clove garlic, sliced. Cover and simmer until potatoes are tender, about 30 minutes. Discard bouquet garni, pour into serving dish and sprinkle with chopped parsley. 8 servings.

Green Bean Crunchies

1 can (1 lb.) French Style Green Beans
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
½ cup onion, minced
½ cup celery, chopped
½ cup walnuts, chopped

Drain liquid from the Beans. Measure and heat. Dissolve lemon gelatin in hot liquid. Add enough cold water to bring the total of the liquid to 2 cups (about 1½ cups water will be needed).

Dissolve unflavored gelatin in 4 tablespoons cold water and add to lemon gelatin. Cool until slightly thickened. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Makes six or seven salads.

WASHINGTON — The pending postal rate increase measure should be debated on its merits and not passed or rejected on the basis of political expediency. The bill is a major step in the direction of bringing postal receipts somewhere near the cost of carrying the mail.

Early Congresses recognized that the transmission of letters for the public was a service of the government and that the cost should be paid by the individual using the postal system. We have traveled a long way from this pay-as-you-go concept. Our postal deficit has grown to the point where it is costing the taxpayers almost a thousand dollars a minute to make up the difference between postal receipts and the cost of carrying the mail.

The House Interior Committee is currently holding hearings on the advisability of a coal research program. I have a bill before the Congress which would authorize the secretary of the interior to inaugurate a coal research and development program. It would also provide for a study of methods of protecting mines not now in use. My bill would provide for an immediate program without waiting for a House committee review.

I am very pleased with the progress being made on the Little Youghiogheny watershed project. I am informed that a final plan has been agreed to by the local sponsoring organizations and the Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.

One of the major pieces of legistion relating to the social and mental health of the citizens of the District of Columbia is the narcotic control bill. I am heartily in accord with the purposes of the act. On the matter of penalties, I would like to quote my friend, Rep. Edward T. Miller, who observed "It is the high probability of arrest, trial, and conviction" that makes the would-be offender pause. Strict enforcement of law is a prime requirement in dealing with antisocial behavior in any community.

Further evidence of growth in the Sixth Maryland District is the notice from the Federal Communications Commission that they have accepted and filed the application of Richard F. Lewis Jr., of Frostburg for a license to operate a radio station there.

Spanish Olive Oil For The Barbecue

Barbecued meats have a tendency to dry out, particularly when the fire is too hot. To make sure that the meat will sear well and retain all its juices, brush steaks and chops with olive oil before placing them over the coals.

Liquid Miracle! No washday powder ever made can give you the concentrated washing power of new blue instant liquid Wisk

The instant Wisk hits water, it bursts into millions of wet, live, liquid suds, liquid suds with concentrated washing power that get out dirt and stains dry, lazy, powder suds can't even budge.

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

LIQUID MIRACLE! WISK washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash!

LIQUID MIRACLE! WISK removes more stains than any powder! Wet stain with water. Spread WISK directly on stain. Put in machine with rest of wash. WISK gets everything clean.

LIQUID MIRACLE! WISK is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made! WISK is safe as only a liquid can be. Safe for delicate fabrics, colors. Safe for hands. And no sneezes!

New, blue WISK is different from anything you ever tried. In the first place, it is a liquid you pour into your washer. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And does it better, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics – safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH

Never again need you find a gravy spot left in a just-washed napkin, or a lipstick stain in a hand towel, or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. Safely, but thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for shirt collars and cuffs! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so clean it even smells clean.

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

WISK does the toughest jobs quicker, easier, more safely than products designed for these tasks. Now you can throw away those harsh and dangerous chemicals!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS!

And what a blessing WISK is! It does away with "washday hay fever"... with clumsy, soggy boxes . . . with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with all those boxes and bottles you used to need.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED!

We've promised a good deal for WISK and we mean it. In fact, we guarantee it! If you don't agree that WISK is the best detergent you've ever used – not just as good, but the BEST! – we at Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage!

Wise mothers know that the best way to prevent undesirable behavior is to set the stage so that it is easier to be good! It is pretty hard to skip or skimp breakfast when an attractive, cool, refreshing breakfast is set before one.

Research has demonstrated that young and old alike not only feel better but perform better, especially in the late morning hours, after eating a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

Crisp, crunchy, ready-to-eat breakfast cereals combined with cold milk and fresh fruits make a tempting main dish for a hot weather breakfast. Variety is so easy with the more than two dozen kinds of breakfast cereals available at your grocer.

Vary the type of breakfast service—use cool-looking straw or plastic place mats with a centerpiece of cool, green leaves. The next morning set the table buffet style with a choice of several different kinds of breakfast cereals and fresh fruit. Another variation is to set individual trays which can be carried to the coolest spot to be found.

It is hard to beat the appetite appeal and the nutritional contribution of a summer breakfast built around a main dish of cool, refreshing, ready-to-eat breakfast cereal and milk.

Ham Souffle Popular As Porch Meal

In the spring a homemaker's fancy turns toward the out-of-doors. The smart homemaker will take advantage of this time and spend leisure hours in the garden.

No! Meals don't have to be a chore during this period. Everyone loves to eat outside but let's save that day for another time, and compromise—serve easy dinners on the porch. Plan on serving an oven dish or a favorite recipe. Just place the casserole in the oven and tend to the garden chores.

As a suggestion Reba Staggs, meat expert, mentions a Ham Souffle for a meaty yet not too heavy meal for a warm day.

Ham Souffle

2 cups ground cooked ham
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 tablespoons enriched flour
2 cups milk
3 eggs
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
salt
pepper

Melt lard or drippings. Add milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Separate the egg yolks, and whites and beat each well. Combine the bread crumbs, egg yolks, ham and cream sauce. Add parsley. Season. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish. Bake in a slow oven (350° F.) for about 1 hour, or until set in the center. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Springtime Macaroni

Like most women, you probably like to be a culinary impressario once in a while. Here's an easy off-beat casserole to assist your flight from the usual main dishes. Cook 1 package of frozen peas (10-ounce size) in ½ cup salted water. Do not drain. In a casserole combine the peas and liquid with 2 cans (3½ cups) macaroni with cheese sauce, 1 cup flaked crab (6½-ounce can) and 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion. Dot the top with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Bake in a 400 degrees F. oven for about 25 minutes. Lemon gelatin salad with shredded raw vegetables — and fresh-baked refrigerator biscuits complete a happy Springtime supper.

Americans eat nearly twice as much ice cream per person as they did 35 years ago.

Spaghetti Pleases Hearty Eaters

Here's a quick-and-easy main dish to revive starving athletes and others in your family famished from outdoor exercise. Brown ½ pound ground beef and 1 chopped medium onion in 1 tablespoon of shortening. Add 2 cans (3½ cups) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese, 1 cup drained cooked peas, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard. Stir, heat and eat! Makes 6 portions. Try this in your picnic skillet.

Tangy Dressing

Delicious on either the Green Bean or aspic salads.

1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup cucumber, grated
½ cup green pepper, finely chopped
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Stag Party! Serve Beef Barbecue

Turn about is fair play!

In this case the male population have decided on a bachelor party for the future husband while the ladies are having a bridal shower for the future bride.

It's probably the only chance the bridegroom will have to stand in the limelight.

For the occasion, keep the food preparation simple and plan to prepare something that's a typical man's dish. Oh! Don't forget to make plenty for seconds. Appetites will double during the latter part of the evening.

With these hints, perhaps Barbecued Ground Beef would serve the need. Accompaniments — they're easy also, toasted buns, baked beans, assorted relishes, potato chips and tomato slices. For the finale plenty of coffee and a pineapple layer cake.

Barbecued Ground Beef

1 pound ground beef
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup catchup
½ teaspoon ground cloves
6 buns

Brown meat slowly until crumbly but not hard. Pour off drippings. Combine remaining ingredients and add to the meat. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. T-Bone Steak

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It may be broiled, panbroiled or panfried; 1-inch steaks require 10 to 12 minutes per side for rare steak, 12 to 14 minutes per side for medium done steak.

Wise mothers know that the best way to prevent undesirable behavior is to set the stage so that it is easier to be good! It is pretty hard to skip or skimp breakfast when an attractive, cool, refreshing breakfast is set before one.

Research has demonstrated that young and old alike not only feel better but perform better, especially in the late morning hours, after eating a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

Crisp, crunchy, ready-to-eat breakfast cereals combined with cold milk and fresh fruits make a tempting main dish for a hot weather breakfast. Variety is so easy with the more than two dozen kinds of breakfast cereals available at your grocer.

Vary the type of breakfast service—use cool-looking straw or plastic place mats with a centerpiece of cool, green leaves. The next morning set the table buffet style with a choice of several different kinds of breakfast cereals and fresh fruit. Another variation is to set individual trays which can be carried to the coolest spot to be found.

It is hard to beat the appetite appeal and the nutritional contribution of a summer breakfast built around a main dish of cool, refreshing, ready-to-eat breakfast cereal and milk.

Ham Souffle Popular As Porch Meal

In the spring a homemaker's fancy turns toward the out-of-doors. The smart homemaker will take advantage of this time and spend leisure hours in the garden.

No! Meals don't have to be a chore during this period. Everyone loves to eat outside but let's save that day for another time, and compromise—serve easy dinners on the porch. Plan on serving an oven dish or a favorite recipe. Just place the casserole in the oven and tend to the garden chores.

As a suggestion Reba Staggs, meat expert, mentions a Ham Souffle for a meaty yet not too heavy meal for a warm day.

Ham Souffle

2 cups ground cooked ham
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 tablespoons enriched flour
2 cups milk
3 eggs
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
salt
pepper

Melt lard or drippings. Add milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Separate the egg yolks, and whites and beat each well. Combine the bread crumbs, egg yolks, ham and cream sauce. Add parsley. Season. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish. Bake in a slow oven (350° F.) for about 1 hour, or until set in the center. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Springtime Macaroni

Like most women, you probably like to be a culinary impressario once in a while. Here's an easy off-beat casserole to assist your flight from the usual main dishes. Cook 1 package of frozen peas (10-ounce size) in ½ cup salted water. Do not drain. In a casserole combine the peas and liquid with 2 cans (3½ cups) macaroni with cheese sauce, 1 cup flaked crab (6½-ounce can) and 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion. Dot the top with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Bake in a 400 degrees F. oven for about 25 minutes. Lemon gelatin salad with shredded raw vegetables — and fresh-baked refrigerator biscuits complete a happy Springtime supper.

Americans eat nearly twice as much ice cream per person as they did 35 years ago.

Spaghetti Pleases Hearty Eaters

Here's a quick-and-easy main dish to revive starving athletes and others in your family famished from outdoor exercise. Brown ½ pound ground beef and 1 chopped medium onion in 1 tablespoon of shortening. Add 2 cans (3½ cups) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese, 1 cup drained cooked peas, ½ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard. Stir, heat and eat! Makes 6 portions. Try this in your picnic skillet.

Tangy Dressing

Delicious on either the Green Bean or aspic salads.

1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup cucumber, grated
½ cup green pepper, finely chopped
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Stag Party! Serve Beef Barbecue

Turn about is fair play!

In this case the male population have decided on a bachelor party for the future husband while the ladies are having a bridal shower for the future bride.

It's probably the only chance the bridegroom will have to stand in the limelight.

For the occasion, keep the food preparation simple and plan to prepare something that's a typical man's dish. Oh! Don't forget to make plenty for seconds. Appetites will double during the latter part of the evening.

With these hints, perhaps Barbecued Ground Beef would serve the need. Accompaniments — they're easy also, toasted buns, baked beans, assorted relishes, potato chips and tomato slices. For the finale plenty of coffee and a pineapple layer cake.

Barbecued Ground Beef

1 pound ground beef
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup catchup
½ teaspoon ground cloves
6 buns

Brown meat slowly until crumbly but not hard. Pour off drippings. Combine remaining ingredients and add to the meat. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. T-Bone Steak

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

Top Quality Beef Rump Can Be Oven Roasted

Towering high on the list of food favorites of many people is beef. Last year we ate more beef than any other meat and we'll probably do the same this year.

It's not surprising that one of the popular beef cuts is the roast; it has luscious meat flavor, it can be cooked to the doneness preferred, and it carves well. In this time of plentiful beef, select a high quality beef rump roast for dinner. Ordinarily rump roast is cooked in moist heat, braised, to assure tenderness, but with the heavy beef available now, high quality rump can be roasted in the oven.

To determine if the meat you buy is of high quality, don't hesitate to confer with your meat man. He will tell you that this meat can be identified by its even streaks of fat throughout the lean or its "marbling," the nice protective layer of fat on the outside of the lean, and the white to creamy color of the fat. If bones are showing, their cut ends should be red.

For a rolled rump roast, the meat man has removed the bone and tied the meat in one compact piece; it is easy to carve when cooked.

How To Roast

Place the roast on a rack in a shallow pan. There is no need to add water, to cover, or to baste the meat during cooking. The fat covering bastes the meat as it cooks, and since this is a tender, naturally juicy meat, it needs no water or lid. If you have a meat thermometer, insert it in the center of the meat.

Cook a beef rump roast in a 325° F. oven 30 minutes per pound for medium done. If the meat is boned and rolled, roast 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

Select top quality beef rump roast for oven cooking. Serve this easily carved, boned and rolled rump roast with potatoes and carrots. The vegetables can be added to the meat during the last 30 minutes of roasting time. Make a brown gravy from the drippings and serve crusty slices of French bread.

The temperatures on the meat thermometer would read 140° F., rare; 160° F., medium; 170° F., well done. Let the roast stand out of the oven 15 or 20 minutes before starting to carve it.

If there are a few slices remaining after dinner, plan to serve them with a savory sauce. Here is a tangy relish sauce for roast beef. The piquant flavor of the relish-mustard combination is tasty accent for beef. The base of this recipe is a white sauce.

Relish Sauce For Beef Slices

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups bouillon
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat and blend in flour. Pour in bouillon and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Stir in relish and mustard; add meat slices. Continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Season with salt and pepper, if necessary. 4 to 6 servings.

A light brown onion gravy is another sauce to serve with the slices of beef. This recipe calls for either some of the leftover beef gravy or some bouillon or meat stock. It is quickly prepared.

Onion Gravy For Beef Slices

4 medium onions, coarsely chopped
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups bouillon or leftover gravy
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Over low heat, saute onions in a saucepan in butter until soft and transparent. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Pour in liquid and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Add meat and continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. 4 to 6 servings.

Oven-Style Veal Cutlets

Busy breadwinners will look forward to coming home to this new type of meal — Oven-Style Veal Cutlets. Prepared in the oven and served with a creamy mushroom sauce, Mrs. Homemaker is sure to be called a culinary whiz by her family.

Veal cutlets, sometimes called or referred to as veal round steak, corresponds to beef round steak. Veal comes from young beef animals.

Both veal and beef round steak are considered less tender cuts of meats and are therefore, cooked by a moist heat cookery method. Most homemakers are familiar with this method—braising.

Oven-Style Veal Cutlets

1½ pounds veal round steak, cut ¾ inch thick
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1½ cups water
1 10½-ounce can condensed mushroom soup

Cut veal round steak into 6 cutlets. Dredge cutlets with seasoned flour and brown slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off excess drippings. Add water to mushroom soup and mix well. Pour diluted soup over cutlets, cover tightly and cook slowly in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1 hour or until tender. Serve mushroom gravy over cutlets. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

Loosening a clip on a stack of papers on my desk, I find notes and notices about job opportunities, tax refunds, new voting privileges and other items of interest to our Free State.

I will, therefore, devote this week's report to a series of timely reminders, hoping that you will find one or more of them profitable.

Gasoline Tax Refunds

NOTE: A recently enacted law provides that farmers can obtain a refund of the federal excise tax (two cents a gallon) on gasoline used on farms for farming purposes.

Claims for the refunds must be made on Form 2240 and filed with the U. S. District Director of Internal Revenue for the applicant's district.

The proper forms are now available at offices of the Internal Revenue Service, at headquarters of county agricultural agents, and at many banks and post offices.

The first reimburstment payments will be made after June 30 in respect to gasoline purchased and used during the first six months of 1956, and subsequent refunds will be made for a one-year period from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1957.

Absentee Voting

NOTE: Voters "unavoidably absent" from Maryland on election day and persons who, because of physical disability, are "unable to be in the ward or election district in which they would otherwise be entitled to vote can now cast absentee ballots, according to new state law.

If a Marylander wishes to take advantage of the new provision concerning unavoidable absence he must apply for a ballot in writing or in person at least 20 days before the election.

Physically disabled persons must make their requests at least 10 days before an election and must include an affidavit from a Maryland physician stating that they are mentally competent and that their disability is the reason they cannot be present.

Registered voters of Baltimore City who want to obtain absentee ballots under the new regulations can do so by applying to the Board of Election Supervisors, Fayette and Gay Streets Baltimore. County voters can obtain theirs from the election boards in their county seats.

In the case of servicemen, absentee voting will still be handled under former regulations permitting them to participate in elections, and the new changes will not affect the procedure.

Poultry Bill Hearings

NOTE: Hearings on bills to provide for the compulsory inspection of poultry and poultry products by federal inspectors will be held June 18 by a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry.

NOTE: The Small Business Administration has issued a reminder that its conference for residents of the Maryland area who are interested in the need and procurement procedures of various federal agencies will be held from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. June 21, at Eastern High School, 33rd Street and Loch Raven Road, Baltimore.

More Meat For Teen-Agers

Is it possible we are overlooking the proper growth and development of our most important crop? Our children! According to proven experiments, teen-agers need from 30 to 50 per cent more of certain food nutrients than their parents. Meat is an excellent source of the high quality protein, vitamins and minerals these young adults need in extra amounts.

Top Quality Beef Rump Can Be Oven Roasted

Towering high on the list of food favorites of many people is beef. Last year we ate more beef than any other meat and we'll probably do the same this year.

It's not surprising that one of the popular beef cuts is the roast; it has luscious meat flavor, it can be cooked to the doneness preferred, and it carves well. In this time of plentiful beef, select a high quality beef rump roast for dinner. Ordinarily rump roast is cooked in moist heat, braised, to assure tenderness, but with the heavy beef available now, high quality rump can be roasted in the oven.

To determine if the meat you buy is of high quality, don't hesitate to confer with your meat man. He will tell you that this meat can be identified by its even streaks of fat throughout the lean or its "marbling," the nice protective layer of fat on the outside of the lean, and the white to creamy color of the fat. If bones are showing, their cut ends should be red.

For a rolled rump roast, the meat man has removed the bone and tied the meat in one compact piece; it is easy to carve when cooked.

How To Roast

Place the roast on a rack in a shallow pan. There is no need to add water, to cover, or to baste the meat during cooking. The fat covering bastes the meat as it cooks, and since this is a tender, naturally juicy meat, it needs no water or lid. If you have a meat thermometer, insert it in the center of the meat.

Cook a beef rump roast in a 325° F. oven 30 minutes per pound for medium done. If the meat is boned and rolled, roast 35 to 40 minutes per pound.

Select top quality beef rump roast for oven cooking. Serve this easily carved, boned and rolled rump roast with potatoes and carrots. The vegetables can be added to the meat during the last 30 minutes of roasting time. Make a brown gravy from the drippings and serve crusty slices of French bread.

The temperatures on the meat thermometer would read 140° F., rare; 160° F., medium; 170° F., well done. Let the roast stand out of the oven 15 or 20 minutes before starting to carve it.

If there are a few slices remaining after dinner, plan to serve them with a savory sauce. Here is a tangy relish sauce for roast beef. The piquant flavor of the relish-mustard combination is tasty accent for beef. The base of this recipe is a white sauce.

Relish Sauce For Beef Slices

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups bouillon
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat and blend in flour. Pour in bouillon and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Stir in relish and mustard; add meat slices. Continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Season with salt and pepper, if necessary. 4 to 6 servings.

A light brown onion gravy is another sauce to serve with the slices of beef. This recipe calls for either some of the leftover beef gravy or some bouillon or meat stock. It is quickly prepared.

Onion Gravy For Beef Slices

4 medium onions, coarsely chopped
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups bouillon or leftover gravy
6 to 8 slices roasted beef

Over low heat, saute onions in a saucepan in butter until soft and transparent. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Pour in liquid and stir continuously until sauce thickens. Add meat and continue cooking 10 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. 4 to 6 servings.

Oven-Style Veal Cutlets

Busy breadwinners will look forward to coming home to this new type of meal — Oven-Style Veal Cutlets. Prepared in the oven and served with a creamy mushroom sauce, Mrs. Homemaker is sure to be called a culinary whiz by her family.

Veal cutlets, sometimes called or referred to as veal round steak, corresponds to beef round steak. Veal comes from young beef animals.

Both veal and beef round steak are considered less tender cuts of meats and are therefore, cooked by a moist heat cookery method. Most homemakers are familiar with this method—braising.

Oven-Style Veal Cutlets

1½ pounds veal round steak, cut ¾ inch thick
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1½ cups water
1 10½-ounce can condensed mushroom soup

Cut veal round steak into 6 cutlets. Dredge cutlets with seasoned flour and brown slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off excess drippings. Add water to mushroom soup and mix well. Pour diluted soup over cutlets, cover tightly and cook slowly in a slow oven (300° F.) for 1 hour or until tender. Serve mushroom gravy over cutlets. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

Loosening a clip on a stack of papers on my desk, I find notes and notices about job opportunities, tax refunds, new voting privileges and other items of interest to our Free State.

I will, therefore, devote this week's report to a series of timely reminders, hoping that you will find one or more of them profitable.

Gasoline Tax Refunds

NOTE: A recently enacted law provides that farmers can obtain a refund of the federal excise tax (two cents a gallon) on gasoline used on farms for farming purposes.

Claims for the refunds must be made on Form 2240 and filed with the U. S. District Director of Internal Revenue for the applicant's district.

The proper forms are now available at offices of the Internal Revenue Service, at headquarters of county agricultural agents, and at many banks and post offices.

The first reimburstment payments will be made after June 30 in respect to gasoline purchased and used during the first six months of 1956, and subsequent refunds will be made for a one-year period from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1957.

Absentee Voting

NOTE: Voters "unavoidably absent" from Maryland on election day and persons who, because of physical disability, are "unable to be in the ward or election district in which they would otherwise be entitled to vote can now cast absentee ballots, according to new state law.

If a Marylander wishes to take advantage of the new provision concerning unavoidable absence he must apply for a ballot in writing or in person at least 20 days before the election.

Physically disabled persons must make their requests at least 10 days before an election and must include an affidavit from a Maryland physician stating that they are mentally competent and that their disability is the reason they cannot be present.

Registered voters of Baltimore City who want to obtain absentee ballots under the new regulations can do so by applying to the Board of Election Supervisors, Fayette and Gay Streets Baltimore. County voters can obtain theirs from the election boards in their county seats.

In the case of servicemen, absentee voting will still be handled under former regulations permitting them to participate in elections, and the new changes will not affect the procedure.

Poultry Bill Hearings

NOTE: Hearings on bills to provide for the compulsory inspection of poultry and poultry products by federal inspectors will be held June 18 by a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry.

NOTE: The Small Business Administration has issued a reminder that its conference for residents of the Maryland area who are interested in the need and procurement procedures of various federal agencies will be held from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. June 21, at Eastern High School, 33rd Street and Loch Raven Road, Baltimore.

More Meat For Teen-Agers

Is it possible we are overlooking the proper growth and development of our most important crop? Our children! According to proven experiments, teen-agers need from 30 to 50 per cent more of certain food nutrients than their parents. Meat is an excellent source of the high quality protein, vitamins and minerals these young adults need in extra amounts.

QUIZ

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable. What do you bid on each of the following hands?

1. ♠AQ6 ♥AJ9 ♦AJ9 ♣QJ95
2. ♠8742 ♥A986 ♦AJ8 ♣AQ
3. ♠4 ♥AJ87 ♦KJ92 ♣AQ95
4. ♠AKJ5 ♥AQ93 ♦KQ874 ♣——

Q1. One club. The requirements for a one notrump bid—16 to 18 points—are exceeded. We are a point over the limit. The range for a one notrump opening bid is rigid. The extra power can be identified when the opportunity to rebid comes along. Thus, if partner responds with one of any suit, a jump bid to two notrump will adequately picture both the high card content and the balanced distribution.

Q2. One heart. Opening with one notrump has to be ruled out because we are shy one point. A one spade bid is out of the question because the suit is not biddable. The heart suit, although it is not very robust either, is therefore nominated as the best opening shot.

Q3. One heart. When the opening bidder's distribution is 4-4-4-1, the suit selected as the opening bid is the one below the singleton in rank. It will be found that the greatest economy in bidding space is obtained by the use of this method. Complications are apt to be encountered if the opening bid is either one club or one diamond. Whenever partner's response is one spade, the opening bidder will find himself faced with an improper rebid. It would be wrong to rebid one notrump because partner might get the impression of a balanced hand. It would also give the responder a false picture of the distribution if the rebid were two hearts. Responder would in such case have a right to assume the minor suit was five cards long because it was bid ahead of the four card heart suit.

Q4. One diamond. It is important, in hands as promising as this one is, to represent the distribution accurately. If the bidding progresses in such a way that all three suits can be shown, partner will know our distribution exactly, including the club void. In many hands this last bit of information will prove to be the decisive factor in arriving at a small or grand slam, or avoiding either. The fact that diamonds are bid first, and later followed with spades and hearts, should convince partner that the longest suit is diamonds. Had the three suits been of equal length (e.g. 4-4-4-1), the correct opening bid would be the highest ranking one, spades.

QUIZ

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable. What do you bid on each of the following hands?

1. ♠AQ6 ♥AJ9 ♦AJ9 ♣QJ95
2. ♠8742 ♥A986 ♦AJ8 ♣AQ
3. ♠4 ♥AJ87 ♦KJ92 ♣AQ95
4. ♠AKJ5 ♥AQ93 ♦KQ874 ♣——

Q1. One club. The requirements for a one notrump bid—16 to 18 points—are exceeded. We are a point over the limit. The range for a one notrump opening bid is rigid. The extra power can be identified when the opportunity to rebid comes along. Thus, if partner responds with one of any suit, a jump bid to two notrump will adequately picture both the high card content and the balanced distribution.

Q2. One heart. Opening with one notrump has to be ruled out because we are shy one point. A one spade bid is out of the question because the suit is not biddable. The heart suit, although it is not very robust either, is therefore nominated as the best opening shot.

Q3. One heart. When the opening bidder's distribution is 4-4-4-1, the suit selected as the opening bid is the one below the singleton in rank. It will be found that the greatest economy in bidding space is obtained by the use of this method. Complications are apt to be encountered if the opening bid is either one club or one diamond. Whenever partner's response is one spade, the opening bidder will find himself faced with an improper rebid. It would be wrong to rebid one notrump because partner might get the impression of a balanced hand. It would also give the responder a false picture of the distribution if the rebid were two hearts. Responder would in such case have a right to assume the minor suit was five cards long because it was bid ahead of the four card heart suit.

Q4. One diamond. It is important, in hands as promising as this one is, to represent the distribution accurately. If the bidding progresses in such a way that all three suits can be shown, partner will know our distribution exactly, including the club void. In many hands this last bit of information will prove to be the decisive factor in arriving at a small or grand slam, or avoiding either. The fact that diamonds are bid first, and later followed with spades and hearts, should convince partner that the longest suit is diamonds. Had the three suits been of equal length (e.g. 4-4-4-1), the correct opening bid would be the highest ranking one, spades.

Yankees Trim Chisox, 5-1, Lengthen Lead To Five Games

Mantle Hits First Homer Since June 5

Mickey's 4-Bagger Is 22nd; Philley Is Ejected By Umpire

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Mickey Mantle found the range today with a 420 foot homer into right center field, his 22nd of the year, and a one run double as the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and lengthened their lead over the second place Sox to five full games.

This was Mantle's first homer since June 5 in Kansas City and it came with the bases empty in the seventh. His double in the third, scoring Joe Collins, was part of a Yankee outbreak that started with two out and resulted in three runs.

The game, played before 9,315 in 95 degree heat, found tempers short. In the sixth Dave Philley of the Sox precipitated a vociferous outbreak when he argued a second strike called by Umpire Charles Berry and finally planted himself squarely on top of the plate with his back to pitcher Bob Grim.

Berry ordered Grim to pitch. Philley got back in the box, and when Berry called a strike on the next offering, that looked high and wide, pandemonium broke out. Manager Marty Marion stormed out of the dugout to join Philley in confronting Berry, but only Philley was thrown out of the game. The Chicago bench tossed out bats, balls and towels and when Marion finally persuaded Philley to depart the Chicago first baseman tossed his bat 30 feet into the air.

The Yankees won the game in the third after Gerry Coleman and Grim had been called out on strikes. Gil McDougald was safe when Minnie Minoso dropped his short fly, and then Joe Collins and Mantle doubled, Yogi Berra drew a walk, and Moose Skowron singled Mantle home.

The single Sox run came on Dave Philley's second home run of the season, lofted into the lower right field stands in the fourth.

Toby Colaw Of Southern Heads Hitters Of P.V.C.

Posts .625 Average And Hit Safely In All Eight Contests

Hitting safely in all eight games played by his team, Donald "Toby" Colaw, senior "cleanup man" of Southern High School, Oakland, turned in the highest batting average of the 1956 season in the Potomac Valley Conference.

The southpaw pitcher-first baseman turned in a 4-1 slab record in the 14-school circuit and had the amazing batting average of .652, collecting 15 hits in 23 trips to the plate.

A team must play at least eight games to qualify for the championship race. Southern, the only Maryland school in the circuit, won six and lost two for a percentage of .750, tying for the runner-up spot with Keyser and Elk Garden whose records were 9-3. Moorefield High's Yellow Jackets won the title with a 10-0 record.

Clevenger Is Runner-Up

Runner-up honors went to Bill Clevenger, of Keyser High School, who batted .514 in 11 games. Tommy Milavec of Elk Garden finished third with a .514 in eleven contests.

Johnny Popovich, of the West Virginia School for the Deaf, was fourth with .452 and Dwight Barnhouse, Elk Garden, was in fifth place with .450. Jimmy Vetter, Moorefield, and Dick Huffman, of the Petersburg High Vikings, were the others who hit .400 or better.

Tommy Milavec led in total hits with 21 while Jimmy Webb of Keyser paced the run getters with 21 tallies.

241 Played In League

A total of 241 players saw action in the 60 league games. Keyser used the greatest number of players—a total of 26. Sixty players who went to bat one or more times failed to obtain a hit. The averages:

Yankees Trim Chisox, 5-1, Lengthen Lead To Five Games

Mickey's 4-Bagger Is 22nd; Philley Is Ejected By Umpire

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Mickey Mantle found the range today with a 420 foot homer into right center field, his 22nd of the year, and a one run double as the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and lengthened their lead over the second place Sox to five full games.

This was Mantle's first homer since June 5 in Kansas City and it came with the bases empty in the seventh. His double in the third, scoring Joe Collins, was part of a Yankee outbreak that started with two out and resulted in three runs.

The game, played before 9,315 in 95 degree heat, found tempers short. In the sixth Dave Philley of the Sox precipitated a vociferous outbreak when he argued a second strike called by Umpire Charles Berry and finally planted himself squarely on top of the plate with his back to pitcher Bob Grim.

Berry ordered Grim to pitch. Philley got back in the box, and when Berry called a strike on the next offering, that looked high and wide, pandemonium broke out. Manager Marty Marion stormed out of the dugout to join Philley in confronting Berry, but only Philley was thrown out of the game. The Chicago bench tossed out bats, balls and towels and when Marion finally persuaded Philley to depart the Chicago first baseman tossed his bat 30 feet into the air.

The Yankees won the game in the third after Gerry Coleman and Grim had been called out on strikes. Gil McDougald was safe when Minnie Minoso dropped his short fly, and then Joe Collins and Mantle doubled, Yogi Berra drew a walk, and Moose Skowron singled Mantle home.

The single Sox run came on Dave Philley's second home run of the season, lofted into the lower right field stands in the fourth.

The Pirates scored two runs in the third inning, three in the fourth and three in the fifth to build up an 8-0 lead. Meanwhile, starter Laurin Pepper—backed up by three double plays—had no trouble with the Tigers. He gave up only two hits in pitching five scoreless innings.

Galophone Is Winner Of Trotting Title

WESTBURY, N. Y., June 14—(INS)—Galophone, second choice in the ten-horse field, won the eleventh annual $25,000 American Trotting Championship by a half length over Katie Key tonight at Roosevelt Raceway. Jean Laird finished third.

The four-year-old brown horse, racking up his third victory in a row, is owned by William T. Maybury of Dexter, Me., and was driven by Bob Walker.

Tag Me, the 4-5 choice of the 17,858 fans, appeared a likely winner as late as 75 yards from the finish, but broke stride and wound up a poor eighth. Galophone returned $9.50, $6.20 and $5.10 across the board.

Heavyweight boxer Floyd Patterson has a monkey for a pet.

Berrios will be making his debut as a main event fighter in the Garden after many appearances in semi-finals. The fiery little fellow became a Garden main event boxer this year by winning four straight on the Monday night series from St. Nicholas Arena.

Schoendienst, Dark Figure In Trade Of Eight Players

Lockman, Katt, Liddle, Brandt, Littlefield, Sarni Are Involved

ST. LOUIS, June 14 (AP) — Red Schoendienst, Mr. Redbird himself, went to the New York Giants today in a four-for-four trade which brought veteran Alvin Dark to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 33-year-old Schoendienst, a veteran of 12 seasons with the Cardinals, took the news of the trade in the same stoic manner he plays second base.

"That's the way the ball bounces," he said.

General Manager Frank Lane, moving quickly before the deadline on trading at midnight tomorrow, dealt off Schoendienst, outfielder Jackie Brandt, catcher Bill Sarni and pitcher Dick Littlefield for shortstop Dark, first baseman Whitey Lockman, catcher Ray Katt and pitcher Don Liddle.

"Red was the toughest to give up," Lane said. "He's the type of ball player who could go out and make five errors in a row and the fans wouldn't be mad at him. But then again Dark is good, too."

To Switch Blasingame

Lane said he will use Dark, who is also 33, at shortstop, switching rookie Don Blasingame to second, his natural position.

"We felt that without defense on our infield we couldn't call ourselves a contender," Lane said.

Blasingame did a "courageous" job at shortstop but will fare better at second, Lane predicted.

Lane said that Dark wasn't the "great ball player he was five years ago" but he still would improve the Cards at shortstop. Lockman will go to first, replacing Wally Moon who will play the outfield.

Katt will alternate with Hal Smith behind the plate, the fast-dealing Lane added.

Brant Good Prospect

He said he was sorry to give up young Brandt, 1955 rookie of the year in the International League, but "after all, the Giants wanted to help themselves out, too."

Lane saw Brandt as a good prospect but not quite ready for stardom.

Schoendienst was known as a clutch hitter in his years here, but it was his fielding that made him a standout with St. Louis fans.

He was especially good on the double play.

Move Spencer To Short

In New York, the Giants indicated Schoendienst, as expected, will play second base; Daryl Spencer will move into the vacant shortstop slot and Sarni will replace Wes Westrum behind the plate.

Brandt will be played in the outfield right away, a club spokesman said, adding Littlefield would be spotted as a starting pitcher.

Frostburg Giants Belt Red Sox, 21-1

FROSTBURG, June 14—Unloosing a barrage of 22 hits, the Giants crushed the Red Sox today by the score of 21-1 and took over the leadership of the Frostburg Little League with a 4-1 record. The Yankees occupy the runner-up spot with 3-1.

Allen Eisel limited the Sox to five hits, two of which were obtained by Catania. Eisel blasted a homer and double, Beeman rapped a pair of two-baggers and a single and Rae connected for a double and single for the winners. Score:

Red Sox Beat Cleveland In 10-9 Slugfest

Gernert And Jensen Star In 30-Hit Tilt

BOSTON, June 14 (AP)—Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert accounted for seven Boston runs today as the Boston Red Sox defeated Cleveland 10-9 in a joint feast on wobbly pitching staffs.

The two clubs hammered six hurlers for a total of 30 hits.

Jensen put the Sox ahead to stay with a three-run homer, his seventh of the year, in the third inning. That made the score 6-3 at the time.

His single in the fifth drove in another tally. He also singled and scored in the second.

Gernert—playing left field in place of Ted Williams who fanned in a pinchhitting role—drove in three runs and scored three times. Dick got three singles and a walk.

Gernert's single brought home Jim Piersall with what proved to be the deciding run in the fifth. Piersall had just belted a triple to the right field corner to bring home the doubling Don Buddin.

Ike Delock, the Sox starter, was credited with his second triumph against four losses, but needed some fine relief work from Leo Kiely to make it.

Kiely, third Boston moundsman, struck out pinchhitter Earl Averill for the final out in the sixth after Cleveland had come up with four runs and had two men aboard.

From then on only Chico Carrasquel could manage a single off lefty Leo in the seventh, though Piersall braced himself against the centerfield wall to haul in Al Smith's smash for the final out of the contest.

Catcher Pete Daley's single and Buddin's sacrifice fly in the first inning accounted for the other Red Sox runs.

Bob Lemon, tagged for 11 hits in four innings in losing his fourth decision against six victories, homered with the bases empty in his own cause. Al Rosen drove in three runs with a two-run double and a single.

Katt will alternate with Hal Smith behind the plate, the fast-dealing Lane added.

Brant Good Prospect

He said he was sorry to give up young Brandt, 1955 rookie of the year in the International League, but "after all, the Giants wanted to help themselves out, too."

Lane saw Brandt as a good prospect but not quite ready for stardom.

Schoendienst was known as a clutch hitter in his years here, but it was his fielding that made him a standout with St. Louis fans.

He was especially good on the double play.

Move Spencer To Short

In New York, the Giants indicated Schoendienst, as expected, will play second base; Daryl Spencer will move into the vacant shortstop slot and Sarni will replace Wes Westrum behind the plate.

Brandt will be played in the outfield right away, a club spokesman said, adding Littlefield would be spotted as a starting pitcher.

Schoendienst, out of the lineup for sometime with a sore arm, was hitting .310 when traded. Last year in 145 games he batted .268.

Allen Eisel limited the Sox to five hits, two of which were obtained by Catania. Eisel blasted a homer and double, Beeman rapped a pair of two-baggers and a single and Rae connected for a double and single for the winners. Score:

Red Sox Beat Cleveland In 10-9 Slugfest

Gernert And Jensen Star In 30-Hit Tilt

BOSTON, June 14 (AP)—Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert accounted for seven Boston runs today as the Boston Red Sox defeated Cleveland 10-9 in a joint feast on wobbly pitching staffs.

The two clubs hammered six hurlers for a total of 30 hits.

Jensen put the Sox ahead to stay with a three-run homer, his seventh of the year, in the third inning. That made the score 6-3 at the time.

His single in the fifth drove in another tally. He also singled and scored in the second.

Gernert—playing left field in place of Ted Williams who fanned in a pinchhitting role—drove in three runs and scored three times. Dick got three singles and a walk.

Gernert's single brought home Jim Piersall with what proved to be the deciding run in the fifth. Piersall had just belted a triple to the right field corner to bring home the doubling Don Buddin.

Ike Delock, the Sox starter, was credited with his second triumph against four losses, but needed some fine relief work from Leo Kiely to make it.

Kiely, third Boston moundsman, struck out pinchhitter Earl Averill for the final out in the sixth after Cleveland had come up with four runs and had two men aboard.

From then on only Chico Carrasquel could manage a single off lefty Leo in the seventh, though Piersall braced himself against the centerfield wall to haul in Al Smith's smash for the final out of the contest.

Catcher Pete Daley's single and Buddin's sacrifice fly in the first inning accounted for the other Red Sox runs.

Bob Lemon, tagged for 11 hits in four innings in losing his fourth decision against six victories, homered with the bases empty in his own cause. Al Rosen drove in three runs with a two-run double and a single.

Rhubarbs Mar Opening Round Of National Open Golf

Rosburg Sets Pace With 68, Peter Thomson's 66 Is 2nd

Cotton, Burke Escape Disqualification; Ford Is Penalized

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 14 (AP)—Two internationally famous golfers—England's Henry Cotton and Masters champion Jack Burke — escaped disqualification today as a succession of rhubarbs marred the first round of the National Open Golf Tournament.

Bob Rosburg, a bespectacled, 29-year-old former Stanford athlete from Palo Alto, Calif., shot into the lead with a two-under-par 68, two strokes better than Australia's Peter Thomson, but these developments were overshadowed by a series of rules meetings.

At times the Oak Hill Country Club course resembled a heated session of the United Nations.

Ford Is Penalized

PGA champion Doug Ford also got into dire straits with the rules committee when he dropped a ball and then abandoned it on one hole, but he got out with only a two stroke penalty.

He had come in with a 69 for second place, the only other man to crack Oak Hill's tough par 70, but the USGA brass pushed his score up to 71.

Burke faced disqualification for signing an improper scorecard — an act which normally brings automatic suspension. He autographed a card giving him a 75 when he actually had a 76.

He had refused to check the card at the 18th hole, saying "I'm too tired."

The rules committee, invoking a rule of leniency for the first time in its history in such a case, refused to erase Burke completely but instead assessed him two extra strokes, giving the Masters champion a 78 instead of 76.

Cotton was called on the carpet for allegedly stroking his ball twice while running in a putt on the 17th green. Some said he took a six there. Cotton insisted he had a five.

The Cotton case became a question of whom to believe—Cotton or his partners, Cary Middlecoff and Jimmy Demaret.

Both Middlecoff and Demaret said at the end of the round that Cotton stroked a putt three times on the 17th hole, taking a six. Cotton insisted he took a five.

The two American players reported to Joseph Dey, executive director of the USGA. Demaret was overheard to tell the USGA official: "This definitely calls for disqualification."

The incident occurred after Cotton had blasted out of a sand trap and put the ball about four feet from the hole. He putted and the ball rimmed the cup, missing by two inches. Then the Englishman reached over and nudged the ball in—with a backhanded motion.

Demaret and Middlecoff said he touched the ball once without getting it in and then tapped the ball a second time.

Take Cotton's Word

After more than two hour's deliberation, the USGA rules committee said they would take the word of the English master and his scorer. His score was allowed to stand at 74. He also could have been disqualified for signing an improper card.

Ford's troubles happened on the 10th where he hit his second shot into what he thought was the creek. Thinking the ball was lost, he dropped another. Then the original ball was found by the gallery in a playable position, and Ford played it. He picked up the dropped ball.

He was penalized two strokes under the rule governing the act of taking a ball out of play. He could have been disqualified, officials said, on the grounds that he twice abandoned balls which had been put in play.

Leniency of the USGA brass kept this from being the darkest day in this blue ribbon championship since 1940 at Cleveland when six prominent players were booted out of the tournament for starting the final round early to avoid a thunderstorm. One of the players, Ed (Porky) Oliver, went on to shoot a 287 which would have tied Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen for the title.

Rosburg became the only player officially to break the par 70 of the 6,902-yard Oak Hill course, which was baked to lightning fastness by a 90-degree sun and tricky winds.

Hogan Shoots 72

Ben Hogan, shooting for his fifth open championship on weary legs, remained in the thick of contention with a steady 72, four strokes off the pace, while many of the game's brightest stars shot themselves out of it.

After Rosburg's 68 and Thomson's 70 came seven players at 71, including three former champions, Cary Middlecoff (1949), Julius Boros (1952) and lame-armed Ed Furgol (1954). Also in the 71 bracket were Errie Ball of Oak Park, Ill., an English-born professional of 45; Wesley Ellis of River Vale, N. J., an unknown 24-year-old pro; Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and Ford.

Snead Has 75

Defending champion Jack Fleck, sensational winner over Hogan in last year's playoff at San Francisco, shot a 76. Sam Snead had to birdie two of the last three holes to come in with a 40-35—75, a score he shared with Gene Littler, leading money winner and one of the prime favorites.

Lew Worsham of Pittsburgh, 1947 champion, skied to an 83 while Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., 1954 PGA champion, had a horrendous 81, with a seven on the par three 11th—called "predicament creek."

Needles Made 4-5 Favorite For Belmont

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Fabius zipped three-quarters of a mile in a final sharp speed workout today, and Trainer Jimmy Jones said, "That's all he needs—he's fit" for the $100,000-added Belmont Stakes on Saturday.

The Calumet Farm colt, who ran second May 5 to Needles in the Kentucky Derby, then reversed the order of finish in the Preakness two weeks later, remains the biggest question mark in the 88th Belmont.

Fabius easily won the Jersey Stakes at Garden State one week after taking the Preakness. But last Saturday at Delaware Park, the handsome son of Citation wound up second, six lengths behind Ricci Tavi.

Paul Bailey, who rides in the Belmont replacing the suspended Willie Hartack, this morning sent Fabius six furlongs handily in 1:12 1-5 galloping out the mile. He got the half in :47 2-5, and five furlongs in 1:00 flat.

The D.&H. Stable's Needles remains the 4-5 early favorite, with Fabius at 5-2, and the Whitney entry 4-1.

Wightman Tennis Series To Open

LONDON, June 14 — (INS) — American women, who have not lost to British lady tennis stars since 1930, held final tune-ups today, determined to win their 20th consecutive match when the annual two-day battle for the Wightman Cup begins tomorrow.

Although the British girls have made a dismal showing in recent years, experts believe this year's team will make the American squad work hard if it is to win again.

The U. S. team is composed of Louise Brough, Shirley Fry, Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz and Mrs. Dorothy Knode.

This is the same British team that lost, 6-1, in last year's match at Rye, N. Y., but it now has more experience.

Yankees Trade Eddie Robinson To Kansas City

Siebern Purchased, Hunter Activated

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP) — The New York Yankees tonight traded two players to Kansas City, placed on their roster two others and also arranged for the transfer of two men from the Athletics to Richmond, Va., their farm club in the International League.

In the complicated series of deals, first baseman Ed Robinson and outfielder Lou Skizas went to Kansas City; outfielder Norm Siebern was purchased from Denver, Yankee farm club in the American Association and shortstop Billy Hunter was activated from the disabled list; and pitcher Ed Burtschy and outfielder Bill Renna were sold to Richmond by the Athletics. Skizas had been playing the outfield for Richmond.

Siebern, 23, was the star rookie in the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., this spring. He was injured after playing twelve games, badly-bruising both knees. After a long convalescence, he got into the Denver lineup and hit seven homers in his first seven games. He is a service returnee and does not count in the 25 player limit.

Robinson hit .222 as part-time first baseman and pinch hitter, with five homers. He is 35. No price was announced.

Hunter, 27, has been on the disabled list since spring, due to a mending ankle which was broken in Denver last August.

Allentown, Pa., of the Eastern League is connected with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Wiley Ford Tops McCoole Vets, 3-2

Snyder's Tavern of Wiley Ford eked out a 3-2 decision over the McCoole Vets in an extra inning Mineral County Softball League game yesterday at Keyser.

E. Lambert walloped a pair of homers for the winners and J. Lambert collected two singles. "Sonny" Smith hit for the circuit and Fazzalore banged two doubles and a single for McCoole. Score:

WILEY FORD	000	010	11	3	9	1

Rhodes and Morgan, Cain and Spitzer. HR—E. Lambert 2 (Wiley Ford); S. Smith (McCoole).

A Heady Pitcher

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Roy Peterson, 19-year-old Oklahoma A&M College freshman, was hit in the head while batting in an Oil Capital League amateur baseball game but it didn't bother his pitching.

The righthander pitched a no-hitter, struck out 12 and got two hits.

The next day he checked into a hospital and doctors said he had suffered a concussion but that he would recover.

Rhubarbs Mar Opening Round Of National Open Golf

Rosburg Sets Pace With 68, Peter Thomson's 66 Is 2nd

Cotton, Burke Escape Disqualification; Ford Is Penalized

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 14 (AP)—Two internationally famous golfers—England's Henry Cotton and Masters champion Jack Burke—escaped disqualification today as a succession of rhubarbs marred the first round of the National Open Golf Tournament.

Bob Rosburg, a bespectacled, 29-year-old former Stanford athlete from Palo Alto, Calif., shot into the lead with a two-under-par 68, two strokes better than Australia's Peter Thomson, but these developments were overshadowed by a series of rules meetings.

At times the Oak Hill Country Club course resembled a heated session of the United Nations.

Ford Is Penalized

PGA champion Doug Ford also got into dire straits with the rules committee when he dropped a ball and then abandoned it on one hole, but he got out with only a two stroke penalty.

He had come in with a 69 for second place, the only other man to crack Oak Hill's tough par 70, but the USGA brass pushed his score up to 71.

Burke faced disqualification for signing an improper scorecard—an act which normally brings automatic suspension. He autographed a card giving him a 75 when he actually had a 76.

He had refused to check the card at the 18th hole, saying "I'm too tired."

The rules committee, invoking a rule of leniency for the first time in its history in such a case, refused to erase Burke completely but instead assessed him two extra strokes, giving the Masters champion a 78 instead of 76.

Cotton was called on the carpet for allegedly stroking his ball twice while running in a putt on the 17th green. Some said he took a six there. Cotton insisted he had a five.

The Cotton case became a question of whom to believe—Cotton or his partners, Cary Middlecoff and Jimmy Demaret.

Both Middlecoff and Demaret said at the end of the round that Cotton stroked a putt three times on the 17th hole, taking a six. Cotton insisted he took a five.

The two American players reported to Joseph Dey, executive director of the USGA. Demaret was overheard to tell the USGA official: "This definitely calls for disqualification."

The incident occurred after Cotton had blasted out of a sand trap and put the ball about four feet from the hole. He putted and the ball rimmed the cup, missing by two inches. Then the Englishman reached over and nudged the ball in—with a backhanded motion.

Demaret and Middlecoff said he touched the ball once without getting it in and then tapped the ball a second time.

Take Cotton's Word

After more than two hour's deliberation, the USGA rules committee said they would take the word of the English master and his scorer. His score was allowed to stand at 74. He also could have been disqualified for signing an improper card.

Ford's troubles happened on the 10th where he hit his second shot into what he thought was the creek. Thinking the ball was lost, he dropped another. Then the original ball was found by the gallery in a playable position, and Ford played it. He picked up the dropped ball.

He was penalized two strokes under the rule governing the act of taking a ball out of play. He could have been disqualified, officials said, on the grounds that he twice abandoned balls which had been put in play.

Leniency of the USGA brass kept this from being the darkest day in this blue ribbon championship since 1940 at Cleveland when six prominent players were booted out of the tournament for starting the final round early to avoid a thunderstorm. One of the players, Ed (Porky) Oliver, went on to shoot a 287 which would have tied Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen for the title.

Rosburg became the only player officially to break the par 70 of the 6,902-yard Oak Hill course, which was baked to lightning fastness by a 90-degree sun and tricky winds.

Hogan Shoots 72

Ben Hogan, shooting for his fifth open championship on weary legs, remained in the thick of contention with a steady 72, four strokes off the pace, while many of the game's brightest stars shot themselves out of it.

After Rosburg's 68 and Thomson's 70 came seven players at 71, including three former champions, Cary Middlecoff (1949), Julius Boros (1952) and lame-armed Ed Furgol (1954). Also in the 71 bracket were Errie Ball of Oak Park, Ill., an English-born professional of 45; Wesley Ellis of River Vale, N. J., an unknown 24-year-old pro; Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and Ford.

Snead Has 75

Defending champion Jack Fleck, sensational winner over Hogan in last year's playoff at San Francisco, shot a 76. Sam Snead had to birdie two of the last three holes to come in with a 40-35—75, a score he shared with Gene Littler, leading money winner and one of the prime favorites.

Lew Worsham of Pittsburgh, 1947 champion, skied to an 83 while Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., 1954 PGA champion, had a horrendous 81, with a seven on the par three 11th—called "predicament creek."

Wins for Redlegs

A 15-GAME winner for the Cardinals in 1954, Brooks Lawrence proved to be somewhat of a flop last season and was peddled to the Redlegs. With Cincinnati this year, however, Brooks has come back and has won seven in a row. (International)

Needles Made 4-5 Favorite For Belmont

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Fabius zipped three-quarters of a mile in a final sharp speed workout today, and Trainer Jimmy Jones said, "That's all he needs—he's fit" for the $100,000-added Belmont Stakes on Saturday.

The Calumet Farm colt, who ran second May 5 to Needles in the Kentucky Derby, then reversed the order of finish in the Preakness two weeks later, remains the biggest question mark in the 88th Belmont.

Fabius easily won the Jersey Stakes at Garden State one week after taking the Preakness. But last Saturday at Delaware Park, the handsome son of Citation wound up second, six lengths behind Ricci Tavi.

Paul Bailey, who rides in the Belmont replacing the suspended Willie Hartack, this morning sent Fabius six furlongs handily in 1:12 1-5 galloping out the mile. He got the half in :47 2-5, and five furlongs in 1:00 flat.

Wightman Tennis Series To Open

LONDON, June 14 — (INS) — American women, who have not lost to British lady tennis stars since 1930, held final tune-ups today, determined to win their 20th consecutive match when the annual two-day battle for the Wightman Cup begins tomorrow.

Although the British girls have made a dismal showing in recent years, experts believe this year's team will make the American squad work hard if it is to win again.

This is the same British team that lost, 6-1, in last year's match at Rye, N. Y., but it now has more experience.

Yankees Trade Eddie Robinson To Kansas City

Siebern Purchased, Hunter Activated

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP) — The New York Yankees tonight traded two players to Kansas City, placed on their roster two others and also arranged for the transfer of two men from the Athletics to Richmond, Va., their farm club in the International League.

In the complicated series of deals, first baseman Ed Robinson and outfielder Lou Skizas went to Kansas City; outfielder Norm Siebern was purchased from Denver, Yankee farm club in the American Association and shortstop Billy Hunter was activated from the disabled list; and pitcher Ed Burtschy and outfielder Bill Renna were sold to Richmond by the Athletics. Skizas had been playing the outfield for Richmond.

Siebern, 23, was the star rookie in the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., this spring. He was injured after playing twelve games, badly-bruising both knees. After a long convalescence, he got into the Denver lineup and hit seven homers in his first seven games. He is a service returnee and does not count in the 25 player limit.

Robinson hit .222 as part-time first baseman and pinch hitter, with five homers. He is 35. No price was announced.

Hunter, 27, has been on the disabled list since spring, due to a mending ankle which was broken in Denver last August.

Wiley Ford Tops McCoole Vets, 3-2

Snyder's Tavern of Wiley Ford eked out a 3-2 decision over the McCoole Vets in an extra inning Mineral County Softball League game yesterday at Keyser.

E. Lambert walloped a pair of homers for the winners and J. Lambert collected two singles. "Sonny" Smith hit for the circuit and Fazzalore banged two doubles and a single for McCoole. Score:

WILEY FORD	000	010	11—3	9	1

Rhodes and Morgan, Cain and Spitzer. HR—E. Lambert 2 (Wiley Ford); S. Smith (McCoole).

A Heady Pitcher

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Roy Peterson, 19-year-old Oklahoma A&M College freshman, was hit in the head while batting in an Oil Capital League amateur baseball game but it didn't bother his pitching.

The righthander pitched a no-hitter, struck out 12 and got two hits.

The next day he checked into a hospital and doctors said he had suffered a concussion but that he would recover.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 14 (INS) — My young friend Anna Maria Alberghetti gets her chance on Broadway, and I am wagering you'll be hearing more about her.

She steps into Susan Strasberg's role in "The Diary of Anne Frank." When Mrs. Strasberg was here with Marilyn Monroe, she saw some tests of Anna Maria that Columbia had made, and suggested the young singer for her daughter's role while Susan is resting.

"I leave August 1," Anna Maria told me, "and I think it's one of the greatest breaks I've ever had, and just think, I act and do not sing!"

Sounds a bit risque to say Van Johnson will be in "10,000 Bedrooms," doesn't it? But this catchy title is the name Joe Pasternak has given his next musical which is about a debonair millionaire who owns a chain of hotels all over the world with — what else? — 10,000 bedrooms. Conrad Hilton, anybody?

Anyway, Van who has been very serious in his last three movies, including "Miracle in the Rain," gets back to the musical comedy field in this one, with Richard Thorpe directing him.

Joe Pasternak plans to get the picture into production as soon as he gets his cast rounded up and there will be plenty of beautiful girls wearing the last word in fashions.

Producer Davis Lewis was very eager to get Rossano Brazzi to costar with Eleanor Parker in "The Painted Veil," but the New York office turned thumbs down for some reason. But David is not unhappy now, because William Travers, the young Englishman who is currently co-starring with Jennifer Jones in "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," is set to play opposite the beautiful Eleanor.

Travers also plays the young Indian station manager with Ava Gardner in "Bhowani Junction," and the reports from the theatres where this picture has been shown have been most favorable to the young man, hence MGM's choice.

The experiences of my old friend Marvin Miller has as host and narrator of "The Millionaire" TV show would fill a book. People think he's really a millionaire and write him asking for money!

Marvin, who always has worked harder than anyone I know, flies to London in July where he, his wife Elizabeth and their two children will attend the Salzburg Festival which this year celebrates the 200th anniversary of Mozart's death.

While Marvin is vacationing in Europe, he'll scout material for "The Millionaire" for Don Fedderson as well as research for his daily radio program. Meanwhile, Mrs. Miller will shoot footage for documentary films—and it wouldn't be Marvin if he didn't narrate Elizabeth's project.

Rhonda Fleming, escorted by the new boy friend, Alan Chase, had no trouble avoiding her estranged husband, Dr. Lew Morrill, at the Lee Anderson-Oliver Morris cocktail party. They arrived at the same time but there were 500 people in the new Garden Room of the Bel Air Hotel celebrating the hotel's 10th anniversary.

And to Terry Taylor, son of Ursula Thiess and Bob Taylor, on his first birthday.

Would you call it a cultural exchange basis of swapping artists, with the Ritz Brothers being invited by the Moscow Ministry of Culture to appear in Russia!

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

WASHINGTON — How is it th the elephant and the donkey a the symbols of the Republican ar Democratic parties respectivel This question was asked by a r cent visitor to my office, and wi only a very sketchy knowledge the correct answer, I sought ou what is believed to be an authenti response.

The donkey as the symbol o the Democratic party was popularized if not invented, by the cartoons of Thomas Nast. He first used the donkey to represent the Democrats in a cartoor published in the January 15, 1870, issue of Harper's Weekly. This cartoon portrayed Edwin M. Stanton, a former secretary of war, who had recently d, as a dead lion being kicked r by a donkey labelled Copperad Papers. Under the picture re the words: "A live jackass king a dead lion! and such a ckass!" Later Nast, a Republin reformer and crusader, used e donkey to typify the Democratic party specifically.

It is possible that Nast's use of he donkey for the Democratic party was not an innovation. Cartoons during the early 1830s portrayed President Jackson riding "Jack (son) — ass." Others pictured Jackson's head on the body of a donkey. The Field Piece, a Whig campaign paper, printed a woodcut on July 19, 1848, portraying the figure of a donkey on what was labelled the "Democratic platform." In 1864, General George B. McClellan, the Democratic nominee for president, was portrayed mounted backward on a donkey urged on by August Belmont and other Democratic leaders.

The elephant as the symbol of the Republican party was likewise popularized by Thomas Nast. On November 7, 1874, Harper's Weekly printed a Nast cartoon in which he assembled animals and birds the forest — representing varis newspapers, states and issues — are shown as being frightened a donkey in a lion's skin crying "Caesarism," which alluded to he Democratic charge that President Grant was scheming for a hird term. The elephant, labelled Republican Vote, is also pictured as frightened and is running toward a pitfall loosely covered with deceptive planks labelled inflation, repudiation, reform, and so on. It was the cartoonist's way of making fun of his own party.

It is possible that the elephant had been used as a party symbol before that time. There is some evidence that an elephant was shown on one of the Lincoln banners carried at the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1860. And, it has also been claimed that the figure of an elephant was used on a badge of Salmon P. Chase, a senator from Ohio, about the same time.

Sometime You Wonder

Some of us keep fighting for ambitious television such as the spectaculars. On the other side are the commercial folk who would like to make a living out of those filmed half-hour comic strips like "December Bride."

Given their own way the package producers and—let's face it—the networks would like to load themselves with half-hour packages like "December Bride." Nobody would have to worry about anything. Just put the show on the air and let it run forever. And take the client out on a spree when he gets to town. It's a comfortable way to run a business, but from the point of view of the victim at home, I don't think it's the best way and I have said so repeatedly.

Then, there comes along something like Max Liebman's "Holiday," a spectacular which NBC-TV offered the other night, and it pulls the rug out from under us. "Holiday," on which a bundle of money must have been spent, is about as bad as a television show could get. It had color. It had an expensive—though, God knows, not a good—cast. It had music based on Johann Strauss. The plot was frantically romantic. The backgrounds included Paris, Vienna, and Venice—and where can you get better backgrounds than that?

And still, it was all pretty dreadful. It's easy to conclude from "Holiday" that this sort of venture simply isn't any good and that television ought to take refuge in something safe like "What's My Line."

This is an easy out but it's not, by any means, a sensible one. "Holiday" was bad because an enormous amount of sheer lunacy went into its production. In the first place, it was based on a play called "The Grand Tour" by Elmer Rice which ran a grand tour of eight days on Broadway. Not that everything that runs eight days is a turkey but. . . .Well—come to think of it—everything that runs eight days is a turkey. So much for the original play.

The plot is about a school teacher, who goes to Europe and falls in love with a handsome but cryptic individual. After hitting all the spots—from Paris to Venice—with him, she discovers he's an embezzler. So she pays his debts, restores him to his wife and goes back to teaching school.

Put baldly like that, it sounds improbable. But when you put it in color—with Doretta Morrow, Keith Andes and Kitty Carlisle—it's impossible. Or to put it another way, it's . . .

Well, I can remember when my mother used to come back from a bad evening at the theater, fix a cold eye on me, and say:

"If you couldn't write a better play than that . . ."

In other words, it was my fault. She didn't exactly blame me for writing the play she's seen; but she blamed me for not having written something better that should have been in the theater that night.

It is this kind of thinking that I devoutly hope will not overwhelm the sponsors and the networks and especially the public. When you see a bad show on television, you shouldn't kick the set; that isn't where the fault lies.

Where does it lie? Well, it seems to me that Max Liebman, who has had virtually unlimited funds to play with this year (This was his last production of the season), and the use of NBC's best color studios on both coasts, and the run of the house, ought to answer that question himself.

Dave Gunter's

OPEN HOUSE

MONDAY, JUNE 18

4 P.M. - 10 P.M.

Here is your chance to see what makes a restaurant kitchen tick. You will see our all electric kitchen in full operation. You will see and taste crisp greaseless food cooked in the famous Mark 313 Hotpoint Fry Machines. You will see and taste steaks that are grill broiled on a Hotpoint Rocket 12 Non-stallable Griddle. Even a cake of ice can't stall it. You will see a High Compression Cooker cook chicken to a mouth watering doneness in 18 minutes. There will be free recipes and samples of all the food we prepare.

Bring Your Friends And Neighbors Along
It's ALL FREE

You have read about it and you have heard about it. Maybe you saw it on TV. "MICRO-WAVE COOKING." Now you can see it in action and taste food cooked in our new Electronic Range. It cooks a baked potato in 4 minutes, and an egg in 20 seconds, warms the milk in a baby's bottle in 20 seconds but does not heat the bottle. You have to see it to believe it.

Put a ring around June 18, and mark it a must.

Yours for better eating,
Your Host,
Dave Gunter.

In Memoriam

BRINKMAN—In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Theodore Brinkman, who died one year ago, June 15, 1956.
Dear mother, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.

No. 24505 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.
The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the Plaintiff from the Defendant.
The bill states that the parties hereto were married on the 25th day of April, 1953 in Lawrence, Massachusetts and that no children were born of the said marriage; and that the defendant, without just cause or reason, deserted and abandoned the plaintiff and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that such desertion and abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than eighteen months and is deliberate and final and without any reasonable hope of reconciliation; and that the plaintiff was granted a decree of partial divorce from the defendant on the 4th day of May, 1955 by the Circuit Court for Allegany County in No. 24,001 Equity; and that the plaintiff is a resident of Allegany County and that the defendant is a non-resident, her last known address being 62 Bellevue Road, East Braintree, Mass.

McGeady Case Will Be Given Jurors Today

Defense Rests On Fourth Day

The five-day U. S. District Court embezzlement trial of Thomas Owen McGeady, 30-year-old former teller at the First National Bank, comes to a close at Allegany County Court House today when the all-male jury hears final arguments and receives instructions from U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins.

Arguments by the contending attorneys will start at 10 a. m. and probably will continue until almost lunch time.

Five attorneys have participated in the trial but it was uncertain yesterday whether all would join in the argument. The government's case has been presented by Assistant U. S. District Attorneys John H. Somerville and Martin A. Ferris, while McGeady has been represented by William G. Walsh, William Walsh, both of this city, and Theodore C. Waters Jr. of Baltimore.

Will Instruct Jury

Then Judge Watkins will instruct the jury, and after lunch the 12 men will begin their deliberations.

McGeady's attorneys rested their case shortly before 2:30 p. m. yesterday after the last of six defense witnesses, the defendant's wife, testified.

The government offered no rebuttal witnesses and then Judge Watkins explained the plans to defer the final arguments and instructions until this morning, after which the fourth day of proceedings ended.

The defendant, who was on the stand more than an hour and a half Wednesday afternoon, continued to testify all morning yesterday, finally being excused at 12:35 p. m.

His mother, Mrs. John L. McGeady, 325 Williams Street, was called to the stand next. She testified that she paid $140 of the $152 dental bill her son incurred for several extractions and a partial plate he obtained last August 19.

After lunch yesterday Thomas L. Keech, 920 Maryland Avenue, vice president and treasurer of the Liberty Trust Company, was called to testify about a loan made to Mrs. Leona May Eyre on her house.

Earlier yesterday McGeady had acknowledged having loaned $90 to Mrs. Eyre, $40 on one occasion and $50 on the other, to make payments on her mortgage. She is a wiatress at the Cadillac Lounge. He said he never had been repaid.

Keech said that as of January 1, 1955, Mrs. Eyre owed $6,054.32 on the mortgage. She then was paid up to August 1, 1954. Her payments were $59.48 a month, Keech testified. There was no cross examination.

William C. Walsh then called T. Victor Fier, former vice president and trust officer of the First National Bank, to the stand. He was asked to recall from the days when he was a teller some eight years ago. The principal question was whether, if he ran an adding machine tape on his cashed checks before lunch, he would notice on his return whether any change had been made in the total amount of his list. Fier said he could not.

Judge Watkins asked whether Fier would have noticed if there was a change in his subtotal from about $2,100 to nearly $3,500. That is the amount of the change that would have resulted April 22, 1955, with the addition of the $1,374.35 check cashed that day on the account of W. E. White. Fier said he would not.

Bowling Activities

The last defense witness, Mrs. Mary R. McGeady, the defendant's wife, testified briefly about her own bowling activities. She said she had bowled in both the Club Ladies League on Monday nights and Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree Mixed Bowling League on Wednesday nights.

Mrs. McGeady said she made the payments on a department store bill. On cross examination by Somerville she could not recall whether the payments totaled $115 between January and August 1955. She also could not remember whether she had paid a $50 bill at a woman's store.

The defendant testified about his expenditures and winnings while on the stand yesterday morning. He said that he won about $50 on his bowling during the first half of 1955 and received one month's Christmas bonus at the bank at the end of 1954 or early in 1955.

Rented Car

Girl Scout Patrol For National Roundup

Area Senior Girl Scouts To Attend National Meet

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Cumberland Council Girl Scouts of America will be represented this month at the annual National Girl Scout Roundup, to be held for 12 days beginning June 29 at Highland State Recreation Area, 30 miles northwest of Pontiac, Mich.

For several months past, Alice Bartlett and Mary Jane Howell, two Senior Scouts of the local council, have spent all their spare time getting ready for the opportunity.

Under the guidance of Miss Olive Hurlburt, scout executive, and a Roundup committee composed of Mrs. Lucile Roeder, chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Mrs. Aden Everstine and Mrs. Loren Morey, these two Girl Scouts have made a careful study of the local area and a complete review of all their Girl Scout skills, particularly camping.

As members of a Western Maryland patrol made up of six girls from Hagerstown and themselves, the two local scouts will be required to pitch four tents, erect a kitchen shelter, table and other equipment in an area 45 feet square, and live there in primitive style for 12 days.

5,000 Will Attend

The National Roundup will attract some 5,000 girls from all parts of the continent, all organized in individual patrols and all operating in the same fashion.

At the Roundup they will have opportunities to exchange ideas and compare notes with other girls from all parts of the nation. That's why the local representatives have spent so much time visiting local industries, institutions and generally becoming familiar with their native city. They have also visited neighboring communities and historical spots and have accumulated a wealth of information which they will exchange with other girls at the Roundup.

Miss Bartlett and Miss Howell were chosen in open competition among all eligible senior scouts in the local council. They did so well that their choice was almost unanimous, although a couple of other girls have been named as alternates and have taken advantage of the chance to study the area and improve their camping skills.

Local Girl Leader

Members of the Hagerstown Council include Annette Evans, Carlotta Miller, Sandra Welch, Susan Morton, Barbara Sprecher, and Joyce Fuss. The chairman of the Roundup committee there is Mrs. Marlin Thurmond.

The Hagerstown girls have visited here several weekends, and the local girls have visited Hagerstown several times. The patrol has also camped as a unit at Cacapon State Park near Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and other places. The patrol has unanimously elected Miss Howell leader.

McMullen Takes Oath As Road Commissioner

John J. McMullen, president of the Times and Alleganian Company, publisher of the Cumberland newspapers, yesterday received his oath of office from Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, as a new member of the State Roads Commission.

The commission, signed by Governor McKeldin and Secretary of State Blanchard Randall, was dated June 8. It was delivered this week to Boden's office. McMullen will serve at the pleasure of Governor McKeldin.

McMullen plans to go to Baltimore today for the formal opening of a new road in that vicinity.

Guthrie Paroled

City Police Will Get New 'Paddy Wagon'

Sealed bids for a new patrol wagon for use by the Police Department are being sought by the City of Cumberland.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday the bids will be received by the Mayor and Council at the office of the City Clerk in City Hall until 10 a. m. June 25.

The patrol wagon will replace a 1948 model Chevrolet now in use by the department. An order was passed at the council meeting on Monday authorizing Commissioner Keegan to advertise for bids.

Governor Heads Dystrophy Drive In Maryland

James E. Robertson, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., has received a letter from a national representative informing him that Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will serve as honorary chairman of the 1956 campaign.

The letter was received from N. Chester Phillips, who pointed out in the letter that the governor will "be very happy to serve as honorary chairman for the state of Maryland for the 1956 Muscular Dystrophy Campaign and that he will render whatever assistance he can toward the success of the program."

A date for the annual drive has not been set but it usually is held in the fall. Previously all donations given by residents of the two counties were sent directly to Baltimore.

However this year, according to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, a member of the board, donations will be mailed through the Post Office to fire headquarters here or other designated sub-stations, tabulated and turned over to Robertson and the board, headed by State Senator Charles M. See.

During past years the campaign has been backed by the local firemen and volunteer firemen from throughout the two counties, and each year they have made a good showing.

Donations received in the drive are used in research on muscular dystrophy, a disease which affects the muscles. Residents are reminded that any cases or suspected cases of the disease should be referred to Robertson or Central Station here and an investigation will get under way.

Sewage Plant Project Ahead Of Schedule

Construction Now 84% Completed

Construction work on the Cumberland Sewage Treatment plant is slightly more than a month ahead of schedule, according to a progress report submitted to Mayor Roy W. Eves by Edward Kidd, project engineer.

This is based on the value of the work completed and equipment installed, plus the value of material stored at the site, and is 84 per cent of the total amount of Contract 1-S.

In his report for May, Kidd pointed out that construction of the 18-inch vitrified clay pipe sewer, north of the railroad and across the route of the proposed Industrial Highway is now under way.

Will Connect Lines

Some 70 cubic feet of earth was excavated from trenches and 487 linear feet of sewer has been laid and encased with 120 yards of concrete.

Forms were built, reinforcing steel placed and concrete pours made for the main sewage pumping station. Also under construction is the building of the brick masonry walls of the station.

This work, according to the report, is over half completed.

Other Work Done

Among other work reported was that forms were built, reinforcing steel placed, and sections of wall of the grit and comminuter chamber were poured during May.

Electric conduit and sleeves were placed as the work progressed.

Kidd pointed out that work on the heating systems of the digestion tanks, control chamber, and boiler house, and sludge pumping station continued, as did electrical work for these structures.

Work also proceeded on the laying of 30-inch reinforced concrete pipe between the gate chamber of the main pumping station and north levee with about a third being laid.

Agronomy Department Head Visits County

Dr. R. C. Wagner, the new head of the Agronomy Department at the University of Maryland, yesterday visited Cumberland and Allegany County in conjunction with his program to familiarize himself with the state.

Dr. Wagner moved into his present position when Albin Kuhn, previously head of the department, became vice president of the university.

Post Office Department Announces Directories

The Post Office Department has completed publication of new Standardized Postal Zone Directories for the nation's largest cities, providing a badly needed improvement in service, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in a letter to postmasters.

Thomas F. Conlon Sr., local postmaster, said that last fall the department began a program to provide standardized, easy-to-read zone directories and this has now been completed with provision of separate books for each of the 106 U. S. cities where postal zone numbers are used. The program involves usually cities of 150,000 or more population.

Postal zone numbers are used to designate a specific delivery section of a city. Mail showing a zone number can be dispatched much more quickly and easily in destination cities, particularly where less experienced help may be used.

Each of the new 106 directories is the same size, approximately six by nine inches. The 1956 edition contains a simple, legible map showing how the cities are divided into various postal zones.

In addition, the specific zone numbers of many of the most used addresses within each city, such as well-known hotels, office buildings and the like, are listed in each book.

Each city is to be furnished with the uniform set of 106 books, according to the needs of the community as seen by the postmaster. The book is free to all persons, firms and organizations who have a bona fide need for copies. Copies are obtainable only through local postmasters.

Snyder To Help Oppose Gas Co. Rate Increase

Engineer Meets With Finan, Getty

Harold Snyder, Keyser, W. Va., consulting engineer, will help the City of Cumberland and the Allegany County Commissioners in their opposition to a proposed rate increase for the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company.

The company's request comes up for a hearing before the PSC June 20 in Baltimore.

He met yesterday at City Hall with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and County Attorney Gorman E. Getty, who will argue the case against the rate increase at the hearing next week.

Snyder and the two attorneys went over exhibits and testimony from the West Virginia hearings in which Snyder took part.

11 Per Cent Hike

Finan pointed out yesterday that the increase sought by the gas company represents an 11 per cent overall boost. The two counties serviced by the gas firm in Maryland are Allegany and Garrett.

Two increases have been realized by the gas company in Maryland in the past several years, Finan said. On February 2, 1953, a $400,000 rate settlement was made which amounted to 22 per cent of Maryland annual revenues of the company.

On September 22, 1954, the Maryland Public Service Commission approved $366,000 of a $424,000 request and this amounted to 14 per cent of the annual Maryland revenues, Finan said.

The current request is for $295,000. Finan said that 1955 was a "test year" of the company, and the use of the 12-month period is designed to bring a changing operating and financial picture into sharp focus for the proper regulatory body.

Factors affecting the costs of rendering service to Maryland customers—the basis on which gas rates are fixed—have changed substantially in recent years, the company says.

On one hand, costs have gone up, and at the same time the company has substantially increased its sales and efficiency of operations, it argues. These latter two factors tend to keep costs down, the company says.

To make the best determination of proper rates under such conditions, the use of a 12-month "test period" has become well-established procedure in utility regulation.

Church Plans Bible School

Pleasant Grove Methodist Church Bible School will be held June 18 through June 22. Classes are to be from 6:30 until 8:30 each evening.

The theme for the Beginners department is "My Family and Friends." Mrs. Lemuel Yokem and Mrs. Donald Ware will be the teachers of the department, with Miss Sandra Bruner and Miss Margaret Connor helping with the handicraft.

"Our Bible" is the theme of the primary department, which will be taught by Darrell Simpson and Mrs. Edward Gnegy. Handicraft will be under the instruction of Miss Gwendolyn Robinette and Mrs. Irving Elliott. The junior department theme is "The Church around the World." Census Survey Is Expanded

An expansion in the Current Population Survey, begun last December to improve federal statistics on employment and unemployment, has been completed and the larger sample will be in effect when the U. S. Census Bureau collects facts from a panel of local residents in June, according to Supervisor Edgar I. Pryan of the Census Bureau's district office at Pittsburgh which participates in the survey.

The expanded sample consists of about 35,000 interviewed households located in 330 different areas throughout the country, including nearly all of the previous sample of 21,000 interviewed households in 230 areas.

The increase in size and dispersion of the sample improves the precision of national totals and also, and more importantly, the precision of the significant details obtained from the survey, such as distributions by age, occupation, hours worked, and length of time unemployed.

The supervisor pointed out that the Current Population Survey is authorized by law. This law provides that all information about individuals be kept in strict confidence and that only statistical totals be published Information obtained in the Current Population Survey cannot be used for taxation, investigation or regulation.

Current Population Survey information will be collected locally next week by Mrs. Olive E. Claar of Cumberland.

Derailment Cleared On W. Maryland

Dozen Cars Wreck At North Branch

Work crews of the Western Maryland Railway, from both the Cumberland and Hagerstown sections, made quick work of a 12-car freight train pileup near North Branch yesterday.

The wreck occurred about 3:30 a. m. when a broken journal on a closed hopper loaded with bauxite ore caused 12 cars to derail and pileup on the Hagerstown division.

The scene of the wreck is near the B&O connection adjacent to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works No. 7. Eleven of the cars were loaded. Ten carried iron ore and one bauxite.

Traffic was resumed on the line shortly past noon yesterday, and most of the wreck was cleared away. Work crews are to pick up a couple of remaining derailed cars and finish the job today.

W. E. Rayburn, trainmaster on the Elkins Division was the first official at the scene. He remained until J. M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins Division, who was in Elkins on business, arrived soon after being notified of the derailment.

I. B. Chambers, acting superintendent of the Hagerstown Division, arrived and then took charge of the cleanup, since the wreck was on his end of the line. The Hagerstown Division ends at the Virginia Avenue crossing here.

Two huge cranes, one a 100-ton model from Cumberland and the other a 250-ton model from Hagerstown, went to work unscrambling the twisted metal and spilled cargo. Officials said most of the expensive ore spilled in the wreck was salvaged.

The derailment tore out about 200 feet of track. The upset cars carried between 70 and 80 tons of ore each. Officials noted that the bauxite car was 87th from the locomotive in a 104-car train. Trainmen riding in the caboose were uninjured and the caboose was not derailed.

Western Maryland trains were routed over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Cherry Run and City Junction until the Western Maryland lines were cleared.

Five Cars Leave Rails At Hancock

HANCOCK, Md., June 14 (AP) — Five loaded coal cars of an eastbound train were derailed here tonight, blocking the Western Maryland Railway line linking Cumberland and Hagerstown.

A Western Maryland spokesman said three of the cars overturned after leaving the track, but no injuries were reported.

In Allegany County the value of all crops sold was $534,900 and included $147,378 for field crops, $62,115 for vegetables, $218,557 for fruits and nuts and $106,850 for horticultural specialties.

The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $890,921 and included $387,274 for dairy products, $242,248 for poultry and poultry products and $261,399 for livestock and livestock products. Value of forest products sold from the county's farms was $17,781.

City Rec Board Delays Action On Bond Money

Specific Proposals Will Be Sought

The Cumberland Recreation Board, meeting last night at City Hall, decided to make no further recommendations to the Mayor and City Council in connection with the expenditure of bond funds until the city officials as a whole indicate to the board specific proposals that they would entertain.

This decision was made in view of the rejection of Southview Addition as a recreation site by the Mayor and City Council on Monday.

Chief Judge George Henderson, chairman of the board, announced at the meeting that the board regrets the action of the City Council with reference to the Southview recreation area.

And since the Mayor and Council rejected the plan submitted, and since the Council as a whole has not indicated along what lines it thinks it wiser to take action, no further action will be taken by the board in reference to acquisition of other recreation areas.

Other Sites Considered

Among other sites being considered are an area in North End and another in Ridgedale on West Side. The West Side site was discussed last night but no definite action was taken, although acquisition of the property was discussed.

Yesterday Mayor Roy W. Eves sent a letter to Judge Henderson outlining his reasons for casting the deciding vote rejecting the board's recommendation for the purchase of Southview. (See page 14).

In his letter Mayor Eves pointed out that the final decision had been delayed because of a "great divergence of opinion among the Council and many other equally interested persons."

After the minutes of the last meeting were read the board acted on other matters.

Following the discussion of the Ridgedale site, Robert E. Pence, recreation director, pointed out that the department had to pay for labor in getting Constitution park opened for the current season. He told the board members that it was work that should have been done by the city.

The members decided to contact the city for reimbursements of the funds spent at the pool prior to its opening.

Many Have Resigned

Pence said a number of Recreation Department personnel have resigned to get better jobs and a problem has resulted due to the rate of pay of the department.

However, Pence pointed out that all playlots are under supervision at the present time but the fact that personnel are resigning is a problem for the board to "think about."

The Board decided that the Recreation Department take charge of the concession stand at the Pennsylvania Avenue playlot.

In another matter brought before the board by Pence, he said that a group of men interested in the facilities at Post Playground indicated they would have four trucks available on Saturday and plenty of topsoil to aid in filling sections of the playground for seeding purposes.

Pence was given authorization to acquire a payloader from the city to aid in the work of the 30 volunteer workers at the play site.

Defense Rests On Fourth Day

The five-day U. S. District Court embezzlement trial of Thomas Owen McGeady, 30-year-old former teller at the First National Bank, comes to a close at Allegany County Court House today when the all-male jury hears final arguments and receives instructions from U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins.

McGeady is now being tried on five of the 16 counts in the original indictment, Judge Watkins having dismissed 11 of the counts.

Still being considered are five counts of embezzling some $6,476.96 covered in five checks found on the bank's microfilm records.

Arguments by the contending attorneys will start at 10 a. m. and probably will continue until almost lunch time.

Five attorneys have participated in the trial but it was uncertain yesterday whether all would join in the argument. The government's case has been presented by Assistant U. S. District Attorneys John H. Somerville and Martin A. Ferris, while McGeady has been represented by William G. Walsh, William Walsh, both of this city, and Theodore C. Waters Jr. of Baltimore.

Will Instruct Jury

Then Judge Watkins will instruct the jury, and after lunch the 12 men will begin their deliberations.

McGeady's attorneys rested their case shortly before 2:30 p. m. yesterday after the last of six defense witnesses, the defendant's wife, testified.

The government offered no rebuttal witnesses and then Judge Watkins explained the plans to defer the final arguments and instructions until this morning, after which the fourth day of proceedings ended.

The defendant, who was on the stand more than an hour and a half Wednesday afternoon, continued to testify all morning yesterday, finally being excused at 12:35 p. m.

His mother, Mrs. John L. McGeady, 325 Williams Street, was called to the stand next. She testified that she paid $140 of the $152 dental bill her son incurred for several extractions and a partial plate he obtained last August 19.

After lunch yesterday Thomas L. Keech, 920 Maryland Avenue, vice president and treasurer of the Liberty Trust Company, was called to testify about a loan made to Mrs. Leona May Eyre on her house.

Earlier yesterday McGeady had acknowledged having loaned $90 to Mrs. Eyre, $40 on one occasion and $50 on the other, to make payments on her mortgage. She is a wiatress at the Cadillac Lounge. He said he never had been repaid.

Keech said that as of January 1, 1955, Mrs. Eyre owed $6,054.32 on the mortgage. She then was paid up to August 1, 1954. Her payments were $59.48 a month, Keech testified. There was no cross examination.

William C. Walsh then called T. Victor Fier, former vice president and trust officer of the First National Bank, to the stand. He was asked to recall from the days when he was a teller some eight years ago. The principal question was whether, if he ran an adding machine tape on his cashed checks before lunch, he would notice on his return whether any change had been made in the total amount of his list. Fier said he could not.

Judge Watkins asked whether Fier would have noticed if there was a change in his subtotal from about $2,100 to nearly $3,500. That is the amount of the change that would have resulted April 22, 1955, with the addition of the $1,374.35 check cashed that day on the account of W. E. White. Fier said he would not.

Bowling Activities

The last defense witness, Mrs. Mary R. McGeady, the defendant's wife, testified briefly about her own bowling activities. She said she had bowled in both the Club Ladies League on Monday nights and Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree Mixed Bowling League on Wednesday nights.

Mrs. McGeady said she made the payments on a department store bill. On cross examination by Somerville she could not recall whether the payments totaled $115 between January and August 1955. She also could not remember whether she had paid a $50 bill at a woman's store.

The defendant testified about his expenditures and winnings while on the stand yesterday morning. He said that he won about $50 on his bowling during the first half of 1955 and received one month's Christmas bonus at the bank at the end of 1954 or early in 1955.

Rented Car

Girl Scout Patrol For National Roundup

Area Senior Girl Scouts To Attend National Meet

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Cumberland Council Girl Scouts of America will be represented this month at the annual National Girl Scout Roundup, to be held for 12 days beginning June 29 at Highland State Recreation Area, 30 miles northwest of Pontiac, Mich.

For several months past, Alice Bartlett and Mary Jane Howell, two Senior Scouts of the local council, have spent all their spare time getting ready for the opportunity.

Under the guidance of Miss Olive Hurlburt, scout executive, and a Roundup committee composed of Mrs. Lucile Roeder, chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Mrs. Aden Everstine and Mrs. Loren Morey, these two Girl Scouts have made a careful study of the local area and a complete review of all their Girl Scout skills, particularly camping.

As members of a Western Maryland patrol made up of six girls from Hagerstown and themselves, the two local scouts will be required to pitch four tents, erect a kitchen shelter, table and other equipment in an area 45 feet square, and live there in primitive style for 12 days.

5,000 Will Attend

The National Roundup will attract some 5,000 girls from all parts of the continent, all organized in individual patrols and all operating in the same fashion.

At the Roundup they will have opportunities to exchange ideas and compare notes with other girls from all parts of the nation. That's why the local representatives have spent so much time visiting local industries, institutions and generally becoming familiar with their native city. They have also visited neighboring communities and historical spots and have accumulated a wealth of information which they will exchange with other girls at the Roundup.

Miss Bartlett and Miss Howell were chosen in open competition among all eligible senior scouts in the local council. They did so well that their choice was almost unanimous, although a couple of other girls have been named as alternates and have taken advantage of the chance to study the area and improve their camping skills.

Local Girl Leader

Members of the Hagerstown Council include Annette Evans, Carlotta Miller, Sandra Welch, Susan Morton, Barbara Sprecher, and Joyce Fuss. The chairman of the Roundup committee there is Mrs. Marlin Thurmond.

The Hagerstown girls have visited here several weekends, and the local girls have visited Hagerstown several times. The patrol has also camped as a unit at Cacapon State Park near Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and other places. The patrol has unanimously elected Miss Howell leader.

There will be a special meeting of the Women's Guild of Holy Cross Episcopal Church at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Sunday School room to discuss the picnic planned for Sunday at Union Grove.

City Police Will Get New 'Paddy Wagon'

Sealed bids for a new patrol wagon for use by the Police Department are being sought by the City of Cumberland.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday the bids will be received by the Mayor and Council at the office of the City Clerk in City Hall until 10 a. m. June 25.

The patrol wagon will replace a 1948 model Chevrolet now in use by the department. An order was passed at the council meeting on Monday authorizing Commissioner Keegan to advertise for bids.

Governor Heads Dystrophy Drive In Maryland

James E. Robertson, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., has received a letter from a national representative informing him that Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will serve as honorary chairman of the 1956 campaign.

The letter was received from N. Chester Phillips, who pointed out in the letter that the governor will "be very happy to serve as honorary chairman for the state of Maryland for the 1956 Muscular Dystrophy Campaign and that he will render whatever assistance he can toward the success of the program."

A date for the annual drive has not been set but it usually is held in the fall. Previously all donations given by residents of the two counties were sent directly to Baltimore.

However this year, according to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, a member of the board, donations will be mailed through the Post Office to fire headquarters here or other designated sub-stations, tabulated and turned over to Robertson and the board, headed by State Senator Charles M. See.

During past years the campaign has been backed by the local firemen and volunteer firemen from throughout the two counties, and each year they have made a good showing.

Donations received in the drive are used in research on muscular dystrophy, a disease which affects the muscles. Residents are reminded that any cases or suspected cases of the disease should be referred to Robertson or Central Station here and an investigation will get under way.

McMullen Takes Oath As Road Commissioner

John J. McMullen, president of the Times and Alleganian Company, publisher of the Cumberland newspapers, yesterday received his oath of office from Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, as a new member of the State Roads Commission.

The commission, signed by Governor McKeldin and Secretary of State Blanchard Randall, was dated June 8. It was delivered this week to Boden's office. McMullen will serve at the pleasure of Governor McKeldin.

McMullen plans to go to Baltimore today for the formal opening of a new road in that vicinity.

Guthrie Paroled

The State Parole Board, in announcing that 75 men and women were paroled during May, yesterday said Leroy Guthrie had won a parole from a two-year sentence imposed last October in Garrett County for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Sewage Plant Project Ahead Of Schedule

Construction Now 84% Completed

Construction work on the Cumberland Sewage Treatment plant is slightly more than a month ahead of schedule, according to a progress report submitted to Mayor Roy W. Eves by Edward Kidd, project engineer.

This is based on the value of the work completed and equipment installed, plus the value of material stored at the site, and is 84 per cent of the total amount of Contract 1-S.

In his report for May, Kidd pointed out that construction of the 18-inch vitrified clay pipe sewer, north of the railroad and across the route of the proposed Industrial Highway is now under way.

Will Connect Lines

It will connect the force line from the Evitts Creek sewage pumping station with sewers already constructed.

Some 70 cubic feet of earth was excavated from trenches and 487 linear feet of sewer has been laid and encased with 120 yards of concrete.

Forms were built, reinforcing steel placed and concrete pours made for the main sewage pumping station. Also under construction is the building of the brick masonry walls of the station.

This work, according to the report, is over half completed.

Other Work Done

Among other work reported was that forms were built, reinforcing steel placed, and sections of wall of the grit and comminuter chamber were poured during May.

Electric conduit and sleeves were placed as the work progressed.

Kidd pointed out that work on the heating systems of the digestion tanks, control chamber, and boiler house, and sludge pumping station continued, as did electrical work for these structures.

Work also proceeded on the laying of 30-inch reinforced concrete pipe between the gate chamber of the main pumping station and north levee with about a third being laid.

Agronomy Department Head Visits County

Dr. R. C. Wagner, the new head of the Agronomy Department at the University of Maryland, yesterday visited Cumberland and Allegany County in conjunction with his program to familiarize himself with the state.

Dr. Wagner moved into his present position when Albin Kuhn, previously head of the department, became vice president of the university.

Post Office Department Announces Directories

The Post Office Department has completed publication of new Standardized Postal Zone Directories for the nation's largest cities, providing a badly needed improvement in service, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in a letter to postmasters.

Thomas F. Conlon Sr., local postmaster, said that last fall the department began a program to provide standardized, easy-to-read zone directories and this has now been completed with provision of separate books for each of the 106 U. S. cities where postal zone numbers are used. The program involves usually cities of 150,000 or more population.

Postal zone numbers are used to designate a specific delivery section of a city. Mail showing a zone number can be dispatched much more quickly and easily in destination cities, particularly where less experienced help may be used.

Each of the new 106 directories is the same size, approximately six by nine inches. The 1956 edition contains a simple, legible map showing how the cities are divided into various postal zones.

In addition, the specific zone numbers of many of the most used addresses within each city, such as well-known hotels, office buildings and the like, are listed in each book.

Each city is to be furnished with the uniform set of 106 books, according to the needs of the community as seen by the postmaster. The book is free to all persons, firms and organizations who have a bona fide need for copies. Copies are obtainable only through local postmasters.

Snyder To Help Oppose Gas Co. Rate Increase

Engineer Meets With Finan, Getty

Harold Snyder, Keyser, W. Va., consulting engineer, will help the City of Cumberland and the Allegany County Commissioners in their opposition to a proposed rate increase for the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company.

The company's request comes up for a hearing before the PSC June 20 in Baltimore.

Snyder recently represented 11 West Virginia communities in opposing a rate increase for the gas company in that state.

He met yesterday at City Hall with City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and County Attorney Gorman E. Getty, who will argue the case against the rate increase at the hearing next week.

Snyder and the two attorneys went over exhibits and testimony from the West Virginia hearings in which Snyder took part.

11 Per Cent Hike

Finan pointed out yesterday that the increase sought by the gas company represents an 11 per cent overall boost. The two counties serviced by the gas firm in Maryland are Allegany and Garrett.

Two increases have been realized by the gas company in Maryland in the past several years, Finan said. On February 2, 1953, a $400,000 rate settlement was made which amounted to 22 per cent of Maryland annual revenues of the company.

On September 22, 1954, the Maryland Public Service Commission approved $366,000 of a $424,000 request and this amounted to 14 per cent of the annual Maryland revenues, Finan said.

The current request is for $295,000. Finan said that 1955 was a "test year" of the company, and the use of the 12-month period is designed to bring a changing operating and financial picture into sharp focus for the proper regulatory body.

Factors affecting the costs of rendering service to Maryland customers—the basis on which gas rates are fixed—have changed substantially in recent years, the company says.

On one hand, costs have gone up, and at the same time the company has substantially increased its sales and efficiency of operations, it argues. These latter two factors tend to keep costs down, the company says.

To make the best determination of proper rates under such conditions, the use of a 12-month "test period" has become well-established procedure in utility regulation.

Church Plans Bible School

Pleasant Grove Methodist Church Bible School will be held June 18 through June 22. Classes are to be from 6:30 until 8:30 each evening.

The theme for the Beginners department is "My Family and Friends." Mrs. Lemuel Yokem and Mrs. Donald Ware will be the teachers of the department, with Miss Sandra Bruner and Miss Margaret Connor helping with the handicraft.

"Our Bible" is the theme of the primary department, which will be taught by Darrell Simpson and Mrs. Edward Gnegy. Handicraft will be under the instruction of Miss Gwendolyn Robinette and Mrs. Irving Elliott. The junior department theme is "The Church around the World." Teachers will be Ira Robinette and Mrs. Darrel Simpson.

Mrs. William O. Shipley is to be the superintendent of the school, with Mrs. Irvin Elliott assistant. Mrs. William Wilson will be in charge of the music.

Census Survey Is Expanded

An expansion in the Current Population Survey, begun last December to improve federal statistics on employment and unemployment, has been completed and the larger sample will be in effect when the U. S. Census Bureau collects facts from a panel of local residents in June, according to Supervisor Edgar I. Pryan of the Census Bureau's district office at Pittsburgh which participates in the survey.

The expanded sample consists of about 35,000 interviewed households located in 330 different areas throughout the country, including nearly all of the previous sample of 21,000 interviewed households in 230 areas.

The increase in size and dispersion of the sample improves the precision of national totals and also, and more importantly, the precision of the significant details obtained from the survey, such as distributions by age, occupation, hours worked, and length of time unemployed.

The supervisor pointed out that the Current Population Survey is authorized by law. This law provides that all information about individuals be kept in strict confidence and that only statistical totals be published. Information obtained in the Current Population Survey cannot be used for taxation, investigation or regulation.

Current Population Survey information will be collected locally next week by Mrs. Olive E. Claar of Cumberland.

Derailment Cleared On W. Maryland

Dozen Cars Wreck At North Branch

Work crews of the Western Maryland Railway, from both the Cumberland and Hagerstown sections, made quick work of a 12-car freight train pileup near North Branch yesterday.

The wreck occurred about 3:30 a. m. when a broken journal on a closed hopper loaded with bauxite ore caused 12 cars to derail and pileup on the Hagerstown division.

The scene of the wreck is near the B&O connection adjacent to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works No. 7. Eleven of the cars were loaded. Ten carried iron ore and one bauxite.

Traffic was resumed on the line shortly past noon yesterday, and most of the wreck was cleared away. Work crews are to pick up a couple of remaining derailed cars and finish the job today.

W. E. Rayburn, trainmaster on the Elkins Division was the first official at the scene. He remained until J. M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins Division, who was in Elkins on business, arrived soon after being notified of the derailment.

I. B. Chambers, acting superintendent of the Hagerstown Division, arrived and then took charge of the cleanup, since the wreck was on his end of the line. The Hagerstown Division ends at the Virginia Avenue crossing here.

Two huge cranes, one a 100-ton model from Cumberland and the other a 250-ton model from Hagerstown, went to work unscrambling the twisted metal and spilled cargo. Officials said most of the expensive ore spilled in the wreck was salvaged.

The derailment tore out about 200 feet of track. The upset cars carried between 70 and 80 tons of ore each. Officials noted that the bauxite car was 87th from the locomotive in a 104-car train. Trainmen riding in the caboose were uninjured and the caboose was not derailed.

Western Maryland trains were routed over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Cherry Run and City Junction until the Western Maryland lines were cleared.

Five Cars Leave Rails At Hancock

HANCOCK, Md., June 14 (AP) — Five loaded coal cars of an eastbound train were derailed here tonight, blocking the Western Maryland Railway line linking Cumberland and Hagerstown.

A Western Maryland spokesman said three of the cars overturned after leaving the track, but no injuries were reported.

He added traffic was being rerouted onto Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks while crews cleared the Western Maryland tracks.

City Rec Board Delays Action On Bond Money

Specific Proposals Will Be Sought

The Cumberland Recreation Board, meeting last night at City Hall, decided to make no further recommendations to the Mayor and City Council in connection with the expenditure of bond funds until the city officials as a whole indicate to the board specific proposals that they would entertain.

This decision was made in view of the rejection of Southview Addition as a recreation site by the Mayor and City Council on Monday.

Chief Judge George Henderson, chairman of the board, announced at the meeting that the board regrets the action of the City Council with reference to the Southview recreation area.

And since the Mayor and Council rejected the plan submitted, and since the Council as a whole has not indicated along what lines it thinks it wiser to take action, no further action will be taken by the board in reference to acquisition of other recreation areas.

Other Sites Considered

Among other sites being considered are an area in North End and another in Ridgedale on West Side. The West Side site was discussed last night but no definite action was taken, although acquisition of the property was discussed.

Yesterday Mayor Roy W. Eves sent a letter to Judge Henderson outlining his reasons for casting the deciding vote rejecting the board's recommendation for the purchase of Southview. (See page 14).

In his letter Mayor Eves pointed out that the final decision had been delayed because of a "great divergence of opinion among the Council and many other equally interested persons."

After the minutes of the last meeting were read the board acted on other matters.

Following the discussion of the Ridgedale site, Robert E. Pence, recreation director, pointed out that the department had to pay for labor in getting Constitution park opened for the current season. He told the board members that it was work that should have been done by the city.

The members decided to contact the city for reimbursements of the funds spent at the pool prior to its opening.

Many Have Resigned

Pence said a number of Recreation Department personnel have resigned to get better jobs and a problem has resulted due to the rate of pay of the department.

However, Pence pointed out that all playlots are under supervision at the present time but the fact that personnel are resigning is a problem for the board to "think about."

The Board decided that the Recreation Department take charge of the concession stand at the Pennsylvania Avenue playlot.

In another matter brought before the board by Pence, he said that a group of men interested in the facilities at Post Playground indicated they would have four trucks available on Saturday and plenty of topsoil to aid in filling sections of the playground for seeding purposes.

Pence was given authorization to acquire a payloader from the city to aid in the work of the 30 volunteer workers at the play site.
